MR. JUSTICE BYRNE OF THE N. B. SUPREME COURT PASSES AWAY SUDDENLY AT BATHURST

Bathurst, N. B., Jan. 22—Seized with a sudden heart attack, Mr. Justice J. P. Byrne, of the King's bench division of the supreme court of New Brunswick, died suddenly at 10 o'clock tonight at his home here. Had he lived until Wednesday, he would have reached his sixty-fifth birthday.

Although he had been in different health for some months, following an emergency operation, Mr. Justice Byrne had apparently improved during the last few weeks, and had been up and about his home this evening. He complained of a slight pain and retired, only to collapse and die within a few minutes.

Arrangements for the funeral were not completed tonight, but a funeral mass will be held at Bathurst, Wednesday morning, at a time to be decided tomorrow morning, and burial will be made in the family lot at Norton, a few miles from his birthplace, Sussex.

Surviving Relatives

Surviving are his wife, formerly Emma J. Burns, daughter of the late Senator Kennedy F. Burns, Bathurst; three sisters, Mrs. Dufferin W. Harper and Miss Sara Byrne, Saint John and Mother Mary Byrne, of Sacred Heart Convent, Halifax; and three brothers, Dr. Thomas I. Byrne, Dartmouth, N. S., and Felix and George Byrne, both of Sussex.

Mr. Justice Byrne was one of the most popular members of the Canadian bench. His personality, fair-mindedness and wide knowledge of the law made him thousands of friends during his many years of service. He was especially well known in Saint John, where he and his wife had spent the winter months for several years. He was one of Gloucester County's best known residents having warm friends among all classes and creeds.

Bor at Sussex on Jan. 24, 1869, James Paul Byrne obtained his early education at the Sussex public schools. He graduated from St. Joseph's University, St. Joseph, and then took law studies at Dalhousie University, Halifax, later going to the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, from which he graduated in law on June 26, 1890. He was admitted to the New Brunswick bar in 1892, and practised his profession at Sussex before moving to Bathurst to reside in 1900. While studying law, he was associated with the late Hon. A. S. White, Sussex, who was appointed later to New Brunswick's supreme court.

In County Council

Taking up residence at Bathurst, Mr. Byrne later became a member of the Gloucester County Council, doing valuable work as a member of that body when he revised and compiled the by-laws, rules and regulations governing the municipality.

In 1908, Mr. Byrne contested the constituency of Gloucester, as an Independent Liberal, in the provincial election, being associated on a ticket with Dr. Alphonse Sormany, now mayor of Shediac, and Seraphin R. Leger, Caraquet, at present an Opposition member of the New Brunswick Legislature. This ticket was elected in 1908, but in 1912, when Mr. Byrne contested that provincial election, he was defeated. In 1917, he was elected again, with Mr. Leger, John G. Robichaud, Shippegan, and Hon. Dr. P. J. Veniot, M. P., as associates.

In the cabinet of the then premier, Hon. W. E. Foster, now Senator Foster, Mr. Byrne became attorney-general, taking the oath of office in April, 1917. He was re-elected in the provincial election of 1920, continuing as attorney-general. Hhen Hon. Dr. Veniot became premier, in 1923, Mr. Byrne was attorney-general in his cabinet, holding the office until 1924, when on Oct. 4, he resigned from the House and was appointed to the New Brunswick supreme court.

To The Bench

The vacancy on the bench was caused by the resignation of the then chief justice of the Kings' bench division, the late Hon. H. A. McKeown, who was appointed at that time as chairman of the Board of Railway Commissioners for Canada. Chief Justice J. H. Barry, Fredericton, succeeded Hon. Mr. McKeown as chief justice of the division, Mr. Justice Byrne being appointed to fill the vacancy caused by Chief Justice Barry's elevation.

As attorney-general for New Brunswic kfrom April, 1917, to October, 1924, he held that office perhaps longer than any other attorney-general since the term of the late Hon. A. G. Blair, who was premier and attorney-general from 1883 to 1893.

At a member of the bench, Mr. Justice Byrne was one of the most popular judges, being most painstaking and courteous with members of the bar.

Another Witness On Stand Today In Lottery Case

Adjournment until January 26th at 11 a.m. was made in the case of Frank H .Griffiths, South Devon, charged with mailing lottery tickets, as the preliminary hearing progressed this morning in police court.

Griffiths is charged by the R.C.M.P. acting on information supplied by the Canadian postal authorities.

One Witness

One witness, Robert Jewett, C.P.R. engineer from Chipman, was on the stand this morning. Jewett had been subpoenaed to appear last Saturday but found absent, he was arrested by warrant and brought here.

Jewett told of correspondence with Griffiths. He was shown a letter written by himself to the accused. He testified about receiving a number of letters concerning lottery tickets. One of these letters was admitted as evidence. The witness thought Griffith had possessed various tickets but was not certain of their nature. He admitted that Griffith had presented him wih four tickets, three of which he had sold to others. He said, under protection of the court, that he had mailed several lottery tickets to the undertaking's headquarters in Quebec.

Leo Cain, counsel for the informant, was allowed to cross-examine his own witness. P. J. Hughes, K.C. is representing Griffiths.

A Serious Charge

The magistrate pointed out the seriousness of the charge which can not a convicted man a two year sentence plus a fine of $2000 and adjourned the case until Friday to give it consideration. Griffiths is allowed his freedom meanwhile because of the nature of the alleged offence.

Witness Reprimanded

His Honor gave Robert Jewett, arrested witness, a severe lecture for his failure to appear voluntarily when subpoenaed last Saturday. A sentence of two months in jail is possible for conviction for this offence, the Magistrate pointed out. Jewett was allowed to go after a warning.

N. S. SENATOR PASSED AWAW ON MONDAY

Hon. John Stanfield, a Prominent Manufacturer, of Truro, Passes After Short Illness.

Truro, N. S., Jan. 22—Senator John Stanfield, who with a younger brother took over their father's little mill and developed it into the huge woollen industry bearing their name, died at his home here tonight after a day's illness.

Suddenly stricken at his office this morning, Hon. Mr. Stanfield was carried unconscious to his home, where he died before 10 o'clock tonight. A clot on the brain, induced by high blood pressure, was given as the cause of death.

Following a custom of many years, the 66-year-old vice-president walked a mile to the plant, despite a temperature of 25 degrees below zero. Shortly after he entered his office employees found him slumped in a chair. He never regained consciousness.

Hon. John Stanfield made a name for himself as a manufacturer, politician, soldier and citizen. He was outstanding in many spheres, but it was his first entry into the political life of the nation that probably brought him quickly into the limelight.

While still in his thirties he put on the armour of his party and in one of the most spirited political fights in a province where spirited political fights are the order, he waged battle against one of the ablest politicians of Colchester county, a battle closely watched by the entire Dominion. He emerged a victor and won the honor of breaking "the solid eighteen," the Liberal block that had been sent to Ottawa from the Province of Nova Scotia three years previously.

While a Member of the Commons, Mr. Stanfield, though not given to speech-making, took a prominent part and was for several sessions chief Conservative whip. In 1920 he was appointed a Member of the Senate and sat in that Chamber until the time of his death.

Born in Charlottetown

Born at Charlottetown, P.E.I., on May 18, 1868, he came to Truro early in life with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Edward Stanfield. He was educated in the Truro schools and began his business career here.
