

A GLANCE AT THE LOCAL NEWS OF FREDERICTON 27 YEARS AGO

(From the Daily Herald, July 14, 1907)

Good Weeks' Work

The St. John River Log Driving Company rafted 4309 joints of logs last week, 2284 at the Douglas boom and 2025 at the Mitchell boom. The number of men employed was 330, 170 at Douglass and 160 at Lincoln.

On Fishing Trip.

Dr. A. B. Atherton and his nephew, H. B. Atherton and Dr. Finnie of Baltimore are enjoying a few days' trout fishing on the Tracadie river, Gloucester county.

Enjoyable Outing

Senator Shiras of Washington, D.C., who has been on the Tobique and Nepisiquit rivers in company with Adam Moore of Scotch Lake, returned home on Friday. He had a very successful trip and succeeded in securing over 200 excellent pictures of big game animals in their native wilds, including a number of flashlight views.

The Tax List

The list of taxpayers published in the Herald on Friday evening brought a thoughtful look to the face of more than one citizen. The most surprised people perhaps were the business men along Queen street who had chosen to take the judgment of the assessors rather than go through the formality of handing in a sworn statement. Already there is a movement on foot in certain quarters to have the law changed but nobody appears anxious to go back to the old system. The salaried men are naturally very much pleased with the new law and think a great error would be committed if it were changed. They claim that they have all along paid more than their share of taxation and it is only right that others should now take a turn at the laboring oar.

Fire at Hartland

A despatch from Hartland says that that town today had the worst fire in its history. It broke out at 4.45 a.m., in the basement of the Tracey block and swept that side of Main St. Firemen from Woodstock were called on to assist in fighting the flames. The fire started in Watson's furniture store and burned to the bridge, consuming 14 buildings. At noon today the fire was reported to be under control. Among the heaviest sufferers were the Hartland Drug Co, Drug store; Thomas Letson, harness maker; M. L. Hayward, law office; Keith & Plumber, general store; J.T.G. Carr, Hagerman & Baird, J. D. Shaw, W. S. Henderson, Horace Nixon, Misses Nettie Dickson. A two storey building owned by W. T. Berry and occupied by Hartland Chat, a newspaper, the post office, Massey-Harris Co., and the residence of George McLaughlin were also destroyed. The loss is estimated at $150,000 and is partly covered by insurance.

Personal Mention

Mrs. T. G. Loggie and her son, Master Purves Loggie leave this evening for Halifax to spend several weeks. Mrs. Stewart L. Morrison and her children and Mrs. George R. Perkins leave tomorrow for St. Andrews to spend some weeks.

Ernest Vandine who travels for a large Toronto house arrived here on Saturday to spend his vacation with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Dow Vandine.

Mrs. Fowlie, wife of Lieut. Fowlie of the R.C.R., Halifax, and daughter are visiting relatives here.

C. J. Mersereau, principal of Horton Academy, Wolfville, N. S., was in the city last week enroute to his former home at Doaktown.

Dr. W. J. Irvine spent Sunday in Saint John and returned home this morning.

Harold Hatheway, son of F. W. Hatheway, Kingsclear, who has been filling a position in a bank at Saskatoon for some months, returned home today and will remain.

FIFTY-THREE YEARS AGO

(From Farmer Files, July 10, 1881)

T. G. Loggie is in Picton, N.S., having gone from Camp Sussex to join Mrs. Loggie who is visiting friends there.

Messrs. H. V. B. Bridges, A. D. MacPherson and Fred Cowperthwaite, A.B.'s '81, are attending the Normal School preparatory to competing for Grammar School licences at the approaching examinations.

Collector Street and his staff are moving into their new quarters in the Post Office building.

Missionary Meeting

Rev. Dr. Kingdon, and the Bishop of Albany are to address a missionary meeting at the City Hall on Friday evening in connection with the Church of England Synod meeting.

Horse Drowned

Robert Macklin of St. Mary's lost a fine percheron horse last Saturday, the animal having run off the lower ferry from fright and was drowned in the river. The horse and sloven wagon were valued at $250.

Consecration
There will be a large gathering of churchmen here next Sunday to witness the consecration of Rev. Dr. Kingdon, Bishop Coadjutor of Fredericton. A number of distinguished prelates are to be present including Bishop Binney of Halifax and the Bishop of Albany.

Co-Partnership

Thomas W. Smith, merchant tailor of this city, has taken his son, H. Le Baron Smith into co-partnership with him.

Fishing Party

The most extensive fishing party of the season left here by the western train yesterday. It consisted of Albert W. Edgecombe, Dr. Torrence, J. H. Hawthorne, J. F. McMurray and W. B. Coulthard. At St. Stephen these gentlemen will be joined by Charles L. Richards and B. Golding. The party propose engaging a yacht at St. Stephen and visiting St. Andrews, Campobello, Grand Manan and Eastport.

Ministers Visit

Sir Hector Langevin, minister of public works, arrived in Fredericton on Wednesday and was the guest of the Lieutenant Governor at Government House. Sir Hector accompanied by his son and his secretary was in Woodstock on Tuesday, having arrived there by special train from Edmundston at noon. He was presented with an address of welcome while here and replied thanking the deputation of leading citizens for the compliment paid him and giving them the benefit of his opinion on the political state of the Dominion. From Fredericton he proceeded to Saint John.

Wedding Bells

The matrimonial business is on the increase. Yesterday morning 2 couples belonging to the city were married and left by the morning train for the west. At 8 a.m., Prof. Revet, professor of French at the U.N.B., was married to Miss Dorn, second daughter of J. R. Howie. Rev. A. J. J. Mowatt performed the ceremony. Miss Lizzie Howie and E. A. Smith of the crown land department acted as seconds. The professor and his bride have gone to New York to spend their honeymoon.

SEES THE CIRCUS IN ROUND NUMBERS

(New York Sun)

It was a swell circus," said Bob. "The fat woman weighed 407 pounds, there were eight midgets, one only 36 inches high, and the giant was almost 8 feet tall."

"Were the clowns funny?" asked his mother.

"Oh, yes, I counted fifty-seven, but the program said there were sixty-five of them. There were six big elephants and three baby elephants, eight lions in a cage and seven tigers. Instead of shooting one man out of the cannon, this year they shot two."

"I suppose they had a band to lead the grand parade."

"Sure," said Bob. "Thirty-two men in the band, and do you know, mom, they have over 500 employees in the circus."

Mamma, who has no head for figures, gasped at the statistics.

"Yop," continued Bob. "I had a swell day—five ice cream cones, four hot dogs, two bottles of pop, two bags of peanuts and three bananas, and it all cost 80c."

Mamma sighed. She was confident of two things—first, that Bob would have a tummy ache, and, second, that he is surely following in his father's footsteps, for any twelve-year-old who sees a circus in round numbers can't help but turn into an accountant when the time comes.
