BLOWING BUBBLES

There are people who will accept the story that the world will have a billion bushel surplus of wheat.

This story is given through publicity channels in the hope that it will stop the increasing price of wheat lest the short sellers be squeezed.

Old Mother Nature stepped in to circumvent the crazy quota talkers, who think to govern the wheat crop by laws, by-laws and King Canute notions.

Just as there is a shortage of hay on account of the drought, so will there be an unfavourable wheat crop and a shortage as compared with other years.

How the newsgathering agencies give credence to the billion bushel surplus idea when the truth points to a below-average crop is more than the well-balanced deduction gives proof of.

As for placing any reliance or hope in a wheat conference, one has but to try and recall any instance of government interference doing any permanent good to any country.

STATES AND PROVINCES

The Sphere, Washington, comments on the growing authority of the central government in Canada and compares it with the similar trend in the United States. The Sphere is a conservative, accurate paper, but it minces no words in describing the new position of the American state governments, who less than half a century ago far overshadowed the federal government in power. Says the Sphere:

"The state governments are becoming political scoundrels and hangers-on. They are not only willing, but anxious, to trade in their rights for pap. Some of them have sunk so low that it is impossible to insult them. Their representatives in Washington are not thinking about the larger aspects of statesmanship, but concern themselves almost entirely with gorging at the public trough."

The economic system which the New Deal is setting up in the United States is making state governments anachronisms. It is hardly likely that in the new reallocation of jurisdiction, which can hardly be avoided in Canada, our provinces will be reduced to the status of mere hunger marchers mobbing the Dominion treasury. One reason is that sectional influences in Canada support provincial ambitions. Another is that the Huey Long type of politician, who rules and robs Mississippi both at Baton Rouge and Washington, is unknown in this country.

HALIFAX GARDENS

Haligonians nearly lost their pride and joy when, because of an unpaid bill of $123.64 for street betterments, the city collector threatened to place the internationally famous 17-acre Halifax Public Gardens on the auction block in order to recover the amount owing to the city coffers. To the city collector the $123.64 appearing on the books as unpaid was just another item. Accordingly he sent out to the superintendent of the gardens the usual form letter, which ended with the threat: "unless you make immediate arrangements to pay up the overdue installments, I shall be forced to recover the charge by offering the property for sale."

After members of the Gardens, Parks and Commons Committee of the City Council had finished laughing over the communication, the matter was solemnly referred to the city auditor who later reported that the bill should never have been sent. And thus the Gardens were saved for future generations of Haligonians.

OUR EXHIBITION

Up in Sherbrooke, Quebec, they always have a bang up fair. It is always attended by thousands. At this fair the local merchants rally around and promise special attractions to visitors. This does not hurt the fair it helps bring crowds into the city. They receive a smiling welcome from the business men. The Business Mens' Association put on economy price sales. The mornings when visitors do not usually attend the exhibition are devoted to having the visitors in the city visit the stores. There is no urge nor no insistence to visitors to buy—but they do buy. In the night's the stores along the principal streets are all lighted so that the visitors can see what a live bright "white way" the city possesses. One night in the week the stores open full swing.

Why not try something like that here to attract the crowd?

The Committee in charge of the Exhibition is doing its part to make the affair a success—let us all take a hand in helping the affair along.

BANDITS HOLD-UP C.N. TELEGRAPHS COLLECTOR

Montreal, Que., August 24—Two bandits armed with revolvers held up Armand Thibault, telegraph collector for the Canadian National Railways at Guy and Argyle streets this afternoon and made away with papers and about $300.

One of the bandits was dressed in blue while the other could not be described by Thibault. They both faced him, he told police and after having threatened him, ordered him to hand over his yellow satchel.

Thibault collects money from various branches of the Canadian National Telegraphs and was on his way to the home office when he was held up.

WILL WEAR TIGHTS AND DEFY THE LAW

Boston, Aug. 25—After twice being warned by police that he would be arrested if he continued to wear only tights while bathing on the private beach of his summer home in Scituate, Ralph D. Joslin, 36, well known Boston accountant, last night hurled a defy into the teeth of police officials and said that although he is no nudist or fadist, he will continue to wear his abbreviated garment and that he will take to the United States Supreme Court, if necessary, the battle for his rights.

JEWS AGREE ON WORLD CONGRESS

London, Aug. 24—Private agreement to convene a world Jewish congress organized on the lines of the League of Nations, in 1935, was reached today by delegates to the International Jewish Conference at Geneva, it was stated in a Reuters dispatch.

The congress, the dispatch said, is expected to meet at Geneva, with the assemblage consisting of elected representatives of the Jews of all countries plus a council and secretariat.

'HUMAN PACKAGE' REFUSED BY P.O.

San Jose, California, Aug. 24—How an ingenious woman overcame the lack of transportation during the San Francisco general strike was revealed here by Postmaster William H. McCarthy of San Francisco.

"She told me that she must reach a sick invalid in Los Angeles and wanted to be mailed by parcel post so a mail truck could pick her up and take her to the station", the postmaster said.

The prisoner was taken to the Gloucester County jail where he will be confined until the date of the execution. An extra guard from the R.C.M.P. will be placed on the quarters occupied by him at the jail. Though why this is necessary is not apparent.

'TOMMY' CHURCH GETS NOMINATION

Defeats Four Others On First Ballot as Conservative Candidate

Toronto, Aug. 25 — Thomas L. Church, K.C., former Conservative member in the House of Commons for Toronto Northwest, tonight received the Conservative nomination in Toronto East for the federal by-election Sept. 24.

Mr. Church was chosen on the first ballot with a two to one majority over four others who were W. A. Summerville, Z. Hilton, Alderman R. Day and Dr. H. Glendenning.

The by-election, one of five federal by-elections to be held on the same day in Ontario, was made necessary by the death of Hon. E. B. Ryckman, former minister of national revenue.

In the last Dominion elections Mr. Church ran as a Conservative in Toronto West Centre and was defeated by Samuel Factor, Liberal.

Mr. Church entered the House of Commons in 1921 as Conservative members for Toronto North, and after a redistribution of seats, was elected in Toronto Northwest, in 1925 and 1926. He was mayor of Toronto seven years and was a staunch believer during his House of Commons days in Empire trade, warning Parliament in 1924 that lower prices would result if Canada depended on United States for an export wheat market.

ASHLEY RUSHES DIVORCE SUIT

London, Aug. 25—Reports that Lord and Lady Ashley might stage a dramatic reconciliation now that Douglas Fairbanks, whom the peer named as co-respondent in his recent divorce action, has returned to the United States, were dashed today.

Attorneys for his lordship announced that the divorce suit would remain on file for earliest possible hearing at the next law term.

Los Angeles, Aug. 24—Joseph M. Schneck, peacemaker in reconciliation negotiations between Douglas Fairbanks and Mary Pickford, arrived here today by airplane, and was whisked to Schneck's house by automobile.

WHEN THE PAPER DOESN'T COME.

My father says the paper he reads ain't put up right, He finds a lot of fault, he does, perusin' it all night,

He says there ain't a single thing in it worthwhile to read.

And that it doesn't print the kind of stuff the people need.

He tosses it aside and says it's strictly on the bum—

But you ought to hear him holler when the paper doesn't come.

He reads about the weddin's and he snorts like all get out,

He reads the social doin's with a most derisive shout;

He says they make the paper for the women folks alone,

He'll read about the parties and he'll fume and fret and groan;

He says of information it doesn't have a crumb—

But you ought to hear him holler when the paper doesn't come.

Disillusion is rife. A denizen of the sea that lately rammed and damaged a fishing schooner was instantly catalogued as a whale.

And we will know that good times are back again when you can argue with the boss without any feeling of heroism.

We're all for purity in entertainment including good clean pictures and a good clean glass of beer.

Esther says that when she was in Muskoka she had to pass up an invitation to visit a nudist camp because she didn't have a thing to wear.

WHAT DID THE WOODPECKER DISCOVER?

The Woodpecker Discovered That Brick Was a Wonderful Thing For Cutting Down His Bill.

The charming little woodpecker is the emblem of RYAN'S CHERRY RED BRICK, and while the home of this noble bird is made of wood, yet you will notice that he has a very long bill, and one day as he was trying to put his bill through one of RYAN'S CHERRY RED BRICK it suddenly dawned upon him that brick would be a wonderful thing to cut down his bill. Here is a moral for the Architects and Contractors to propound to the trade of this Province—if you want to cut down your Fuel Bill—your Paint Bill—your Insurance Bill—and a dozen other Bills—then you must BUILD WITH BRICK!
