CANADA'S EXPORTS

With the exception of wheat and flour, square timber, aluminum, raw gold and fertilizers the December exports showed increases in practically every line of Canadian endeavor and in many finished products there were notable increases over December 1932. Alcoholic beverages at $3,244,000 almost doubled nearly all of the export, chiefly whisky, going to the United States. Fruits at $2,095,000 increased by $700,000 most of them going to the United Kingdom. Wheat at $11,300,000 was a drop of $3,205,000. Rubber, sugar and vegetables increased.

The export of cattle rose from $41,000 to $276,000. This was the result of heavy buying in the United Kingdom to which cattle valued at $235,000 went as compared with nil a year ago. Cheese increased from $432,000 to $688,000 the bulk of it going to Great Britain. Fish increased by $333,000 to $1,833,000, the buying by the United States being $762,000. Furs totalled $2,162,000 more than half of which was taken by the United Kingdom. Hides increased from $57,000 to $204,000 and unmanufactured leather from $78,000 to $159,000.

There was a very large increase in the export of meats which rose from $605,000 to $1,165,000. The purchases by Great Britain increased from $474,000 to $1,076,000, like November going over the million dollar mark.

The export of paper increased from $5,952,000 to $6,713,000, planks and boards from $685,000 to $1,740,000, the buying by Great Britain alone arising from $245,000 to $1,062,000, pulpwood from $171,000 to $234,000 and wood pulp from $1,365,000 to $1,995,000.

Automobiles sent abroad increased from $405,000 to $639,000, pigs and hogs from $86,000 to $409,000, while farm implements, hardware and cutlery, tubes and pipes and machinery all showed substantial increases.

In the non-ferrous metal group copper increased from $968,000 to $1,686,000, lead from $256,000 to $577,000, nickel from $473,000 to $1,786,000 and silver from $260,000 to $451,000.

Asbestos made a large increase from $353,000 to $715,000 and coal, petroleum, stone, acids, soda, electrical energy and films all also increased.

The recent caucus of government supporters in the Legislature held in this city is said to have favored a reduction in the number of students admitted to the Provincial Normal School each year from three hundred to two hundred. It is to be hoped that improved business conditions during the coming year will render such a step unnecessary. New Brunswick now has one of the best equipped Normal Schools in the Dominion and it has ample accommodation and staff for three hundred students. Even if all of that number cannot obtain schools after graduating they receive the benefit of an excellent training at low cost and are well equipped to engage in other work. This is a fact that should not be overlooked by the educational authorities.

Sherbrooke Record:—The aldermanic candidate in Toronto who declared that the City Council should go into a research huddle and see if they could not open up some new avenues of taxation, was found, in the manhole of a blind street when the votes were counted. Any discoverer of a new "avenue of taxation" will walk the highway that leads to political oblivion. But the man who can save the taxpayers a hundred millions will be President of the Savings Bank.

Joseph Devlin, a prominent Nationalist politician, and for many years a representative of West Belfast in the House of Commons, died yesterday at the age of 62 years. He was a staunch Home Ruler and after it was adopted he worked hard for a united Ireland. Although a bachelor, he was a good lover of children and entertained thousands in his constituency and at the seaside during the summer months. Recently five thousand children prayed in West Belfast for his recovery.

Madame Ernstein Schumann-Heink once said, "I will continue to sing until nobody will listen." Beloved singer that she has always been, Madame should remember Adelina Patti who never reached a point where nobody would listen.

If there ever was a tempest in a teapot it was that almost amusing flare-up between the ladies of a swell Philadelphia club and Actresses Le Gallien and Barrymore. Just a little matter of a misunderstanding and a broken engagement. We all have 'em.

In Texas they have just shot a crooner. This seems like needless brutality when it is so easy to eliminate these people by tuning out.

It's pretty tough on New York city to have to borrow the money to pay for snow removal.

So far as we have observed, all the new models of cars are also equipped with better adjectives than last year.

The actor proceeds in parts and the musician in pieces.

Even the gloomy clock-tinker may help others have a good time.

THROUGH OUR SIEVE

Always correct—the weather report when it says snow.

And we presume that Greta Garbo when asked if she was married, replied I thank not.

The weather man is doing his best to keep the unemployed at work.

That Boy at Wellesley College with fifteen hundred girls, must feel like the needle in the haystack.

One woman's pie is another woman's avoidupoison.

Margin is the other name for money you put up and lose.

A dominating personality is one that can end the interview without standing up or opening the door.

Even the worst of men believe in observing the law if it's the one about granting bail.

If all were on the government's payroll, how could anybody ever be convinced that the ins should be voted out?

It's no trick at all to keep women guessing. It would be more fun, though if they'd occasionally guessed wrong.

The man who never failed never tried. The man who never fell never climbed. And tomorrow is another day.

REPEAL DRINKS

Chicago, Jan. 19.—Repeal brought vivid coloring for glassware.

New style trends for the containers with which repeal beverages will grace banquet tables in the manufacturers' exhibit at the Merchandise Mart Furniture Show reveal regal blue, Burgundy and empire green will predominate.

One exhibitor who said the industry already has been greatly stimulated by post repeal demand for glassware asserted "80 per cent of our glass is colored."

A FIRE-FIGHTING DOG

Chicago, Jan. 16.—From now on firemen at the south Chicago station will have to put out their own burning cigar stubs, for their dog Bud, trained by them to do such work, died. Missing since December 20 the dog was found on a railroad right of way—poisoned.
