

A German Dictator To Have a Hearing in Absentia in New York

Adolf Hitler To Be Tried In Madison Square Garden, New York City, For the Alleged Crime of Mediaevalism—The Affair To Be Under the Auspices of American Jewish Congress.

NEW YORK, March 5—Adolf Hitler, German Chancellor will go "on trial in absentia" on March 7 in Madison Square Garden for the alleged crime of mediaevalism. The trial will be one-sided because no defense will be uttered.

"The case of civilization against Hitlerism," under the auspices of the American Jewish Congress in co-operation with the American Federation of Labor, it was announced, will take the form of a factual record of laws and acts of that regime as they affect all sections of the population.

Twenty leaders in various fields of activity will act as witnesses in behalf of their German colleagues against Hitlerism.

The case of labor, civil liberties, the Liberal professions, the art and sciences, sports and the status of women under the Hitler Government will be presented.

According to the sponsors of the trial, former Under-Secretary of State Raymond Moley will present the case of the liberals under Hitler; William Green, president of the A. F. L., will speak for trade unions; Chancellor Harry Woodburn Chase of New York University, for the academic world; Rabbi S. Wise for the Jewish race; Michael Williams, president of the Calvert Associates, for the Catholics of Germany.

Former Governor Alfred E. Smith, Mayor LaGuardia and Aldermanic President Bernard S. Deutsch are listed among the witnesses.

A NOTORIOUS BANDIT ESCAPES FROM JAIL

John Dillinger, Hold-up Man, Breaks Out of An Escape-proof Jail.

Crown Point, Indiana, March 3 — John Dillinger, notorious killer and bank robber awaiting trial for murder, walked out of the "escape-proof" Lake County Jail today with a negro prisoner—each armed with a machine gun.

Dillinger's escape from the prison, which is in charge of Sheriff Lillian Holley, apparently climaxed weeks of planning during which he whittled a dummy pistol out of wood in his cell.

Dillinger was reported seen in an automobile, and headed for Chicago, about 60 miles away.

Jail attaches said Dillinger seized a machine gun from a guard and threatened his way out of the jail.

He was awaiting trial for murder in the machine gunning of a policeman during a bank robbery two months ago while Dillinger and a band of outlaw fugitives from the Indiana state prison were terrorizing the mid-west with bank robberies and killings.

Immediately after Dillinger escaped the county jail was locked under orders from Mrs. Lillian Harvey, woman sheriff of Lake County, in charge of the jail who asserted, when he was arrested that he would not escape from there. Her husband was slain by gangsters before she succeeded him as sheriff.

Guards were posted around the

THE SEARCH FOR THE LINDBERGH KIDNAPPERS

Is Now Two Years Since the Baby of the Noted Flier Was Snatched From Its Crib.

New York, N. Y., March 4—Two years ago Thursday, sometime between 8:30 and 10 o'clock, the infant son of Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh was "snatched" from his nursery crib at Hopewell, New Jersey, and there is ample evidence that the trail of his murderers is as hot now as it was two days after his abduction.

Pursuit of the Lindbergh kidnapers, who murdered their tiny captive as they fled from Sourland Mountain, is now concentrated in the hands of the Federal Department of Justice. Rumors, many of them with reasonable foundation persist that the most important clues have never made public.

Drama Unfinished

The last act, remains to be written in the greatest, most tragic crime drama of the century. When that last act is written when the kidnapers are brought to book, the story will stand as a classic in the annals of criminal daring and criminal cunning.

For two years the abductors of Charles A. Lindbergh, jr., have eluded the most unflagging manhunt in the declaration that a solution is inevitable that a break might come at any time.

New clues of a sensational character, are in the hands of authorities, according to Larry Rue, who

SENATOR L. A. WILSON PASSES IN MONTREAL

A Well Known Liberal Senator and Philanthropist Passes To His Reward.

Montreal, March 4—Business head, legislator and noted philanthropist, Hon. Lawrence A. Wilson, of Montreal and Coteau du Lac, Que., is dead here today. Death came Saturday after a brief illness to the Senator for Rigaud, at the age of 70.

Amassing a large fortune during the 40 years he was a wholesale wine importer in Montreal, Senator Wilson spent the last years of his life "giving my money back to those who helped me earn it." Universities, municipalities, charitable organizations and countless individuals are indebted to Senator Wilson for help given in time of need. Many a prominent artist in the Province of Quebec today owes his measure of fame to Senator Wilson, who paved the way for many a penniless musician.

He represented the County of Veureuil-Soulanges as a Liberal in the House of Commons from 1925 to 1930. In that year he was elevated to the Senate. In both houses he gained the reputation of being a thinker rather than a speaker. On the few occasions he did speak, however, it was on what he himself referred to as his pet subject—evasion of tax payments by the wealthy.

He is survived by his widow, formerly Miss Hortense Perreault; one son, Lawrence W. Wilson, Montreal; two daughters, Gladys (Baroness van Eysenhardt) Montreal and Mrs. Marquerite Wilson Galvin, New York and Montreal.

Ten Vacancies

Ottawa, March 3—The death of Senator Wilson increased to ten the number of vacancies now in the Red Chamber. Of these two are from Nova Scotia, three from New Brunswick, three from Quebec, one from Ontario and one from Manitoba. Conservative senators are in a majority, with 49 seats to 37 Liberals.

THE LATEST IN ALIBIS

stein, stopped by a hand winds-byu Milwaukee, March 5—Nathan Gorenstein, stopped by a traffic officer, offered the following excuse:

"Sorry, officer, I didn't intend to jump the stop sign, but you see, I'm in a hurry to get home for supper. I've got my father's false teeth in my pocket and if he doesn't get them he'll starve."

has spent weeks on a private investigation and whose conclusions have been published in the New York Daily News.

New Developments

"As said before," he wrote yesterday "one of these involves a suicide as dramatic as that of Violet Sharpe. It involves the subpoenaing of the bank account of a highly respected and innocent citizen, the tapping of his telephone for months. It involves a car, possibly used by the kidnapers, discovered abandoned the day after the kidnapping. It brings handwriting experts definitely into the case."

"These clues point in one direction to a certain locality, to certain individuals. They are positive clues, and the answer eventually will be found around them."

SCHOOL BOYS GAVE THE TIP TO DETECTIVES

How Double Life of a Montreal Man Was Exposed

SAW GUN DROPPED

Had Just Left a Bank, Which Had Been Looted

Montreal, Quebec, March 5—Exactly how police officers exposed the alleged mysterious double life of Walker Gerald Nevin, widely known as an insurance broker of St. James Street, while claimed by the police to be a bank bandit responsible for at least four hold-ups in which loot totalling $50,000 was taken, was learned last night at police headquarters.

Nevin has been identified as a participant in the robbery of the Beaubien street east barnch of the Banque Canadienne Nationale on February 8. He is wanted on a charge of attempting to murder Arm and Renaud, a clerk there.

When the man believed to be Nevin was making his escape from the bank one of his overshoes slipped off his foot as he was crossing Christophe Colomb at eBaubein streets. As he stooped to put it on again a large revolver tumbled out of one of his pockets to the snow, and two school-boys who were passing, saw it fall.

The boys were naturally interested and followed him to the car in which he drove away. They had the presence of mind enough to note the number, and told their parents about it when they came home.

Their parents in turn notified the police who checked on the ownership of the car and found it to be registered in the name of Nevin, who by that time had disappeared.

U. N. B. Students Held Mock Trial On Saturday

The students of the University of New Brunswick held their annual "mock trial" on Saturday night a large number being present and the event interesting and culminating in much merriment for all present.

Wholesale bribery of principals, the "murder" of a chief witness by the attorney for the defence and the "lynching" of the lawyer by the entire court featured the trial. Its irony was quite apparent.

One case was tried, that of the Crown vs. David Gorman, who is charged with collecting falling stars, caught in the observatory. The prosecuting attorney was H. Campbell Creighton and Charles I. Stevenson was attorney for the defence.

The jury, empanelled following the usual procedure, was headed by Kenneth Nonnenman, and consisted of Isobel Hartley, Ruth Hanson, Elizabeth Jones, H. C. Creighton, David Gorman, Donald Jamer, Rex Beech, Thomas A. Fletcher, Charles Scotcher, Orton Perry and Andrew Likely.

The chief defence witness, Morris Manchester, infuriated the defence lawyer by failing to follow instructions and the lawyer "shot" his witness after additional "bribes" failed to have any effect and he was hanged by court officials on a "gallows" conveniently located in the court room. The trial then continued; a verdict of guilty was returned by the jury without leaving the court and the prisoner was sentenced by Justice Chester Campbell to "30 years' imprisonment, without ear muffs, in the ladies' reading room of the university".

Additional court officials were A. Harold Walker, clerk, and James Vorston, crier.

LONDON—The "hungar march" of 2000 men and women to protest against an unemployment bill in parliament degenerated today into minor manifestations against the government generally.

Manitoba Will Have a Balanced Budget This Year

The Amount Unappropriated Placed by the Provincial Treasurer at $28,051—A Plan For Efficient Economy Will Be Carried Out—Will Take On New Obligations.

WINNIPEG, March 5—Government teconomy, which proposes no increase in taxation and no new expenditure was outlined in Manitoba's budget brought down in the Legislature Friday night by Hon. E. A. McPherson, Provincial Treasurer.

Estimated revenues total $13,593,986. With expenditures reduced to $13,565,973, a balanced budget with a surplus of $28,051 is anticipated.

"In carrying out a plan of efficient economy in administration the provincial government will incur no new expenditures except those found absolutely essential for public welfare, and then only when there is no reasonable alternative," Mr. McPherson said.

"It will be realized new obligations cannot be assumed without new taxes. When the people are not willing to pay more taxes they should not encourage new demands upon the Government for increased expenditures," Mr. McPherson declared.

THE BANKING COMMITTEE TO MEET TUESDAY

R. C. M. P. Bill Before the House Today—The Party Leaders At the Toronto Centennial.

OTTAWA, March 4—With both House leaders absent from Ottawa this week, Parliament will open quietly. Both Prime Minister R. B. Bennett and Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, Opposition leader, will be in Toronto Monday and Tuesday to attend the 100th anniversary celebration of the founding of that city.

The first item of public business scheduled for attention when the House resumes tomorrow is Bill 22, an Act to Amend the Royal Canadian Mounted Police Act, introduced and given first reading last Thursday. This is to effect a reorganization of the force, and, as it involves very little additional expenditure of money, there is little likelihood of a prolonged debate.

The translation bill will be brought forward again tomorrow evening, certain members having requested that it be held back until that time to meet their convenience. It stands for second reading. The remaining time will be taken up with the estimates.

To Star Tuesday

The banking and commerce committee will get down to work Tuesday on the bill respecting banks and banking, upon which will be based the decennial revision of the bank charters. The Bank of Canada Act, which will set up a central bank, has not yet received second reading and will not be brought up again in the House until Thursday. An amendment to the second reading will be offered by some section of the opposition, probably the U.F.A. group, to make the bank a nationally-owned undertaking rather than a private enterprise as contemplated in the bill.

The Budget

The budget will probably be brought down late in the month, no earlier, it is understood, than last year when it appeared on March 21. It is expected that it will be preceded by an announcement respecting the continuation or otherwise of the 10 per cent

Complete revision of the Fruit Act in existence for 33 years will be provided in a bill to be introduced in the House this week. The changes will take care of requests endorsed by the fruit industry.

To protect the consumer, the responsibility for grades and the quality of fruit will be spread out from the time it is packed until retailed.

Any fruit represented as to quality grade or variety may be placed in detention and withdrawn from sale until properly identified or re-graded.

In packed fruit, the "face" or top row must be truly representative of the fruit in the rest of the package.

To protest the export market, rail-ways, vessels or other carriers will be prohibited from moving fruit intended for export without an inspection certificate attached to the bill of lading.
