TEN PEOPLE LOSE LIVES IN FIRES

Partha, Ont., Feb. 8—Charred ruins, in apple green, blonde, white and centred in the small clearing hewn from thick bush by Absalom Nolet, like shimmering, iridescent skin as were all that remained of his home today after a disastrous fire that claimed the lives of three persons.

The dead: Mrs. D. Plamondon, 58; lines, designed to draw the eyes of Mrs. A. LaFontaine, 30, daughter of every beholder, revealing curves of the feminine figure. Generally, they had trains and were cut fairly low in the back. An outstanding model named "Great Allure" was of white ottoman satin, decollete and studded with diamond clips.

FOR THE WOMEN

PARIS OPENINGS SHOW

GOWNS WITH OLD S. A.

Paris, France:—Sex appeal styles arrived in another day of the crowded 1934 fashions shows.

Buyers began to jam salons and Paris concentrated on spring style edicts, regardless of the fall of Cabanis or the fate of currencies.

Paris displayed evening gowns in apple green, blonde, white and centred in the small clearing hewn from thick bush by Absalom Nolet, like shimmering, iridescent skin as were all that remained of his home today after a disastrous fire that claimed the lives of three persons.

The dead: Mrs. D. Plamondon, 58; lines, designed to draw the eyes of Mrs. A. LaFontaine, 30, daughter of every beholder, revealing curves of the feminine figure. Generally, they had trains and were cut fairly low in the back.

An outstanding model named "Great Allure" was of white ottoman satin, decollete and studded with diamond clips.

LACE FUR

New weaves of lace were used in every variety of clothes — from bathing suits to dance frocks. New lace fur — a sheer springy, crinkled fabric, appearing crisp as meringue and looking soft as a cloud—was foremost novelty used in theatre and evening frocks.

One evening gown with an entire molded body made of white lace fur had butterfly shoulder bows and hem lounces of white tulle.

PAINTER TOE NAILS

—Dainty toes—with the nails usually painted in brilliant hues — peep through beach shoes here.

Twinkling dance steps are easy, when milady dons a pair of the new multi-strapped sandals covered with tiny colored mirrors.

Other evening slippers, nothing more than a series of glittering straps attached to the sole, are heel-less and open at the toe.

Persian brocade, satin, and crepes also are popular for evening slippers.

For afternoon wear a wide variety of shoes in white kid linens, piques and color combinations are on display. Many slippers exactly match the costume, with the Colonial heel favored.

The sensible all white, spiked sport shoe lessens the burden of trudging about a golf course. For those who form the gallery sports, sports shoes of modish color combination to match the ensemble are offered.

A new shoe of morocco leather is popular with red and blue colors predominating.

WALDORF SALAD

Pare, quarter and core three apples and cut into tiny cubes. Add one cup well-drained crushed pineapple, one-fourth cup walnuts broken in pieces and one half cup celery cut in thin, inch long slices. Mix with mayonnaise

APPLE AND DATE SALAD

—Mix together one and one half cups diced, peeled apples (squeezing over the fruit a few drops of lemon juice to keep it from discoloring), half a cup of chopped, pitted dates, one fourth cup chopped nut meats, one small cup finely chopped shredded cabbage and two minced canned pimientos. Moisten with mayonnaise dressing and serve in lettuce cups.

ETIQUETTE

Q. How should the wedding fee be presented?

A. The fee is placed in an envelope or purse and given to the clergyman by the best man or some friend of the bridegroom, just before or just after the ceremony whichever is the most convenient.

Q. Does a woman at a hotel call a cab for herself?

A. No. She usually summons a bell-boy and has him attend to it.
Q. May a gentleman offer personal service to a lady?

A. Yes, such as for example tying her shoe hooking or buttoning her dress or doing any other little act, which she cannot do herself.

LEFT IN THE LURCH

Chicago, Feb. 6—Mrs. Jonathan Hunt has literary ability and saw in the arrest of John Dillinger, notorious outlaw, a chance for fame. She fired a taxicab, drove to Crown Point to interview the prisoner, but was not allowed to see him. The result was that the taxi driver had her hailed to court for non-payment of his fee of $23. She told the court that she was without funds because of the failure of her plan.
