N. B. FISHERIES

The value of output of the New Brunswick fisheries increased to $3,061,152 in 1933 from $2,972,682 in 1932. These totals represent the value of the fish as marketed, whether sold for consumption fresh, or prepared in any of the various ways—canned, cured, etc.

The lobster and sardine fisheries are of chief importance, the former with a marketed value in 1933 of $830,363, and the latter with $622,531. The value of the lobsters shows a decrease from the preceding year of $211,482, or 20 per cent., but the cardine fishery shows an increase of $196,182, or 46 per cent. Nearly the whole of the value of the sardines is in the canned product—the pack in 1933 amounted to 180,597 cases, valued at $542,255 compared with 13,197 cases, valued at $395,531 in 1932. Other principal kinds of fish in 1933 were herring ($390,088), smelts ($315,485), salmon ($299,326), and cod ($209,997). All of those, excepting smelts, shows increases over 1932 in both catch and marketed value.

The total quantity of fish of all kinds caught and landed during the year was 1,299,952 cwt., with a value to the fishermen of $1,618,842, compared with a catch of 1,017,549 cwt., and a value to the fishermen of $1,505,203 in 1932.

The capital investment of the fisheries of the province in 1933 was $5,186,629, apportioned as follows: value of vessels, boats and gear used in the seas fisheries, $3,265,812; value of boats and gear used in the inland fisheries, $8,857; and amount of capital invested in fish canning and curing establishments, $1,911,960. The total capital shows a decrease from the preceding year of $551,293. The number of canning and curing establishments in operation was 145, compared with 157 in 1932.

The number of fishermen employed during the year was 12,289, and the number of persons in the establishments, 2,340, a total of 14,629, compared with a total of 15,957 in 1932.

A REAL ECLIPSE

The Toronto Mail and Empire in commenting on the result of the Ontario election says:

"A good thing emerged from the general elections in Ontario and Saskatchewan. One of the two major old-line parties triumphed in both instances. The irregular parties thought they polled a considerable number of votes, failed to elect many of their candidates. The new Ontario House will include only one C. C. F. representative and only one U. F. O. member. The C. C. F. party in Saskatchewan seems to have been practically wiped out. This result in the two provinces is wholesome from the viewpoint of those who believe in the British system of responsible government. The highest success of that form of government requires that the two electorate shall be divided into two opposing sides, who shall alternate in power according to the will of the people.

"So far as we have departed from that principle in this country, we have got ill results".

St. Croix Courier:—An apt sobriquet for the present Premier of New Brunswick has been coined by the Sackville Tribune, which labels him "Tilley the Toiler". The name is well deserved; the Premier has lone a great deal of benefit to the Province in the short time he has been in office.

Zaro Agha, the grand old man of Turkey, died yesterday at the age of 160 years. He held a minor government job and not a long ago applied for an increase of salary to enable him to get married.

Ralph McFadgen Honored on the Eve of His Marriage

Popular Bachelor MBanquetted by Gentlemen Friends and Presented With a Radio Set—To Wed Next Week.

Ralph McFadgen, investment broker, of this city, who is shortly to join the benedict ranks, was tendered a dinner at the D-Coy Inn last evening by about thirty of his friends in honor of the approaching event. It was a merry function and thoroughly enjoyed by all present. At the conclusion of an excellent repast, J. Bacon Dickson, on behalf of the company, presented the bridegroom-to-be with a radio set of the latest design. In a brief speech he tendered good wishes to Mr. McFadgen, and expressed the hope that his married life would be a long and happy one. Leo F. Cain also spoke briefly, heartily endorsing what had been said by the previous speaker and extending felicitations. Mr. McFadgen, although somewhat embarrassed by the hearty showing of friendship and good-will, returned his thanks in a few appropriate words.

Mr. McFadgen is to be married next week in Haverhill, Mass., to Miss Myrtle McLaggan, R.N., formerly of Parish of St. Mary's. After a brief wedding trip they will take up their residence in this city.
