A Wide Open Enquiry Into Banking and Finance is Likely

Appears To Be Scheduled for the Present Session of Federal Parliament—May Be Political In Its Motive—Liberals Determined It Cannot Be Side Stepped.

OTTAWA, March 8—Wide open inquiry into Canadian banking and finance is definitely scheduled for the present session of Parliament. It quite possibly may be political in its motive. Already the Conservatives are realigning that the Liberals, its sponsors, are stirring it up as a counter-manoeuve to the Government's appointment of the popular Stevens' committee on sweatshops and price spreads. Be that as it may, however, the fact remains that—from the determined preparations which the official Opposition party is making—it cannot be side-stepped.

Liberals who are high in the party councils were frank in characterizing the Power-Vallance motion, made at yesterday's sitting of the banking and commerce committee, as merely one possible means to an end which they are resolved to reach—that of fullest investigation. If they do not secure it by this particular resolution, they say, they will achieve it by other means.

IMPORTANT BILL BROUGHT DOWN IN HOUSE

A Commission To Be Named To Settle Disputes in Forest Operations.

Establishment of a commission of three members, to be known as the N. B. Forest Operations Commission, is provided for in a bill introduced in the New Brunswick Legislature by Hon. L. P. D. Tilley, premier and minister of lands and mines.

Entitled "An Act Respecting Forest Operations and Woodsmen", will apply only to disputes in relation to employment upon, or in connection with, any work, undertaking or operation connected with the lumbering industry.

Briefly, the powers of the proposed commission will be to establish minimum wage scales to apply to all operations carried on in the lumbering industry, and to deal with any dispute between employer and employee referred to it, relating to wages being less than the minimum established, and relating to board, store charges and proper living conditions in lumbering camps.

STREAMLINED SHELLS PERFECTED BY BRITISH ARMY

London, England, March 8—The latest fashion in long-distance naval shells is the streamlined projectile. Experiments by the British naval experts have developed a streamlined shell which largely lessens the air resistance, brought about by the vacuum created by the shell's flat base.

Improvements also have been effected which render the new shells capable of penetrating the thickest armor of any existing warship, even at oblique angles of impact, with their bursting charge and fuse intact.

THE MARKETING BILL MEETS WITH OPPOSITION

Opposition members in the Legislature's committee of the whole last evening labelled the proposed New Brunswick marketing board as a duplication of machinery which already exists and which could be directed to the purposes for which the proposed board would be appointed.

Government supporters rallied in defence of the measure, which they declared would create a board to assist the various industries in finding markets and to act in an advisory capacity. There was no such establishment as that in New Brunswick now, they affirmed; the need was great and the expenditure would not be heavy.

Premier L. P. D. Tilley disclosed that it was the intention that members of the proposed board would not receive all-year salaries. So voluminous was the discussion the consideration of the bill precipitated during the late evening session, that at 11 p.m. the committee reported progress and asked leave to sit again after a few sections had been passed.

Two Hour Discussion on Dental Bill by the Corporations Comm.

The Corporation committee of the New Brunswick Legislature held a two hour session this morning, considering one bill, that in which an amendment is asked to the New Brunswick Dental Act of 1929 so that assistant dentists may become registered dentists. The long discussion this morning indicated that it will have a thorough discussion when it reaches committee of the whole house.

The committee this morning proposed an amendment to its own bill. The second dental bill, that proposed by the Dental Society itself, has been stood over. Hon. G. H. I. Cockburn, chairman of the committee, presided.

The best family connections are of only relative importance.

SUN ADDICTS DEALT WITH BY DR. WARWICK

Extreme Exposure May Prove Very Dangerous, Says N.B. Medical Man.

SUN ADDICTS have etaoi etaoi nnn Dr. William Warwick, Public Health Officer presented an interesting address before the U.N.B. Scientific Society yesterday dealing essentially with evidence and accepted opinion as to the preventable conditions resulting from too much, or not enough sunlight.

Excess of sunlight is known to cause two types of disturbance, the first, physical lassitude apparently due to the heat and the second, nervous irritability due to the light radiations particularly. In the present day there is a great tendency to go to extremes in the adoption of procedures which when used in moderation and with due discretion, have a very considerable power for good. The ill effects from such injudicious exposure to sunlight, while in many cases not of serious consequence are in others quite alarming. It should not be forgotten that while man is, fortunately, capable of adjusting himself to quite marked changes in his environment, those adjustments must come about gradually.

While deficiency of sunlight is responsible for only one clearly defined clinical entity, rickets, it may well be that the growth and development of children and adults suffers disadvantages from insufficient sunshine, or skyshine in other ways as yet unrecognized.

Knowledge of the bactericidal action of sunlight has done much to change our conceptions respecting the dangers of some at least of the disease producing bacteria outside the human body. The important problem facing the sanitary engineer particularly in respect to buildings in large cities, in how to provide sufficient light, direct or diffused, so that reasonable sanitation may be maintained.

Dr. Warwick linked up diet, ultra violet light and good health which in a measure can be controlled.

THE ABERDEENS VISITED HERE IN FALL OF 1894

Made Their Abode At the Fisher Home, in Waterloo Row

REMAINED 2 DAYS
The Vice-Regal Visitors Took Part In General Functions

The death yesterday of Lord Aberdeen, a former Governor-General of Canada recalls to old residents a visit he and Lady Aberdeen made to this city in the autumn of 1894. They were extended a most cordial welcome in which both the city and provincial government authorities took part. Their Excellencies remained here for two days and Government House having been abolished they were quartered in the Judge Fisher homestead in Waterloo Row, which had been rented for their use. On the first day of their stay a great outdoor meeting was held at which His Excellency and ex-Governor W. D. Hoard of Wisconsin, then editor of Hoards Dairyman, and a noted authority on agriculture, were the principal speakers. A civic reception and luncheon, were also held in honor of the visitors. The guard of honor for His Excellency was furnished by the 71st Regiment. After leaving Fredericton, their Excellencies made a tour of the Maritime provinces.

Met An Old Timer

While here their Excellencies had numerous callers at their temporary home in Waterloo Row. Among the number was the late Alexander Gay of Kingsclear, father of the late Robert Gay, a former member of the Black Watch Highlanders, who had known His Excellency when he was a boy in Scotland. It is needless to say that Mr. Gay was recognized and very cordially received. Mr. Gay was a very tall man and wore a plug hat on the occasion of his visit.

Judgment In Electric Rates Case Here Today

Judgment for the total amount claimed, $2,685.53, with costs, was awarded to the plaintiff today in an interesting electric rates case tried recently before Mr. Justice Richards on admitted facts at a sitting of the Court of King's Bench for York County.

It was the case of the Maritime Electric Company, Ltd., vs. General Dairies, Ltd., and its predecessors, Fredericton Dairies, Ltd.

Facts as related by counsel are that the Maritime Electric had been supplying both with electric power. For more than three years up to March, 1932, they rendered bills monthly for one tenth only of the electricity actually used. This error was caused by the fact that to get the correct meter reading it was necessary to multiply the dial reading by 10. The error was not discovered until March, 1932, at which time it was pointed out to the consumers in question, who, however, refused to pay the extra account. They claimed the bills as rendered had been paid in good faith and that they had acted upon them according. The Maritime Electric Company, therefore brought the action against the General Dairies for $1,931.82, and against the Fredericton Dairies for $753.51.

J. J. F. Winslow, K. C., was counsel for the plaintiff and P. J. Hughes, K. C. for the defendants.

160-year-old Turk Wants More Pay So He Can Marry

Is Employed as Doorkeeper by the Government and Wants To Wed In Proper Fashion—Gets $21 a Month and Asked for An Increase to $42.

ISTANBUL, Turkey, March 8—Zaro Agha, incredibly aged Turk, asked the Government today to double his salary as doorman so he could court in proper fashion an attractive forty-year-old woman.

Zaro, 160 years old now, gets $21 a month and wants $42. He has outlived a succession of wives over a period of 146 years. The exact number he does not remember.

Though he is boyishly enthusiastic over his latest romance, it apparently is but another rose-colored incident in a long line of them.

The aged Turk, believed to be the oldest man in the world, was a visitor to the United States in 1930, the guest of the American Anti-Alcoholic Society on the representation that he never had taken a drink and that abstinence from alcohol was the reason for his long, seemingly endless life.

MAY EXTEND MORATORIUM ON MORTGAGES

Quebec, March 8—The bill sponsored by Hon. Adelard Godbout, Minister of Agriculture, to extend for one year the moratorium on mortgages, was approved today by the public bills committee of the Legislature. Alphonse Decary, K.C., and Thomas Vien, K.C., who represented a number of loaning companies asked that some means be taken to prevent mortgagees from collecting revenue during the operation of the law, while not meeting obligations to creditors. It was suggested that the law be amended so as to allow the creditor to obtain an order from the court sequestrating the revenues. Mr. Decary was asked to submit an amendment to this effect, which would be introduced in the Code of Civil Procedure, but the committee refused to pass it in the moratorium measure.

FORMER GOV. GEN. PASSES

Edinburgh, March 7—The Marquess of Aberdeen and Temair, former governor general of Canada, died today at his residence the House of Glomar at Tarland, Aberdeenshire. He was 87 years of age.

He is succeeded by his son, the Earl of Haddo.

Lord Aberdeen was active in many fields during his long and useful life. His marriage with the former Isabel Marjori-Banks, who survives, was also held up as a remarkable example of domestic felicity. She was an active partner in all his endeavors.

Before going to Canada Lord Aberdeen had been Lord High Commissioner to the General Assembly of the Church of Scotland, and Lord Lieutenant of Ireland.

HAVANA:—The cabinet considered drastic precautionary measures against strikes and threats of widespread disorders.

LEADERS WERE IN JOVIAL MOOD AT TORONTO

Premier Bennett Says Opposition Leader Has Learned That There Is A Deficit.

Toronto, March 7—It was a light-hearted Prime Minister who toured Toronto yesterday with Right Hon. Mackenzie King, leader of the Opposition, a tally of some of his quips and jobs revealed today.

Premier R. B. Bennett remarked that these were parlous times. "We have a deficit at Ottawa, and Mr. King had found it out," he said.

"This has been a great day for Toronto, in fact for all of us, Mr. King has been reminded that he is the grandson of his grandfather no less than 500 times."

Arriving at the curlers' banquet, the bachelor Premier said, "When we go home after losing, our wives ask us: 'Where is the jewelry?' I know this, because Mr. Kink told me."

For curlers who failed to win prizes during the competition, Mr. Bennett suggested that they apply to Mayor Stewart for centenary badges. Mr. King observed, "if he were this way at Ottawa there would be no differences between us. If it were like this in Parliament there would be no politics."

ROOSEVELT MAY AGAIN PAY A VISIT TO N. B.

Saint John, N. B. March 8—The possibility that President Roosevelt of the United States will again cruise to New Brunswick next summer was seen yesterday when it became known that James Roosevelt, the president's son, this week inspected the schooner Mingo, now being overhauled at a boat yard in Salem, Mass.

James Roosevelt, according to word received in Saint John, will make such a cruise with his family and friends even if his father is unable to go.

The schooner is in the yard of Albert Dion who overhauled the Ambergjack II on which the president sailed to his summer home in Campobello Island last summer. At that time the cruise of President Roosevelt created an international stir of interest.
