COLD FRIDAY

The exceedingly cold weather during the latter part of December and the early part of January, has been the means of making cold Friday a topic of conversation, particularly among old residents. Comparisons have been made but do not mean much as cold Friday occurred seventy three years ago, which means that few people alive today, were living in 1861 and were naturally very young at the time and differ somewhat today in their versions of the cold snap. It is fair to assume, however, that the newspapers of the day had the correct dope, and here is a paragraph taken from the Sackville Borderer of February, 1862:

"This day, Friday, twelve months ago was said to be the coldest day experienced in America for twenty years. Many were frozen or suffered much from the intensity of the cold. The mercury here stood at 26 below zero, at daybreak, and fell to 28 below at dusk. On the marsh the cold was 30, being considerably lower than it fell on the evening of Monday, 2nd, January, 1860. The severity of the cold was felt the more because of the mildness of the weather on the preceding day, Thursday there was a general thaw, accompanied with occasional showers of rain; but as night wore on a change became perceptible, and Friday morning was so intensely cold that few pedestrians escaped being frost bitten".

The late J. E. B. McCready, an old time journalist who edited newspapers at Saint John and Charlottetown, wrote as follows in a Charlottetown paper shortly before his death:

"The 8th day of February, 1861, was the coldest day the writer ever experienced in 90 years past. That day was passed in Penobsquis, New Brunswick, a little more than half way between Saint John and Moncton on the railway.

"The night previous there had been a rain storm which ended about eight o'clock. The moderate wind from the southwest suddenly shifted to the northeast and blew with increasing velocity. In the morning it became a gale which blew all day at about 70 miles an hour and the mercury recorded 28 degrees below zero."

During the cold snap of this year the thermometer dropped at several points in the province to 30 degrees below zero but the cold was not intensified by a seventy mile gale as was the case on February 8th., 1861. It would seem therefore that the record made seventy three years ago still stands.

Speaking of the railroad routine correspondence such as Finnegan's "off agin, gone agin," a London paper prints an item that belongs in the same category. The railway supervisor of a Western line received the following note from one of his foremen: "I am sending in the accident report on Casey's foot when he struck it with the spike maul. Now, under 'remarks,' do you want mine or do you want Casey's?"

The pernicky Louisville Courier-Journal says: "Will the gentleman who drove on unconscious of the fact that he had struck anything after a head on collision in which a car was overturned please move over and make room for the fellow who clouted his grandmother over the head in self-defense?"

Chicago's claim of 51,000 gain in population in a year is hard to reconcile with the other reports she puts out that gangsters are being driven from the city.

Nobody wished the manufacturers of red ink a Happy New Year.

THROUGH OUR SIEVE

A pessimist seldom knows he is one.

If the bicycle comes back, legs are going to be good for something.

When a man is "ripened by experience" he, too often, loses ambition.

Severity of face is accentuated by a square derby. Try a snap-brim soft hat.

The real "court of public opinion" is in the little town; and its decrees spare nothing.

Never mind. The Pullman window you fail to get open probably shouldn't be—if you'd ask the other passengers. Do you?

A man seldom discovers that he has been "spiritually and mentally mis-mated," until a younger and prettier woman reminds him of it.

For many of us, however, money still is as hard to find as the head of a pin in a laundered shirt.

Achieving success in New York isn't so much. Making the folks back home admit that you have is the real test.

Some men step out of their responsibilities as carelessly as they step out of their house-slippers—and just leave them around for a woman to pick up after them.

Weather is said to repeat itself every 23 years. So we know what to expect of November in 1956.

George T. Pinder Passes Away

pert angler and a real outdoor man he had no difficulty in interesting his guests in salmon and trout fishing on the Pokiok and Saint John Rivers. He discovered a pool near the mouth of the Nackawick River, where salmon rested on their way to the spawning grounds, and was in a fair way to develop it into an angling resort. Last season one of his clients remained at his Lodge for a month and had the time of his life fishing salmon at the pool which Mr. Pinder discovered and was endeavoring to put upon the map. Mr. Pinder was a keen sportsman, and was one of the most skillful anglers in the province. He numbered among his closest friends the present Mr. Justice Richards, a companion of his boyhood days and accompanied him on several fishing trips to the far famed Restigouche the Miramichi and Cain's River. A genial soul, with a wealth of native humor a real sport, big hearted, a first class story teller and an ideal companion, Mr. Pinder was the life of a fishing or hunting party. He was the leading resident of the village where he lived, and hundreds of people in that section of the country have lost a staunch friend by his death, and to them and many others his passing will be a distinct personal loss. Men of the splendid type of George Pinder are all too scarce, and his death while still in the prime of life is a distinct loss to the province.

Mr. Pinder was a member of the Woodstock branch of the New Brunswick Fish and Game Protective Association and took an active interest in the work. He was also a member of the Masonic order being connected with Woodstock Lodge and Luxor Temple of the Mystic Shrine.

The deceased was 61 years of age, and is survived by his wife, formerly Miss Frances Gilman, of Pokiok; a son, Edison, associated with him in business; a daughter, Mary, a student at Fredericton High School; two grand children and four sisters, Mrs. H. H. McNally, of Maple Wood, N. J., Mrs. D. B. Lemont and Miss Eva Pinder, Fredericton and Mrs. Harry Canble of Chilliwick, British Columbia. Miss Gertrude Pinder of the Motor Vehicle Branch of the Public Works Department is a cousin. The late George F. Pinder for many year connected with the C.P.R. at St. Stephen, was an uncle.

The funeral will take place at Pinder on Sunday afternoon at two o'clock under Masonic auspices. Rev. Mr. Hickman will conduct the service, and interment will be made in St. Luke's Cemetery.
