

A GLANCE AT THE LOCAL NEWS OF FREDERICTON 27 YEARS AGO

(FROM THE DAILY HERALD FILES
MARCH 21, 1907).

To Speak Tonight
Rev. George M. Campbell will address a meeting in the interests of the Canadian Bible Society at the Main Street Baptist Church Marysville at 7 o'clock this evening.

Bills Passed
In the Legislature on Tuesday the Bill respecting the issue of debentures by the city of Fredericton, in connection with the water system and the bill to amend the City of Fredericton civil debt court was agreed to.

Visited the P.N.R.
Hon. F. J. Sweeney, Hon. C. W. Robinson, A. B. Copp, and C. M. Leger, M.P.'s for Westmorland visited the Normal School this morning and met the normal students from their noble county. After distributing a generous supply of chocolates among the students, a pleasant hour was spent in social conversation. The bachelor surveyor-general made himself very agreeable to the young lady students monopolizing their attention to the exclusion of his colleagues.

A New Foreman
E. S. White, who has been appointed mechanical foreman of the I.C.R. at Gibson went on duty Tuesday morning. He was accompanied here by N. L. Rand I.C.R. master mechanic who will instruct him in his duties. Mr.

White is a native of this city but has been absent for about 30 years. His father was a soldier in a British regiment stationed here and his mother came to Fredericton from England with the family of the late Bishop Hedley.

Trains Tied Up.
The big storm of yesterday was very severe long the Fredericton branch of the I.C.R. and was responsible for the most serious interruption to traffic of the season. There was no train out of Fredericton yesterday afternoon and the freight in the morning was delayed at Weaver's Siding by an accident. The express from Loggieville did not reach here until six o'clock last evening. A special with double header and snow plough left here at seven o'clock this morning and reached Chatham at two o'clock. The track is reported clear today right through to Loggieville.

Personal Mention
Col. and Mrs. Loggie are today moving into their new residence in Church street.
Fred M. Tweedie, C.E. of Chatham is among the guests at the Queen.
Charles E. Oak, lumberman of Bangor is stopping at the Queen.
Gordon Boyne of the Provincial Hospital Staff is a guest at the Barker House.
John T. Rundle, president and manager of the Miramichi Lumber Co. is among the guests at the Barker.

Assessment Bill
J. Howe Dickson, represented the fixed income men of the city at a meeting of the Municipalities Committee of the House this morning when the Fredericton Assessment Bill was under consideration. Others in attendance were City Clerk McCready, T. B. Kidner, J. B. Gunter, Archie Jewett, Dr. E. W. Henry, Rev. Father Carney, R. B. Wallace, Rev. A. A. Rideout, Rev. J. H. MacDonald, Ex-ald, F. H. Colter Rev. Canon Cowie, George H. Inch, and R. H. Boone. Mr. Dickson appeared in opposition to Section 28 of the Bill which proposes to tax income at the rate of four to one as compared with the real estate. He asked for a level rate tax on income with such exemptions as the committee might think proper. He referred to the old assessment law of 1874 which is still in force. Under that law property was taxed at 20 per cent of its value and income at its full value. He declared it a fallacy to say that income should be taxed five times as much as real or personal property. He alluded to a case carried to the supreme court a few years ago by an income tax payer. The court declined to grant relief because the assessors had acted under legislative authority and only the legislature could grant relief. He was now before the legislature to ask for the removal of barbarism. Mr. Dickson read from a speech of Hon. A. A. McKeown who had declared the Fredericton assessment law to be a relic of medievalism. He also quoted from a speech by Hon. H. R. Emmerson to show that the promoters of the bill had just cause for complaint. Mr. Dickson stated that a man who had once been principal assessor of Fredericton had declared that his plan was to

ANGLICANS GET THE BLAME FOR BLOCKING JUDGE

Washington, March 19—Charges that the Anglican Church had been instrumental in keeping Judge J. F. Rutherford, leader of Jehovah's Witnesses, religious organization, off the air in Canada, featured today's hearing before the House Radio Committee on the McFadden bill to provide for free speech over the air.

A. R. Goux, representing Rutherford's organization, made the charges. He also said that the Federal Radio Commission had intimated to radio stations in this country that radio lectures in this country that radio lectures by Rutherford were undesirable.

Questioning by committee members brought out the fact, however, that the radio commission had neither written nor done anything which could be construed as a warning against broadcasting the disputed talks.

TAKE TIME OUT TO RELAX

Toronto, March 20—Take time out to relax says Clemence Dane, noted British authoress, who is a portrait painter, actress, playwright and novelist.

Miss Dane, whose career has meant much hard work, shows no signs of worry, strain or fatigue. Her explanation: "One must take a few minutes off no wand then just to sit quietly and think. You might call them periods of mental incubation."

Pioneers found themselves on the frontier and they had to make a living or starve. So they all went to work and many of them got rich—having no other particular aim.

squeeze them until they squealed. Mr. Dickson denounced the present assessment law in the strongest terms and declared that the word "Hog" was plainly written through it in large letters. It was a most iniquitous system and should be done away with. (The Legislature decided in favor of the fixed income men and since that time income and property here have been assessed at their full value.)
