

A Tired, Worn Out Woman Can't Make a Happy Home

There is no happiness in the home when the mother is sick and worried by the never ending household duties. She gets run down and becomes nervous and irritable, has shortness of breath, faint and dizzy, can't sleep, and gets up in the morning feeling as tired as she went to bed, and is downhearted and discouraged.

Milburn's H. & N. Pills will soon convince women it is not necessary to suffer, as they build up the nervous system and bring back the former health and vigor.

LIBERAL AMENDMENT TO THE ADDRESS WAS BOWLED OUT BY A MAJORITY OF THIRTY-FOUR

[Ottawa, Feb. 13—The Bennett government won its first major victory of the session today when the House voted down, 110 to 76, a Liberal want-of-confidence motion moved in amendment to the address. Enlisting the support of two Progressives, A. M. Carmichael, Kindersley, and Donald Kennedy, Peace River, the administration rolled up a majority of 34 against the Liberals and the bulk of the third group.

As soon as the Conservatives voted down one anti-government motion, they ran into another. Before the main motion, the passing of the address, was reached, James S. Woodsworth, Dominion leader of the C. C. F., moved to place the House on record as saying the government had "not taken such steps as are necessary to deal adequately with unemployment, to reduce the burden imposed by the public debt and to put the agricultural industry on a basis that will ensure to the farmer a decent standard of living." This threw open the whole debate which may stretch along for several days.

Ministers Heard.

Crowded galleries witnessed the first major test of parliamentary strength this session after a long day of debate dominated by front benchers from both sides of the House. The address debate, which had been languishing for 10 days snapped back to action with Hon. R. J. Manion, minister of railways and canals, and Hon. H. H. Stevens, Minister of trade and commerce, repelling attacks upon the ministry hurled by three former Liberal cabinet members, Hon. Ernest Lapointe, Hon. Ian MacKenzie and Hon. J. L. Ralston.

Temper snapped several times during the day and points of order flew thick and fast, especially when Prime Minister R. B. Bennett and Mr. Ralston clashed on the history of Canadian Railway building. But they were passing storms.

Conservatives voted to a man against the want-of-confidence motion which would have defeated the government and forced an election. Liberals were just as solid in support and were joined by the following Independents and members of the ginger group: Neil (Comox-Alberni); Spencer (Battle River); Gardiner (Acadia); MacPhail (South-East Grey); Woodsworth (Winnipeg North - Centre); Heaps (Winnipeg North); MacInnes (Vancouver-South); Garland (Bow River); Lucas (Camrose); Mitchell (Hamilton East) and Luchkovich (Vegreville).

Press for Election

To the end of the debate, Liberals continued their pleas for a general election but were met with Dr. Manion's suggestion of co-operation in this time of national stress. Canada was returning to normalcy and "let us as Canadians stand shoulder to shoulder in an effort to put this country back on its proper track."

Mr. Ralston, the Liberal financial critic, replied that the railway minister "was sending out another wail and appeal for union government. As sure as my friends opposite (the government) ask for co-operation, as sure

WORK ON LOYALIST BUILDING PROGRESSES

Contractors and men working on the new Loyalist Building have been up against odds for the past three months. The weather has never been so severe and no building in the city has previously been erected in the depth of winter in the face of such difficulties. Last week only two full working days were possible. The men have worked steadily this week and up until today when masons were forced to discontinue in the zero weather. Mr. McPherson, contractor in charge, states that one more day will be sufficient to finish the outside work except the front. Electricians are forging ahead and so also are the carpenters and work along these lines is well advanced. A temporary heating plant will be put into operation in a few days.

as they want help, it is the time they are in pretty sore straits."

Greeted With Cheers

Loud cheers from all parts of the Chamber greeted the announcement by Mr. Speaker Black today that Major Milton Fowler Gregg, V.C., M.C., and bar, of Moncton, N. B. had been appointed Sergeant-at-Arms of the House of Commons. The announcement was made in the form of a message from His Excellency the Governor-General.

Later today Hon. Ian MacKenzie (Liberal, Vancouver Centre), commended the government on its choice. "It is one of the finest appointments made by this government in the past four years," he said.

Major Gregg will take up his new duties shortly.

Obnoxious to Man

From the standpoint of man, fungi are obnoxious. Common afflictions such as athlete's foot and the several types of ringworm are due to fungi. Cleanliness and ultra-violet light treatments are the only antidotes. Thrush, another disease caused by fungi, attacks mucous membranes especially around the mouth. Still another, "Blastomycosis," may be confused with venereal disease and, although not common, is terribly virulent. And finally, the poisons produced by fungi are hard to detect. Certain of these are destroyed by The lecture was illustrated by slides.

CARNERA SAYS BAER NOT FAST

Washington, D. C., Feb. 14—"Oh, ho", says Primo Carnera, no "getting gay" is going to rob him of the world's heavyweight boxing title.

Representative Britten of Illinois, the big Italian's host recently, says, furthermore, that "oh ho" tumbles out of Carnera's mouth before each of his sentences.

"Primo", Britten said, "you will be champion for a long time if you don't get gay".

"Oh ho", Primo came back, "I never get gay".

Britten then pointed out that Max Baer seemed to be a fast stepper in his dance acts.

"Oh, ho", Carnera replied, "he's fast on his feet with the girls, but not so fast in the ring".

Britten was once amateur welter-weight boxing champion.

THE EARS HAVE IT

True to his Italian temperament, Joseph Biofore, who is at present in the York County jail awaiting trial for alleged assault on C. N. McCarthy, recently resented some remarks of one of his fellow prisoners and promptly took a bite out of his ear, figuratively speaking. Sheriff Roy Smith said today that Biofore was placed in a separate cell for a few days as a result. The fellow prisoner now somewhat less talkative—it is reported he was the teasing the young Italian—is nursing his bitten ear.

Perhaps it is better not to abolish the poor houses just yet. What man may not think they are a good thing to hold in reserve?

SENSE OF JUSTICE STRONG IN CATS

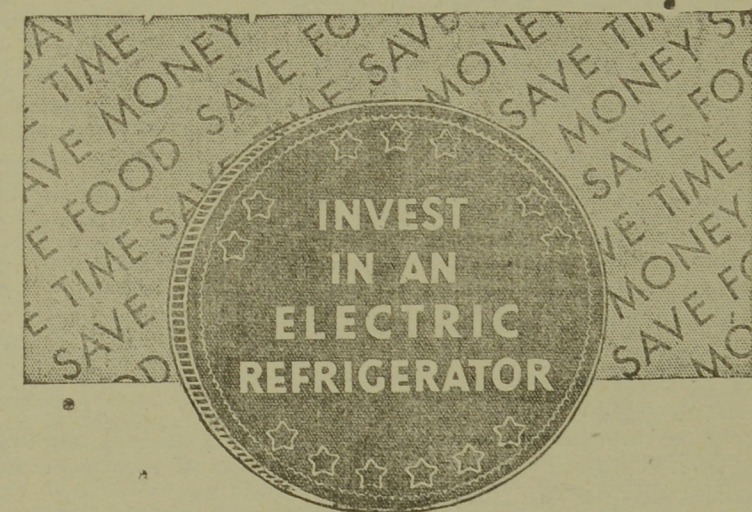

San Bruno, Cal., Feb. 14—Cats have an innate sense of justice and if they are not offended by a trainer can be taught many tricks and drilled to be reliable stage performers, says Mrs. Jacqueline Diedrick, whose success with kittens has won her distinction. Mrs. Diedrick uses the "reward" system exclusively, holding that punishment is fatal in handling cats and responsible for the popular belief that felines are unreliable.
