British Captured a Prisoner for Every Yard of Front Taken in Fight at Thiepval

(Copyright, 1916, by the Associated Press.)

BRITISH FRONT IN FRANCE, Sunday, Oct. 15 (via Londoubt, the ridge above Thiepval, the British took a prisoner for every yard of the front, or 280 for a front of less than 300 yards, not to mention the number killed by the artillery preparation and in hand-to-hand fighting before the survivors surrendered.

The Germans manning the trench and those in reserve dugouts could hardly have been crowded into one line back of the parapet. This gives an idea of the importance the Germans attached to that last bit of high ground along their old the meeting. It was estimated that more than 10,000 flocked trench line south of the Ancre, on the Thiepval Ridge, which to the union and those who could not get into the hall held overtheir desperate resistance characterized as the most precious flow meetings on the sidewalk.

The Situation on Roumanian Frontier

Much Discussed by the London Press

LONDON, Oct. 16 .- The situation on the Roumanian frontier occupies the leading position on the news and editorial pages of the London newspapers.

The Roumanians, according to the latest official statement. have been forced back six or seven miles, at one point into their own country. They are making a stand at Cucaru, which is a small town toward the southern end of the Tors Barger Pass.

At Rucaru the Austro-Germans are well below the highest level of the pass. South of this town the road runs ten miles Lake Steamer through a rolling country to the rail-head of Carpulung, which is practically on the edge of the Roumanian plain, and 25 miles from Bucharest, the capital of Roumania.

The Roumanian Troops are Figthing the Enemy on Their Own Soil at One Point

The Times notes as follows: "The enemy has advanced in Roumania through the Torz Burger Pass and the Roumanians are fighting on their own soil at Racuru."

"Apparently they have temporarily lost possession of all but the southern approaches of Torz Burger Pass.

"Further north the enemy penetrated to the crest of Gitoz Pass, but was then driven back in a fierce encounter. In the other passes the enemy is making no progress, but until effective help reaches the Roumanian second army, we must expect varying fortunes in this district.'

British Line Made a Substantial Advance On Saturday And Captured German Trenches---The French Troops Also Scored a Success.

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—A London cable to the New York Sun says:

Haig's troops have won fresh successes in the Thiepval region of the Somme front. Here the British are confronted by two great obstacles to officers, accompanied the Duchess and an advance—the powerfully fortified Stuff and Schwaben redoubts.

> After heavy artillery preparation the British swung forward in this sector Saturday and advanced on both positions.

North of the Stuff redoubt two lines of German trenches were cleared for a hundred yards. North and west of Schwaben redoubt the enemy was thrust back a considerable distance.

The Germans again adhered to the policy of abandoning ground in preference to losing men in great numbers. About 800 prisoners were swept behind the British ranks in the two movements. Both of these bastions in the German line now appear to be perilously close to capture.

From dominating positions on three sides of them, the heavy British guns are pouring forth a destructive fire that will soon pave the way for the charge of the infantry.

The British Will Soon be Able to Sweep

Northward Along the East of Ancre Valley

With the two redoubts in their hands, the British will be able to sweep northwards along the eastern side of the Ancre valley with little opposition, thus bringing Bapaume under attack from the flank.

A slight advance was also made by the British in the mornen to encircle Transloy from the north, and thus force the evacuation by the Germans of their lines along the Bethune

Success in this movement would straighte nout the Allied front south of Bapaume and permit of an advance on both sides

Allied Successes Have Important Bearing On Drive Against Peronne From the South

Few French successes since the beginning of the offensive promise more than that obtained in teh vicinity of Bellov-en-Santerre and Ablaincourt. Both have an important bearing on the drive against Peronne from the south.

Yesterday's smashing advance by the French prepared the way for an attack on Barleaux, the most formidably defended village in the region. Barleux is now exposed to altack on the north and west, and Foch's trops are pressing forward on the south in an effort to pocket it.

With its fall, Peronne will be virtually sealed. A general offensive movement on this front awaits only such a spell of dry days as occurred last fall.
