THE BROWNLEE CASE

In view of comments being made on the action of Mr. Justice W. C. Ives in reversing the finding of the jury in the MacMillan-Brownlee case, the following from the Toronto Mail and Empire, which points out there are many instances on record of such a course being followed by members of the High Court judiciary will be of interest.

The judge's reason for dismissing the action at such a late hour in the proceedings was based on the conception that in a case of this kind the plaintiff must prove actual loss of services which would otherwise have been rendered them before they can obtain monetary compensation. His Lordship observed that there was no evidence that the father of the girl had lost anything under this heading, and the girl herself could not be described as losing services to herself.

"It was not generally known in this province that in Alberta a girl can legally sue for seduction. Alberta and Saskatchewan are the only provinces in which the alleged victim can thus bring action. It is equally true that in these two provinces a High Court judge can try a murder case without the aid of a jury. These anachronisms are described as a carry-over from the days when these provinces were portions of the old Northwest Territories.

"It is noteworthy that Judge Ives' verdict vetoing the jury's findings is to be carried to the Privy Council by the Civil Liberties Protective Association, which will provide the money for the purpose. His Lordship's law is no doubt sound, but does it seem right that there can be no damages in a case of seduction except for loss of services suffered by the parents as the result of such seduction in a genuine case of betrayal there ought surely to be some compensation to the girl for the loss of her chastity and reputation. There are, on the other hand, many instances in which a girl has imagined improper attentions at the hands of a man and other instances in which prominent men have been deliberately victimized by calculating women".

The announcement that the provincial government will at once carry out its hard-surfaced road program, has been well received throughout the province. There will be seven projects and they seem to have been well distributed. In this section the main trunk highway between the western city boundary and McKinley's Ferry is to be given a hard surface. This is beyond a doubt one of the most popular suburban drives in central New Brunswick. It is announced that tenders for the work will close with the district highway engineer on July 20th.

Hon. George Black is the first native New Brunswicker to hold the position of Speaker of the House of Commons. Hon. Timothy Warren Anglin, one of his predecessors, who represented the county of Gloucester, was speaker of the House from 1874 until 1878, but he was a native of Ireland.

Pride helps one woman to grit her teeth and stick to her "bad bargain" rather than acknowledge her marriage a failure—and spurs another woman to get a divorce and advertise her disillusionment to the world rather than live on and smile through a lifetime of mock happiness.

Maybe girls were less bold in the old days, but a fellow driving a 4 m.p.h. horse didn't need so much co-operation.

If one is an average man he likes violin music not because it makes him wonder, but because it makes him feel.

Marriage is like a movie. It merely seems a flop because the advance notices had you expecting too much.

A doctor isn't like a philanthropist. When a philanthropist gives free service, he knows it at the time.

All men consider their rights with a great deal of solicitude. How many consider their duty?

Sins of the parents aren't the only things visited on the children. There are bond issues.

It's too bad the farmer's wife can't plow under every third row of house work.

Experience: any job that you do without hope of pay.

Hope is negative; hustle is positive.

SAINT JOHN MAN DOING WELL AT BISLEY BUTTS

Lieut. Neal Dow Highest Scorer Among Crack Shots in the Opening Matches.

Bisley Camp, July 9—The National Rifle Association's meet opened here today under cloudless skies with a strong breeze and a temperature much lower than that which prevailed during most of last week.

The Canadians came on the ranges after losing their match with North London yesterday by 18 points. It was the second time in two years the Canadians had dropped this match.

The match, fired at 300, 500 and 600 yards, preceded a luncheon tendered the Canadians by the North London Club.

The Queen's prize was the biggest match of the day's program, the first of a two-weeks meet. The contest, a service rifle match, called for four stages, standardized service conditions, which required deliberate fire at 600 yards, firing with movement, rapid fire and snap shooting. The only other event of the day for service marksmen was the Southern Railway match, seven shots at 200 yards.

Top scorer among the Canadians in the 500-yard phase of the Queen Mary was C.Q.M.S. Alex. Parnell of the Black Watch, Montreal. He had a 39 out of a possible 50.

Canadian Scores.

Other Canadian scores were: Lieut. Neal Dow, Canadian Machine Gun Corps, Saint John, 35; Lieut. S. Johnson, Cadet Service, Wayne, Alta., 35; Corporal H. L. Taylor, Royal Canadian Air Force, Ancaster, 33; Lieut. H. W. Steeves, 8th Field Battery, Moncton, N.B., 22.

There were the only Canadians shooting in the match.

Canadian scores in the Southern Railway match: Lieut. Dow, 34, out of 35; Private R. G. Hamilton, Grenville Regiment, Ottawa, 33; Corporal B. W. Beaumont, Royal Canadian Air Force, Ancaster, 31; Lieut. R. D. McLeod, Saint John, 29; Sergt. James Borland 48th Highlanders, Toronto, 28; Lieut. Johnson and Capt. A. C. Lucas, Toronto Queens' Own, 28; Lieut. Steeves, Sergt.-Major Instructor J. Trainor, Royal Canadian Dragoons, Toronto, and C. S. M. George M. Emshie Toronto 48th Highlanders, 27; Corporal Taylor, 26.

Stammering is a psychological affliction and is not confined to the tongue. Some stammer with their eyes. Who has not had a touch of it? The Indianapolis paper hanger who contracted to decorate a house for a patron and then quit the work in a vacant house two doors away would now like to know where to send his bill with a fair chance of collecting it.
