NO CLOSE SEASON

There will be no close season on moose this year, Premier Tilley told a delegation that waited upon him last evening in connection with the matter. The Premier as head of the Lands and Mines Department has given the matter careful attention, and his decision will be pretty generally approved. In February of this year the government at considerable expense made a high class game exhibit at the Boston Sportsmen's Show, and in view of that it would be ridiculous now to tell American Sportsmen that they will not be allowed to hunt moose in the province. It is true that moose are not as plentiful in some sections of the province as was the case fifteen or twenty years ago, but non-resident sportsmen are not responsible for the decline. Proof of this may be found in the fact that last year only twenty-one were accounted for by them while over six hundred were legally killed by resident hunters. The members of the New Brunswick Guides Association, who naturally have a pretty good grasp of the situation, are not in favor of a close season on moose at the present time. Their views should and apparently do carry more weight with the public than the opinion of a few parlor sportsmen, wild fowlers and others who seldom enter the woods.

THE IMMORTAL DICKENS

"The Life of Our Lord," from the pen of the immortal Charles Dickens, and written in 1849 for the benefit of his children, has been published serially by the Saint John Telegraph-Journal, and was no doubt perused with intense interest by every reader of that paper. The original manuscript of this work was sold by the executors of the estate of the late Sir Henry Dickens, the last member of the family of the great author, to the London Daily Mail for the sum of $210,000, being at the rate of $14 per word, admittedly a pretty good price for a literary production. Since the dawn of the Christian era thousands of clergymen and missionaries have, in obedience to the divine command, "Go ye into all the world and preach the gospel to every creature," have related the story of our Lord in many languages and dialects, and no doubt in many cases were poorly paid for doing so. They probably had little thought that some day the same old story, related by a man, who while a great teacher was not a clergyman, would command a record-breaking price in coin of the realm. Dickens was one of the greatest of Englishmen, understood the value of publicity and the good that he did lives after him. He was able to collect his title deeds to the royalty of genius during his life time and his descendants are still able to cash in on it.

A SKELETON ARMY

Says the Sherbrooke Record:—The Canadian Militia Department are not disturbed by the war smoke screens thrown out by the munition-makers in Europe every little while when they are content with a meagre appropriation of $318,000 for the coming year. That is because we are free from fear, a timidity which prevails in all the tattered and torn countries set up at the Marseilles Treaty. Civil strife within many countries, some of it accompanied by blasts of powder, will keep the warlike within their own boundaries, the while we maintain a skeleton organization of key men. Yet it will be just too bad if the boys at home do not have their annual spring camp. The appropriation is just about sufficient to buy epaulettes and dud cartridges, but there surely will be more to follow. The $318,000 is just for administration, but even this may annoy Miss MacPhail.

The MacIntosh Red apple was some years ago pronounced by a committee of British experts to be the finest desert apple grown in the British empire. This variety of apple is produced as its best in New Brunswick, and is now on sale in local groceries in competition with apples from the Pacific coast. If people are disposed to keep our money at home they should be willing at this season of the year to buy New Brunswick grown apples in preference to those grown abroad. The announcement by Premier Tilley a few days ago that it was the intention of the government to establish cold storage plants throughout the province should be pleasing news to fruit growers, as it should be the means of shutting out imported apples for at least nine months of the year.

E. J. Young, Liberal member for Weyburn, Saskatchewan, speaking at Sherbrooke last week, accused Premier Bennett with having forced Great Britain to adopt protection. To have persuaded Great Britain to abandon its age old policy of free trade, was certainly some achievement on the part of Canada's Premier and shows his hands are helping to sway the rod of empire.

Leader Dysart has tried hard to explode some bombs in the Legislature this session, but so far they have turned out to be duds. His road machinery bomb was a notable example. He is now trying hard to explode another, but so far the fuse cannot be made to ignite.

THROUGH OUR SIEVE

A good detective is always one who doesn't look like a detective.

A close friend is all right—until he declines to lend you money.

Some men have an Adam's apple and some have a hole there. Which is your choice?

Ancient gladiators and modern ones are different in that today they are gladiators voluntarily.

Note to young spinsters: Man loves a dog because the dog thinks him a kind of god.

Without competition, lots of fighting blood goes to waste. Many men are in business perhaps for the fighting.

Go-getters had reached their limit anyway. Their pockets wouldn't hold any more fountain pens.

You can tell a man who used to have money. Just show him a dotted line and note whether he screams.

A man in a pearl gray suit and a gray necktie may look ghastly. His necktie should be cherry red. It takes a woman to tell him that.

CO-EDS TO DEBATE

One of the series of Intercollegiate debates will take place tomorrow evening when coeds from Mount Allison will match wits with a trio from U. N. B. The subject for discussion is "Resolved that New Brunswick Public School system is inferior to that of Nova Scotia". U. N. B. will uphold the resolution. Representing Mt. Allison are: Louise Trueman, Truro, N. S.; Dorothy Young, Advocate, N. S., and Patsy MacKay, Truro, N. S. The team from U. N. B. consists of Rebecca Munroe, Malden, Mass.; Alice Keane, Moncton, and Bernice Gunn, Moncton.

PICTURES OF INDIANS

Mr. Havelock Sansom, lecturer and worker for the cause of the poor, is this afternoon taking pictures of the Indian Reserve at St. Mary's and also Marven Dunphy's sugary. Mr. Sansom has lectured on several occasions recently in this vicinity and also in other parts of the province and is a most satisfactory speaker as well as pioneer in a fertile field.

TO DINE MEMBERS

Premier Tilley will entertain his Legislative supporters to dinner at the Barker House this evening. Covers will be laid for about thirty. Following the dinner a government caucus will be held at the executive council chamber to consider pending legislation and other matters.

The Rock of Ages

THE MONUMENT you erect should be chosen with care; it will never be changed or discarded. It should be a source of satisfaction and comfort for a lifetime. Many original and artistic monuments stand in local cemeteries as examples of the fine work we have erected. Each has individuality and character of its own—not that sameness so often found in the ordinary monument. On request we will present and explain our catalog of exclusive yet inexpensive designs of monuments made from Marble and Granite.
