IMPORTANT MATTERS TO COME BEFORE CITY COUNCIL

Closing of Street Lighting Probable—
City Auditorship May be Abolished.

The City Council next week will hold its regular June session, meeting in committee Monday night and in council on Tuesday night. Matters of importance will be discussed, among them being the appointment of a city auditor to succeed the late Matthew Tennant, also the matter of closing the city's street lighting plant and buying current from the Fredericton Gaslight Company.

Four Applicants.

The applicants for the office of city auditor are four in number, W. B. Serry, Rev. Dr. D. W. Roberts, ex-Ald. S. B. Bennett and J. W. Spurden. The proposition has been made that the offices of chief assessor and city auditor be amalgamated. It is urged that such an amalgamation would make it possible to eliminate a minor office and at the same time give a greater salary for the office of chief assessor.

Lighting Proposition.

In the matter of the proposition of the Fredericton Gaslight Company, it is thought likely that the opinion of the council will be that the present plant of the city be closed and current bought from the company, the city to retain its pole-line. An expert brought here to look into the matter is understood to have reported that such would be the best course for the city to follow.

Fire Alarm Change.

The closing of the city's street lighting plant will make it necessary to have a substitute for the steam fire alarm whistle now maintained here. It is proposed to replace it with a compressed air whistle operated by an electric motor.

SUNBURY—QUEEN'S RECRUITS.

KING'S BIRTHDAY.

Flags are flying today in honor of His Majesty King George V., whose birthday this is. It is not generally observed as a holiday, however, although the banks and some public offices are closed.

GUARD DISCONTINUED.

The guard of returned soldiers which has been maintained at the Provincial Legislative Buildings since the burning of the Federal Parliament Buildings is to be discontinued after Sunday, June 4th. The Provincial Department of Public Works is taking this action on the ground of economy.

ENLISTED IN 115TH.

Thomas Enack, 27, Fredericton, who recently took his discharge from the 140th Battalion, has re-enlisted here for the 115th Battalion. He will go to St. John to join that corps.

IMMEDIATE STEPS.

At a meeting of the Financial Committee, held on Wednesday last the city treasurer was instructed to take immediate steps to collect all taxes in arrears without further notice.

INFANTRY WILL REMAIN UNTIL WEDNESDAY AT LEAST

No orders have yet been received for the departure of the infantry units from Fredericton. It is now considered probable that the 104th detachment will be here until Wednesday next at least. C Company of the 104th marched to Fernhill, the estate of Mrs. J. H. Stawley. The troops spent the night in bivouac, after placing outposts. Although the weather was cool, the soldiers enjoyed the outing. The eight officers with the company had supper at Fernhill, as the guests of Mrs. Stawley. The company returned to quarters at 5.30 this morning.

Lieut. R. B. McFarlane of C Company, 140th Battalion, is in St. John today with a number of men from the local detachments, who are playing with the baseball team of the 140th against a team from the 115th Battalion. Nothing is known yet concerning the departure of the 140th.

VIOLENT FIGHTING ON VERDUN FRONT

(Canadian Press.)

Paris, June 3—The battle of Verdun reached a point of unprecedented violence in the last forty-eight hours. The Germans made a formidable effort to mass reinforcements on the right bank of the Meuse, supported by a great number of heavy pieces, drawn from other fronts.

The concentration of the German forces, is taken here to indicate supreme attempt to bring the long-drawn out attack on the fortress to a successful issue and to prevent a general offensive by the Allies, despite the intensity of the attack, involving enormous losses. The French official accounts show that the main lines are not essentially changed, the furthest point reached by the Germans being houses on the outskirts of Damloup.

The main portion of the town is strongly held by the French.

PRESS COMMENT ON NAVAL FIGHT

London, June 3.—The morning newspapers while admitting the serious nature of the British loss in the naval battle off Jutland, uniformly insist that the battle cannot possibly have any adverse influence on the naval situation. Most editorials, moreover, declare that in its ultimate effect the battle must rank as a British victory, because the Germans were finally compelled to flee owing to the arrival of the British main fleet on the scene of action.

"Whatever may be the full story of this engagement," says the naval expert of the Daily News, "it must rank as one of the most considerable of which naval history has any record. The ships engaged belonged to the largest and most modern and powerful types, while the losses in the aggregate enormously exceed those of Trafalgar."

The Graphic.

The Daily Graphic's naval expert says: "It is quite clear that the main German fleet was trying to come out and that our battle cruisers intercepted them, and held them up, and that they finally were forced to return to port. In other words, Admiral Jellicoe's fleet came up after our battle cruisers had held the enemy, and the enemy retired. The German fleet admitted its inability to meet our grand fleet and is as securely locked up, despite its success, as it was before."

"There remains, nevertheless, a black page in our naval history in so far as the loss of splendid ships and splendid lives are concerned. It is illumined, however, by glorious fighting against vastly superior weight of metal, but the blow remains, and it is a desperately heavy one."

The Thunderer.

The Times says: "It is clear that we have suffered the heaviest blow at sea that we have met with during the war. Our Admiralty has taken the wise course of making no effort to underrate the gravity of the British losses. We engaged, perhaps with over-confidence, in a long running fight against ships which were more numerous, stronger and more heavily armed than our cruiser fleet, and we suffered heavily. The Germans doubtless hope that the battle will impress credulous neutrals and even cause some discouragement among the Allies."

C Company of the 140th Battalion, marched to St. Mary's yesterday afternoon and did some shooting on the rifle range.
