TUESDAY, AUGUST 1, 1916.

But under the circumstances I determined that the Government was right, and I determined to place at its disposal whatever influence I had with my fellow-countrymen. I have loyally supported all the war measures of the Government, have appealed to all classes of my fellow-citizens to rise to the occasion and do their share, not only in contributing money, but in the ranks by doing battle for the great cause. And I am here today for the same purpose and object, to appeal to my fellow-countrymen of all origins to do their duty, and ask all who can go to take their places amongst those who are contending for the cause of civilization on the fields of France and Flanders.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier at Brome.

FOR CLEAN POLITICS.

At the Opposition convention held in King's County a few days ago, when three candidates were nominated for the coming provincial election, Mr. E. S. Carter, one of the candidates, who has taken an active part in exposing the corruption which has made the present government notorious, made a few remarks that are calculated to sink into the consciousness and conscience of the people of New Brunswick. Mr. Carter said, among other things:

"If we cannot go into power with clean hands, we cannot give you clean and honest government, and it would be better for us to stay in opposition," he declared.

"If the people prefer the grafters and the grafters' methods, let them have the grafters. There will come a time when the bills they will have to pay will take such a toll from their farms and personal property that they will have to toil and labor so much more to make it up. But as for us, gentlemen, and in speaking for myself I speak for those who are associated with me in opposition, we have made up our minds that the grafters must get out of politics. We cannot fight graft and the grafters ourselves. We cannot buy votes and drown the consciences of men with rum to win our elections, and then hope to give you better government. If we cannot be elected without doing that, we propose to remain in private life.

"But I want you to understand that if we go into power, if we find a grafter anywhere—a man who steals the money of the people—we will treat him as a common thief. Politics will not save him. If a road supervisor pads his accounts and puts in his pockets what should help to make better roads, he will go to jail."

Mr. Carter spoke with the full authority of those who are associated with him on the leadership committee of the Opposition party, and he hit the nail squarely on the head. There have been scandals enough brought home to the present administration during the past four years to wreck a dozen governments. The manly, independent voters of the country are completely disgusted and will vote to a man to turn the rascals out at the next election. The votes of the hoodlars and swine troughers will not save the barnacled old ship of state from going upon the rocks. If Premier Clarke does not already believe deep down in his heart that his government has not the ghost of a chance at the polls, let him take a little trip through the province incognito, or minus Harry Woods and other satellites, and obtain the views of the independent voters of the country.

The members of a certain fraternal order in the County of York have listened to many spreadeagle speeches in back country school houses in days gone by on "the British Constitution," "responsible government," and other subjects calculated to stir men's minds and arouse their patriotic ire. In view of past teachings, what must they think of the peremptory dismissal from the public service of one of their brethren by a man who is holding office in violation of the sacred principles of responsible government, and even of the Constitution itself. If our old friend A. D. Thomas of school book fame were once more free, the skies above us, instead of being beclouded with smoke, would be made red by his fierce denunciation of this latest act of tyranny.

Ottawa Citizen: Mr. Armand Lavergne is authority for the statement that the campaign of literature of the Nationalists in the Drummond-Arthabasca election was paid for and distributed by the Conservatives. He mentions Sir Herbert Ames as the financial agent of the party in this work. He says, further, that Conservative money backed the Nationalist campaign in the Dominion elections of 1911 in Quebec, and that the policy of the Nationalists in that election was the same as it was in the Drummond-Arthabasca election, and as it is today—that is, no aid to the Empire under existing circumstances. Mr. Lavergne's statement is the only one dealing with the matter yet published. It has been in print now for a week without drawing a denial from any of the party implicated in its recital.

ON THE SIDE.

Look out for the first apples.

Let's all be good and then we won't need a chief of police.

Marriage, according to the merry grass widow, is a perfectly lovely experience to have had!

This here gettin' yer back to the land is all right in some cool spot under a shade tree.

A man asks concerning a rival, "What has he accomplished?" A woman inquires, "What does she look like?"

Gee! when we walk down street with one of those killed Highlanders we feel as proud as if it was our very best girl.

You can teach a boy to swim while you are teaching a girl to dance. But teaching a boy to dance while a girl is learning to swim is different.

Every man admires a good cook and would marry one if it were not that he is usually too busy courting some fluffly helpless little thing with a pair of eyes and one brain cell.

Little Boy Nine Months Old HAD DYSENTERY

Dysentery is one of the worst forms of bowel complaint. The pains in the bowels become intense, the discharges occur with great rapidity, and are very often accompanied by blood, and the sufferer becomes very weak and languid.

Unless these discharges are checked death may ensue in a very short time.

There is only one remedy to use in all cases of dysentery, and that is Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. It will cure when all other remedies fail.

Mrs. J. Leslie McKee, Redvers, Sask. writes: "I used Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry for my little boy when he was about nine months old. He was awfully bad with dysentery. I had not laid him down for three days and nights, only when his father took him for a few minutes. He had both the diarrhoea and vomiting. I had tried everything until my husband got 'Dr. Fowler's' and three doses cured him."

Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry is the remedy you want. Don't take any other when you ask for it.
