CASTORIA

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

CAPT. J. A. READ

after it. What we Canadians must do is build our own merchant marine, our own steel and steam vessels, and get this trade. It's no wonder England is rich. Look at her investments. Young man, that's free trade for you. England could not have financed this war had it not been for her Cobdens and her Brights—wonderful land, that same old England."

Memories of Howe.

"Capt. Read, I am inclined to believe you are a Liberal," I ventured to say.

"Why, man, of course I am, and my father before me. Well, I remember Joe Howe."

"Do you remember Joe Howe?" I exclaimed.

"Know Howe! Well, I should think I did! I was a boy when he stopped at my father's house, and I always went with him canvassing through the country. I was with him so much that I was called 'Joe Howe,' because my first name is also Joe. What a great man he was. I remember him speaking at Amherst, and Tupper was there. Tupper was very personal in his remarks, but when Howe spoke he said, 'Don't pay any more attention to Tupper than you would to a kitten.'"

And the captain chuckled with great satisfaction that Tupper should be so associated.

"I have read and re-read Howe's life," continued the captain. "My mother and father thought him the most wonderful man that ever lived. Yes, he was a great man. He had many political opponents, but I do not believe many personal enemies; in fact I know of none. And he loved this land."

"They talked about him being a traitor to Nova Scotia. Howe was never a traitor. I remember the reception when he came back from England after the efforts to have the province secede had failed. He was carried on the shoulders of the people from the boat to the hotel."

"I remember him speaking after that, when he explained his change of position regarding Confederation. He said that in opposition he could be of no benefit to his province, but he could serve his 'Little Paradise,' as he called Nova Scotia, by joining forces with the government that was in power. Yes, I remember him calling Nova Scotia his 'Little Paradise.'"

And so I left this mariner-politician and philosopher sitting on the winch frame, but I doubt that he was alone, for we had called up a vast throng of men and things that have given a permanent life to Nova Scotia and the character of its people. As I went ashore one of the crew accosted me. "Did you see the captain? By G— he's as strong as any two men aboard the craft—he's a great old man."

With all of which I thoroughly agreed.

Cholera Infantum

Cured by Using

DR. FOWLER'S

Extract of Wild Strawberry.

Cholera Infantum is one of the most common, and at the same time one of the most dangerous summer complaints of infants, and many children have died who could have been saved had the proper remedy been used on the first sign of trouble.

Cholera Infantum begins with a profuse diarrhoea; the stomach becomes irritated, vomiting and purging set in, and the child rapidly loses flesh, and becomes weak, prostrated and languid.

Mrs. B. A. Girwell, Rosway, N. S., writes: "I can recommend, most highly, Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. A friend of mine whose little daughter was ill with cholera infantum, was given up by the doctors. The little one's mother asked me to come in and see the child. I told her I had a bottle of 'Dr. Fowler's,' and asked her if she would try it. When the bottle was half used the child was well. This cure was a miraculous one for I thought the child was dying at the time."

Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry has been on the market for the past seventy years. Anyone who has ever used it will not accept a substitute. See that you don't. When you ask for "Dr. Fowler's" be sure that you get it.

The genuine is manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont. Price 35c.
