J. ROBERT HOWIE PASSED AWAY THIS MORNING

Well Known Man—Death Followed Brief Illness—Funeral Announcement Later.

J. Robert Howie passed away this morning at his home, 234 St. John street, at the age of forty-four years. He is survived by his widow, daughter of the late Walter McFarlane of St. Mary's, and by two sons and two daughters, Walter, James, Elizabeth and Margaret. Mr. George E. Howie of this city, is a half-brother of the deceased, and Mrs. James R. Howie is his step-mother. One sister, Mrs. Rivet of Lowell, Mass., also survives. The deceased was a native of Fredericton, a son of the late James R. Howie. He was associated with his father in the tailoring business for some time but for some years past followed that business independently. He was a Presbyterian. He also was a member of St. Andrew's Society and of the Fredericton Curling Club. Announcement concerning the funeral will be made later.

The news of the death of Mr. Howie was received with general regret today. It was not unexpected. He had been ailing for some time but had been seriously ill for little more than a week.

MUTT AND JEFF IN COLLEGE DREW LARGE AUDIENCE

Mutt & Jeff in College, the musical comedy based on the adventures of Bud Fisher's famous cartoon characters, drew a crowded house at the City Opera House last night. There was a general feeling on the part of the audience, however, that the prices charged were considerably greater than the merit of the company demanded. From Fredericton the company went to St. John.

Ed West and "Shorty" DeWitt in the title roles kept the audience laughing with their antics. Charles Saunders in the part of Hizekiah Doolittle the Sheriff, was the most finished comedian of the company. Frank McNish Jr. as Steve Jones, also had a good comedy part.

Miss Edith Powers as Clarabel Demmon, was the best soloist of the company. Miss Bessie Leonard's dancing took well with the audience, as did also Miss Nina Radcliffe's comedy work as Sis Simmons. The work of the chorus was fair.

Suggestiveness in some of the comedy parts was rather noticeable. It could have been avoided without materially injuring the performance.

FREDERICTON GASLIGHT BILL PASSED IN HOUSE

Attorney General Makes Statement Concerning Position of the Company

The bill of the Fredericton Gaslight Company was agreed to with amendments before the Legislative Assembly yesterday.

Hon. Mr. Baxter, attorney general reviewed the circumstances leading up to the introduction of this bill as outlined before the Corporations Committee. The company was contemplating the extension of its operations over a larger area and for this purpose sought to increase their capital to $150,000 and it was feared that there would be a demand in the near future for a higher rate from the customers. The company should be prevented from arguing in future years that because the Legislature allowed them to increase their capital that capital should be allowed a return. The Corporations Committee recommended that general legislation should be provided looking to the protection of the public interests whenever any increase of capital was desired by a public utility. The government was not prepared at this stage of the session to bring down any such legislation but that was no reason why the principle of that legislation should not be applied to the bill under consideration.

He would move that the bill be amended by adding a section authorizing the company to increase its capital stock to $150,000 from and after the filing of a report on the actual value of the physical assets of the company with the Board of Commissioners of Public Utilities, such report to be made by an expert or experts to be appointed by the Board and the expenses of making the same to be paid by the company. The bill as amended was agreed to.

SITUATION IN IRELAND

The steamer, flying no flag and with submarine proceeding awash in close attendance, crossed through the Cattedgat, across Bohus Bay, up the coast of Norway, and thence north and west, leaving the Orkney, Shetland and the Faroe Islands far to the south.

Intercepted by Patrol.

Just as the German captain was congratulating himself upon eluding the British, a patrol boat, surprised at seeing a Dutch trader so far from the North Sea, intercepted the tramp, but found her papers regular. Even her crew spoke English, expressed sympathy for the Allies, and the hope that the patrol boat would not encounter a submarine. All the time the German submarine accompanying the steamer remained submerged.

Reshaping the course of the expedition and while creeping along the north coast of Ireland, another British patrol boat was sighted. The patrol fired a shot across the bow of the tramp and signalled to the effect that they were about to board her. The tramp was then ordered to accompany the patrol boat.

Sunk by Her Own Crew.

After steaming for a distance, the tramp vessel hoisted the German flag and was sunk by her own crew in accordance with instructions given before leaving Germany. The patrol boat sent an armed crew to rescue the Germans, who then confessed their mission.

The patrol also found one collapsible boat in which were Sir Roger Casement and another man.

It is said that the submarine commander before leaving Kiel received orders that whatever befell the expedition the presence of Casement was no longer desired in Germany, and that when the plans miscarried Casement was placed in the boat and left to his fate.

ANOTHER RECRUIT.

Frederick J. A. Miller, 21, Providence, R.I., was enlisted here this morning for the 115th Battalion. He will go to St. John.
