GERMAN LOSSES FAR GREATER THAN FIRST ANNOUNCED

London, June 3.—A statement issued tonight by the British Admiralty confirming previous accounts of the battle between the British and German fleets, reiterates that the German accounts of the German losses are false and that although the evidence is still incomplete, enough is known to justify stating that the German losses were greater than the British, "not merely relatively to the strength of the two fleets, but absolutely."

There is the strongest ground for believing, says that statement, that the German losses include two battleships, two Dreadnought battle cruisers of the most powerful type, and two of the latest light cruisers, two additional light cruisers, and nine destroyers and a submarine. The text of the statement follows:

"Until the commander in chief has had time to consult the officers engaged and write a full despatch, any attempt to give a detailed history of the naval engagement would evidently be premature; but the results are quite plain.

"The grand fleet came in touch with the German high seas fleet at 3.30 on the afternoon of May 31. The leading ships of the two fleets carried on a vigorous fight, in which the battle cruisers, fast battleships and subsidiary craft all took an active part.

Germans Soon Fled.

"The losses were severe on both sides, but when the main body of the British fleet came into contact with the German high seas fleet a very brief period sufficed to compel the latter, who had been severely punished, to seek refuge in protected waters.

"This manoeuvre was rendered possible by low visibility and mist, and although the grand fleet were now and then able to get in a momentary contact with their opponents, no continuous action was possible.

"They continued the pursuit until the light had wholly failed. The British destroyers were able to make a successful attack upon the enemy during the night.

"Meanwhile Admiral Sir John Jellicoe, having driven the enemy into port, returned to the main scene of the action and scoured the sea in search of disabled vessels. By noon the next day, June 1, it became evident there was nothing more to be done. He returned therefore to his base, 400 miles away, re-fueled his fleet in the evening of June 2, and was again ready to put to sea. The British losses have already been fully stated. There is nothing to add or subtract from the latest account published by the Admiralty.

Enemy Losses Absolutely Larger.

"The enemy losses are less easy to determine. That the accounts they have given to the world are false is certain, and we cannot yet be sure of the exact truth. But from such evidence as has come to our knowledge, the Admiralty entertains no doubt that the German losses are heavier than the British, not merely relatively to the strength of the two fleets, but absolutely.

"There seems to be the strongest ground for supposing that included in the German losses are two battleships, two Dreadnought battle cruisers of most powerful type, two of the latest light cruisers, the Wiesbaden and the Elbing, a light cruiser of the Rostock type, the light cruiser Frauenlob, nine destroyers and a submarine."

THE GREAT NAVAL BATTLE

as colossal, according to a despatch to the Telegraph Exchange Company. A large number of the crew of the cruiser Wiesbaden and men from several German torpedo boats have been rescued and brought to Copenhagen. They report that many of their companions, after floating for 36 hours on rafts, without food or water, drank sea water, became insane and jumped into the ocean.

The German survivors say that several of their torpedo boats and submarines were capsized by the British shells and sank instantly. Bodies of both British and German sailors are beginning to be washed ashore on the coast of Jutland.

Captains of steamers arriving in Scandinavian harbors report that the big German cruisers which were operating a large squadron of destroyers which had been patrolling the southern Baltic, was not sighted last week.

CANADIAN CASUALTY LIST REPORTED TO BE HEAVY

OTTAWA, June 5.—The severest fighting in which the Canadians at the front have yet engaged, with the all too pronounced probability of a casualty list in keeping with the intensity of the battle, occurred on Friday and Saturday in the Ypres salient.

While the Third Canadian Division bore the brunt of it, the mention of other battalions in the casualty list this morning indicates that some troops from another division participated as well.

Ottawa has not yet received the descriptive particulars of the fight, but what has come through is a list of casualties which show losses which, to put it as mildly as possible, are heavy indeed.

The officer's names came first, and it is shown that a hundred and three of them have fallen, the greater proportion belonging to the cavalry brigade which General Victor Williams, now wounded and a prisoner in the hands of the enemy, had under his command.

When among the officers the losses are so severe, it is all too easy to surmise the proportionate losses sustained by the men in the ranks. There are some prominent men among the fallen.

Col. Harry Baker, M. P. for Brome, who commanded a Quebec cavalry brigade, is dead of his wounds; Lieut. Col. H. C. Buller, the third commandant of the Princess Pats, and former A.D.C. to the Duke of Connaught, is killed outright; and Lieut. Col. A. E. Shaw, of Brandon, is also reported killed.

For the third time Major A. Hamilton Gault has been wounded. As stated, Major General Mercer and General Victor Williams are seriously wounded.

There are only two Maritime Province names in the list received by General Sir Sam Hughes this morning, as follows:

- On June 2nd, killed, Lieut. P. S. Nisbet, St. John.
 - On June 3rd, wounded, Lieut. C. R. Messereau, Chatham, N. E.
- The brunt of the battle apparently was borne by General Williams' cavalry brigade, serving as infantry and made up of troops from Toronto, Montreal and the eastern townships, Lt. John, Brandon, Victoria and other points.

KING OF GREECE MAY ABDICATE. Rome, June 5.—An uncensored despatch from Athens hints that there is a possibility of the abdication of King Constantine of Greece.

The despatch adds that the resignation of the Greek cabinet is inevitable and that it will result in sensational developments.

Miss Barbara Dobson, of St. John, spent Sunday in the city the guest of Mrs. A. W. Edgecombe.

At St. Paul's.

Rev. W. D. Wilson, field secretary of the New Brunswick Temperance Alliance, occupied the pulpit of St. Paul's Church at both services yesterday in the absence of Rev. Dr. Smith.

THE MAIL'S "BEAT."

The Mail does not boast of a direct private wire, but all the same it managed to hand out more news of the big naval fight than any other local paper and was the only evening newspaper in New Brunswick to feature the big naval battle in its issue of Friday last.

DR. MARY CRAWFORD LECTURED AT AULD KIRK

Gave Interesting Talk Saturday Afternoon on Hospital Work in France.

Those who were fortunate enough to be present at the Old Kirk on Saturday afternoon to hear Dr. Mary Crawford speak of the work of the American Ambulance Association in France, certainly enjoyed a rare treat.

The lady doctor has a most pleasing personality, a strong sense of humor and is a most fluent speaker. She gave a vivid account of her work in the large American hospital outside of the gates of Paris.

The building taken for the work was a fine up-to-date boys' school, just built—and it did not take long to turn it into a hospital equipped with 550 beds at first. It has since been enlarged and now has 650 beds.

The first patients came in after the battle of the Marne, and among the wounded were over 200 British soldiers.

Dr. Crawford told in a very amusing way of their fondness for baths and afternoon tea, and the surprise of the French patients at the frequent bathing. She depicted in the most feeling way the heroism of the French women, and after telling of the work showed some very fine pictures on the screen of the hospital and the patients treated there.

This was the fourth time Dr. Crawford has spoken before a Canadian audience, and it is safe to say, should she ever speak in Fredericton again she will be welcomed back by a much larger audience.

Tennis Tea.

The first tennis tea of the season was given on Saturday afternoon and was attended by a large number. The hostesses were Mrs. H. R. Babbitt, Mrs. H. G. Chestnut, Mrs. J. Stevens and Miss Grace Winslow.

BLIZZARD-McGRATH NUPTIALS SATURDAY AFTERNOON

Returned Soldier Weds Fredericton Girl--Groom Belongs to Hartland.

A wedding of considerable interest took place Saturday afternoon when Miss Mary Ann McGrath, of this city, became the bride of Private Eldon Frank Blizzard, late of No. 3 Field Ambulance, Army Medical Corps.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. A. F. Newcomb, pastor of Brunswick Street Baptist church. The groom served with the Canadian expeditionary force in Flanders and was invalided home suffering from the effects of German gas. His home is in Hartland.

Recently he has been on the guard of returned soldiers maintained at the Parliament Buildings here.

The groom's gift to the bride was a beautiful gold watch. Mr. and Mrs. Blizzard are receiving the congratulations of their many friends.
