

FAMOUS TRAPPER
TELLS HIS STORYOf What Dodd's Kidney Pills Are Doing Up North.They Cured His Troubles and Gave Him a Reputation as a Medicine
Man Among the Yukon Indians.

Glacier Creek, via Dawson, Yukon, Can., May 8 (Special)—Up in the land of the midnight sun Dodd's Kidney Pills are following up their great work of curing the aches and pains that come from diseased kidneys. Listen to what the famous trapper, Thomas Pilkey, has to say of them.

"Last fall," Mr. Pilkey states, "I was so sick I did not think I would be able to follow my occupation as trapper."

"But after taking six boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills I was able to make a round of my traps, which entails a walk of eighty miles in the hills and snowshoeing in the valleys with the temperature at forty below zero."

"In the course of my travels I came across an Indian encampment. One of the Indians was very sick and from his symptoms I concluded that he had kidney trouble. So I gave him some Dodd's Kidney Pills and left him half a box of them."

"When I returned in two weeks the Indian was fit and well and the Indians all claimed I was a great medicine man."

"Dodd's Kidney Pills are no respecters of persons, places or climates. They simply cure kidney disease, no matter where it is found."

PRESIDENT WILSON SENDS
ANOTHER NOTE TO BERLINAccepts Germany's Offer to Confine Submarine Warfare to Beligerents--Will Rely Upon a Scrupulous Execution of the Altered Policy---New Orders Issued to German Pirates.

Washington, May 8.—In one of the shortest diplomatic notes on record, President Wilson today dispatched to Berlin an acceptance of the recent German offer to confine submarine warfare to belligerent ships. Continuance of diplomatic relations between Germany and the United States, President Wilson made it clear, is contingent upon a "scrupulous execution of the now altered policy of the Imperial government."

Following is the text of the note cabled today by Senator Lansing to Ambassador Gerard at Berlin, with instructions to deliver it to the German Minister of Foreign Affairs:

Full Text of Brief Note.

"The note of the Imperial German government, under date of May 4, 1916, has received careful consideration by the government of the United States. It is especially noted, as indicating the purpose of the Imperial German government as to the future, that it is prepared to do its utmost to confine the operation of the war, for the rest of its duration, to the fighting forces of the belligerents and that it is determined to impose upon all its commanders at sea the limitations of the recognized rules of international law upon which the government of the United States has insisted."

"Throughout the months which have elapsed since the Imperial government announced on Feb. 4, 1915, its submarine policy, now happily abandoned, the government of the United States has been constantly guided and restrained by motives of friendship in its patient efforts to bring to an amicable settlement the critical questions arising from that policy.

"Accepting the Imperial German government's declaration of its abandonment of the policy which has so seriously menaced the good relations between the two countries, the Government of the United States will rely upon a scrupulous execution henceforth of the now altered policy of the Imperial government, such as will remove the principal danger to an interruption of the good relations existing between the United States and Germany."

Not Bound by German Promise.

"The government of the United States feels it necessary to state that it takes it for granted that the Imperial German government does not intend to imply that the maintenance of its newly announced policy is in any way contingent upon the course of results of diplomatic negotiations between the government of the United States and any other belligerent government, notwithstanding the fact that certain passages in the Imperial government's note of the 4th inst. might appear to be susceptible of that construction. In order, however, to avoid any possible misunderstanding, the government of the United States notifies the Imperial government that it cannot, for a moment, entertain, much less discuss, a suggestion that respect by German naval authorities for the rights of citizens of the United States upon the high seas should in any way or in the slightest degree be made contingent upon the conduct of any other government affecting the rights of neutrals and non-combatants. Responsibility in such matters is single, not joint, absolute, not relative."

Considers Germany Yielded.

Secretary Lansing issued a statement tonight saying that the greater part of Germany's answer to the demand of the United States was devoted to matters which the American government could not discuss with the Berlin government, but he considered Germany had "yielded to our representation," and that "we can have no reason to quarrel with her" so long as the altered policy is lived up to.

"While our differences with Great Britain cannot form a subject of discussion with Germany," says Mr. Lansing's statement, "it should be stated that in our dealings with the British government we are acting as we are unquestionably bound to act in view of the explicit treaty engagements with that government. We have treaty obligations as to the manner in which matters in dispute between the two governments are to be handled. We offered to assume mutually similar obligations with Germany, but the offer was declined. When, however, the subject in dispute is continuing menace to American lives, it is doubtful whether such obligations apply, unless the menace is removed during the pendency of the proceedings."

The treaty with the British government referred to is to the convention negotiated by former Secretary of State Bryan under which the two nations agree that any dispute arising shall be submitted to an investigating commission for one year—before entering into hostilities.

An offer to enter into such a treaty for Germany brought a request for information, but formal negotiations never were instituted.

The hope that the note might end the discussion regarding the conduct of submarine warfare tonight was entertained by some officials and by persons in close touch with affairs at the German embassy. Should this prove true, no more ships carrying American citizens being sunk in violation of the principles of international law, the way would be cleared for renewal of negotiations for settlement of the Lusitania, Arabic, Sussex and other pending cases growing out of illegal submarine attacks.

In other official quarters, however, apparently there was uncertainty regarding the result which the note may have. A new crisis, it was pointed out, would arise, should Germany make a rejoinder to the communication and insist that its new policy is contingent upon the United States making certain demands upon Great Britain.

New Orders Issued?

London, May 9.—The German government has already issued new orders to the commanders of German submarines, in accordance with the concessions set forth in the reply to the American note, according to the Daily Telegraph's Rotterdam correspondent.

THE POULTRY RAISER'S
GOLDEN OPPORTUNITYThe Present Market Outlook Warrants
Greatly Increased Production
During 1916.

From present indications Great Britain will require all the eggs and poultry Canada can produce during 1916. Last year, as a result of greatly increased production, Canada was able to ship to Great Britain the largest quantity of eggs exported since 1902, and at the same time reduced her imports for home consumption by nearly a million dozen.

Canadian eggs have found favor in the British market, and the prospects are that, providing they are available, much larger quantities will be shipped this year. The unusually high prices prevailing at the present time are due largely to this anticipated export demand.

Prices for poultry are also high, and will likely continue so for the rest of the season. Last fall and winter all the surplus Canadian poultry was exported at highly profitable prices. Between fifty and sixty cars of live poultry were shipped from Western Ontario to the Eastern States alone, and in the Maritime Provinces, particularly in Prince Edward Island, the export demand for canned poultry has greatly enhanced prices to producers.

Although some uneasiness has existed on the part of the trade as regards transportation facilities, in view of the high freight rates and shortage of boats, it is now reasonably certain that an even greater demand for Canadian poultry and eggs will occur this year. It is important, therefore, that every poultry producer takes steps to profit thereby, by hatching as many chickens as possible this spring.

Now is the time, by hatching early, by hatching everything possible in the month of May, to guard against the marketing of so much small, undersized, poorly finished poultry, which annually becomes a drug on the market in the fall of the year. Again, it is only by hatching now and giving the chickens every possible chance to thrive and grow, that a maximum supply of eggs can be obtained in the winter time.

Given their proportionate amount of attention, the growing of poultry brings quick and profitable returns to the farmer. With the increasing cost of meats, milk, butter, etc., there is a constantly increasing demand for poultry and eggs. The labor problem is not critical as the boys and girls on the farm can readily take care of the poultry. The cost of feed is nominal, prices for poultry and eggs are high—the highest in fact for many years. It is obvious, therefore, that Canadians have a patriotic, as well as an economic duty to perform in making the year 1916 the banner year for poultry production in Canada.

LOOKS AS IF IT WAS A SAILOR'S YARN

New York, May 8.—The report that the Fabre line steamer Venezia was attacked and chased by two German commerce raiders and submarines in mid sea on May 1 was denied today by Captain Boniface, the ship's master, in making his report to the Fabre line office, and to Capt. Gaunt, British naval attaché.

Capt. Boniface said that two steamers were sighted in midsea, that flashes of gun fire were seen, that two small boats, apparently tenders, were observed, but the nearest the Venezia got to either of the ships was about four miles, and that neither of the ships paid any attention to him.

Capt. Gaunt, in reporting to the British Admiralty, stated his belief that the two ships sighted were either French or British converted cruisers guarding the steamship lane, evidently engaged in target practice, and they were employing the tenders in observing and placing the targets.

A HOPE.

Twenty-four turnips and a thin string bean,

Sixteen squashes and a tangerine,
One bum carrot and a quart of peas—
May your back yard garden yield you more than these.

Four potatoes and a radish red,
One lone gumbo in a ten-foot bed,
Two sugar melons, both soft on top—
May you never, never have such a measly crop.

Three Brussels sprouts with a very short nap,
Six lanky rhubarbs without any snap;
Five heads of cabbage, unfit for kraut,
May you have a lot more than I'm shagging about.

If a woman has faith in her doctor she is always telling about the miracles he has pulled off.
