

KITCHENER WAS THE IDEAL OF THE BRITISH TOMMIES

William J. Robinson Former Member of the British Expeditionary Force Writes
His Impressions of the Great Soldier--
The Tommies Would go Through Ten Thousand Hells to Serve Kitchener.

The last number of the New York Independent contains the following appreciative tribute on Lord Kitchener from the pen of Mr. William J. Robinson, a former resident of Fredericton who served fourteen months in France as a member of a British regiment:

Lord Kitchener was not a sentimental man. He was generous in his reward of the right, and he was terrible in his punishment of the wrong. Yet he was loved. "Tommy" is not given to sentiment as a rule, and he doesn't care much for any man who is. He loves a strong man; and Kitchener was his ideal.

Lord Kitchener, like his men, despised a fop. I saw "K. of K." but twice during my time of service, and it was the second time I saw him that the following incident happened. He was to review a new brigade at a point "somewhere in France," and I took two of our officers down to the railroad to meet his train. These officers were to serve with the guard of honor which was to meet him. There were officers from practically all of the units then in France, there at the station, and they lined up according to rank while waiting for the train.

LATE LORD KITCHENER

Contrary to the popular idea in this country, the monocle is not common among army men. I think I am safe in saying that not one in a hundred officers would be bothered with one. The few who do use them are generally the fops, and they are ridiculed for their silliness. As I sat at "attention" at the wheel of my car, I noticed one officer, a subaltern by the way, who had a monocle screwed in his eye, and he bore other marks which placed him in the "asses" class.

Finally the train pulled in; everyone sprang to "attention" and Lord Kitchener stepped from the train. He returned the general salute and shook hands with some of the senior officers. Then he walked down the line of officers on the platform. As he came to the "gay dog" with the monocle, he stopped. "Is there anything the matter with your eyesight?" he asked. "No, sir," replied the subaltern.

"Then take that thing out!" growled "K. of K." and I noticed that his order was not long in being obeyed. Needless to say, the story flew like wildfire.

I have talked with men who have served under him in South Africa, in Egypt, in India, and I can truthfully say that I have never heard a man say a word of anything but admiration for him. The grief felt by the civilian population in England will be great, but I know the sorrow felt by the men of the British Expeditionary force will

ORIENTAL ALLIES ENLIST FOR SERVICE

Ottawa, June 26.—Oriental allies appeared in the ranks of the 13th Alberta Mounted Rifles, which was reviewed this morning on Parliament Hill by the Duke of Connaught. A platoon of Japs made up part of one company. They were enlisted in the Crows Nest Pass district. Side by side with them was a company of Mormons. In the past week regiments passing through Ottawa have been peculiarly cosmopolitan, embracing Doukabhours, Japs, Mormons and Mennonites.

TEDDY COMES OUT FOR JUSTICE HUGHES

Chicago, June 26.—Theodore Roosevelt, in a letter to the Progressive National Committee in session here today, says he will strongly support Charles E. Hughes, the Republican nominee, as beyond all comparison better fitted to be President than Mr. Wilson, the present executive.

He declines, therefore, the Progressive nomination and advises the committee not to put a third ticket in the field this fall.

STRIKE OF TEXTILE WORKERS SPREADING

Bradford, England, June 26.—The wool combers' strike now in progress affects 15,000 textile workers and is drawing in other industries, with the result of idleness on the part of hundreds of other workers. There is talk of government intervention. Some of the leaders of the union condemn the strike. No strike pay has been issued.

ROUND-THE-WORLD-FETE WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON

You will get a fifteen mile ride in the great Round the World auto trip in connection with the grand Patriotic Fete Wednesday afternoon. Not only that, but you will see the prettiest parts of Fredericton and suburbs, and will witness the beautifully decorated stations, where you will meet and be welcomed by bevy of Fredericton's pretty girls. Think of all this, besides admission to the Fete itself, for the small sum of $1.00.

Persons loaning autos are requested to be at the Court House Square at 1.30 p.m. and to place themselves directly under the orders of Chief Train Dispatcher Mr. R. Z. Walker.

Everybody is talking about the auto trip; it is an entirely new feature in Fredericton entertainments, and promises to be liberally patronized. If you are married, come and bring your wife along; if you are a grass widower bring somebody else's wife, and if you are a bachelor get your best girl and her mother to accompany you. You'll never regret it.

CARRANZA GIVEN HIS LAST CHANCE

Washington, June 26.—General Carranza today had one more chance to prevent an open break between the United States and Mexico. Another note sent him yesterday by Secretary of State Lansing demands that 17 American prisoners of the Carrizal battle, now held at Chihuahua, be released and that the Mexican government place itself on record immediately concerning its future intentions toward the American forces now in Mexico.

The communication disclosed that General Carranza had admitted in a note received by the state department, having issued orders to General Trevino to attack any American forces moving in any direction except to the border.

In carrying out these orders the attack at Carrizal occurred. Consequently the American government now considers the de facto president responsible for the attack and gives him a final opportunity to change his attitude.

"What a polite man Mr. Wombat is. An air of extreme culture seems to pervade his house."
Quite so, even his furniture seems a trifle more polished than the ordinary run."
