But under the circumstances I determined that the Government was right, and I determined to place at its disposal whatever influence I had with my fellow-countrymen. I have loyally supported all the war measures of the Government, have appealed to all classes of my fellow-citizens to rise to the occasion and do their share, not only in contributing money, but in the ranks by doing battle for the great cause. And I am here today for the same purpose and object, to appeal to my fellow-countrymen of all origins to do their duty, and ask all who can go to take their places amongst those who are contending for the cause of civilization on the fields of France and Flanders.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier at Brome.

THE LATE SENATOR COSTIGAN.

The death of Hon. John Costigan removes from the activities of life a gentleman who has for over half a century been a prominent figure in public life and has rendered valuable service to the country. He had been continuously a member of a parliamentary body for the long period of fifty-five years, and was in point of service Canada's senior parliamentarian. He was a native of St. Nicholas, Quebec, but the greater part of his life was spent in the province of New Brunswick. He was elected to the New Brunswick Legislature for Victoria-Madawaska in 1861 and held the seat until the union of the provinces in 1867, when he was elected to the Federal Parliament as a Conservative. A genial, whole-hearted man, he made friends and kept them. In all but one election he had opposition, but he never in his long political career experienced the bitterness of personal defeat. In the year 1882 he accepted the portfolio of Minister of Inland Revenue in the government of Sir John Macdonald, and filled it until 1892, when he joined the cabinet of Sir John Thompson as Secretary of State. On the death of Sir John Thompson he became Minister of Marine and Fisheries under Sir Mackenzie Bowell, and held the same portfolio in the Tupper administration, which went out of office after the general election of 1896. The progressive Liberal government formed by Sir Wilfrid Laurier commanded the support of Hon. Mr. Costigan, and he was returned as the Liberal candidate in Victoria at subsequent general elections, preceding his appointment to the Senate in 1907.

The late Hon. Mr. Costigan was of Irish birth, and the cause of Home Rule in Ireland had in him a staunch and consistent supporter. On two occasions he put through the House of Commons a unanimous resolution declaring in favor of the principle of Home Rule for Ireland.

Hon. Mr. Costigan's long public service was marked by the strictest honesty and integrity. The forked tongue of scandal never pointed in his direction, and it is pretty well known among his friends that he never made any money out of politics. His circle of friends throughout New Brunswick was a large one and there will be general regret that the long and useful life of one of the country's greatest Irish-Canadian statesmen, has been brought to a close.

WELL DESERVED DEFEAT.

Discussing the recent defeat of the Conservative plunderbund government in British Columbia, the Toronto Saturday night, an independent paper, says:

"The overwhelming defeat of the Bowser administration in British Columbia is what everyone in the East who paid attention to the affairs of that province expected; and it cannot be said to be undeserved. When a scion of one of the historic Conservative families of Canada, like Sir Chas. Hibbert Tupper, threw aside party considerations and opposed a Conservative administration, it was ample evidence that that administration was ripe for destruction. It is sincerely to be hoped that the return to power of Mr. Brewster means the dawn of a new era. British Columbia is a magnificent province. Her mineral wealth of all kinds is greater than that of any province in the Dominion. It is needless to speak of her fisheries; while her vast timber resources, for which a great market is opening up in the Orient, are of inestimable importance. "Such a province should be on 'easy street' financially, but the reverse is the case, because of the ineptitude—or worse—of the McBride and Bowser administrations. Her chief cities have been the happy hunting ground of rascally promoters and corporations, whose operations the Government has done nothing to check. There has been little or no attempt to deal with the Socialistic organizations that have been throttling industry in the province; and in a general sense every condition that could frighten away the capital essential to the development of British Columbia has existed. With good government, the recuperation of a province so rich in natural resources should not be a lengthy or difficult process; and though we know little of the men who have been entrusted with office, we sincerely hope they realize their responsibilities."

Notwithstanding the fact that there is a big wheat crop in the west, the price of flour is steadily advancing. It recently crossed the ten-dollar mark, and there seems to be an impression in some quarters that the worst is yet to come. The problem that confronts the wage earners of this country is a serious one. What is the Borden government going to do about it?

Yes, you are right, Mr. Simp, a man's life shouldn't be entirely absorbed in going fishing—there's shooting, and golf, for instance.

GUYNEMER THE LUCKIEST AVIATOR IN THE WORLD

Fell 10,000 Feet and Lives to Tell His Experience—Once Fell on "No Man's Land."

Paris, Sept. 29.—The French aviator, Lieut. Guynemer, who fell a distance of ten thousand feet today after shooting down two German aeroplanes, in relating the story of his miraculous escape from death, said:

"I gave myself up for lost when I began to fall, but thought I would struggle all the same. The wind blew me over our lines, and like a flash I had a picture of my funeral, for the levers would not budge. In vain I pulled and pushed to right and left.

"I made one last desperate effort, to no purpose, and then I saw the field toward which I was dashing down. Suddenly something happened and my speed diminished. Then there was a resounding crash and a violent shock.

"When I recovered my wits I was in the midst of the fragments of my machine and practically uninjured.

"Am I still alive? I ask myself. I believe it was the straps which held me to my seat which saved me."

On Sept. 16 Lieut. Guynemer was credited with his sixteenth enemy aeroplane. A week later he was reported to have brought down his eighteenth. He was wounded in a fight in the air last March and in a subsequent fight was forced to descend between the French and German trenches, but escaped.

RELIEF FROM INDIGESTION

The Most Common Cause of This Trouble is Poor Blood.

All conditions of depressed vitality tend to disturb the process of digestion. There is not a disturbed condition of life that may not affect digestion. But few causes of the trouble are so common as thin, weak blood. It affects directly and at once the process of nutrition. Not only is the action of the gastric and intestinal glands diminished, but the muscular action of the stomach is weakened. Nothing will more promptly restore digestive efficiency than good, red blood. Without it the normal activity of the stomach is impossible.

Thin, pale people who complain of indigestion must improve the condition of their blood to find relief. The most active blood builder in such cases is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They make the rich, red blood which quickly restores the digestive organs to their proper activity, and the dyspeptic who has hated the sight and smell of food now looks forward to meal time with pleasure. As proving the value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in curing indigestion, Miss Edith M. Smith, R. R. No. 4, Perth, Ont., says: "I can honestly say I owe my present good health to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. My stomach was terribly weak and I suffered from indigestion and sick headache, and was always very nervous. I was troubled this way for nearly three years, and in that time took a great deal of doctors' medicine, which, however, did not help me. I could not eat anything without experiencing the most agonizing pain. My sick headaches were most violent and I could not rest day or night. I was asked one day by a friend to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and consented to do so. After taking them some time I found they were helping me, and I continued to take them steadily for several months, until I found that I was completely cured. While taking the pills I gained both in strength and weight, and I feel it impossible to praise Dr. Williams' Pink Pills too highly."

You can procure these pills through any dealer in medicine, or by mail, post paid, at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50, from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

PROMINENT LAWYER AT AMHERST IS A SUICIDE

Amherst, N. S., Sept. 29.—William G. Pugsley, a prominent local lawyer, committed suicide here today, sending a bullet crashing into his brain from a revolver held close to his ear. No cause has been given for the act, but at the inquest held this afternoon the jury returned a verdict that the deceased came to his death by a bullet in the right temple fired by his own hand for reasons unknown.

The body was not discovered until 2 o'clock this afternoon. Mr. Pugsley did not make an appearance at his home last evening, and this afternoon his mother, Mrs. Amos Pugsley, called up D. S. Biggs on the telephone and asked him if he knew where Mr. Pugsley was. Mr. Biggs said that he would look in the office. In company with Stipendiary Magistrate McKenzie, a great friend of the deceased, the gentlemen went across to the court house, where Mr. Pugsley had his office, being registrar of probate.

The door was found locked, but on looking through the transom a body was observed inside.

Fearful of accident, a doctor was summoned and he authorized that the door be broken in. Mr. Pugsley was found dead inside. The doctor stated that he had been dead for more than twelve hours and that death was instantaneous, the bullet entering the left ear and passing through the brain.

Cure Your Bad Cough By Breathing "Catarrhazone"

You may dislike taking medicines—but coughs are best cured without medicine. The modern treatment is "Catarrhazone." It isn't a drug—it's a healing vapor full of pine essences and healing balsams. It spreads over the surfaces that are weak and sore from coughing. Every spot that is congested is healed; irritation is soothed away; phlegm and secretions are cleaned out, and all symptoms of cold or catarrh are cured. Nothing so quick, so sure, so pleasant as Catarrhazone. Beware of dangerous substitutes meant to deceive you for genuine Catarrhazone. All dealers sell Catarrhazone, large size which lasts two months price $1.00; small size 50c.; same size 25c. . . .
