

THE ISLAND OF WONDERLAND

(1) James Bay Embankment and C.P.R. Hotel, Victoria, B.C.
(2) On the Way to Cameron Lake, Vancouver Island.
(3) Fishing on Cewichan River, Vancouver Island.

EVERY year a larger and ever increasing number of autoists, and those who wish to spend their vacations in an entire change of environment, make their way to the Island of Vancouver—the gateway of which is Victoria, the capital city of British Columbia—the best known tourist resort in the Pacific Northwest. It is entirely different from any other territory known to automobilists. True, it is in Canada, and reached by the Canadian Pacific via road and magnificently appointed steamers, but it is as British as if it were one of the British Isles. This is realized immediately one lands from the steamer in Victoria, and by the way this very landing is, interesting and affords an excellent example of the courtesy of Canadian customs officials, and the extreme ease with its automobilists, who are residents of the United States, can enter into this, to them, foreign country.

But to return to one's first impressions upon leaving the steamer at Victoria. As the steamer glides to her berth through the unique Inner Harbor, considered one of the most picturesque in the world, there immediately looms up on the right, the magnificent Parliament buildings of British Columbia—one of the architectural features of Canada. They are situated overlooking the harbor, facing James Bay embankment and the City of Victoria.

The six-horse tally-hos and the thirty-passenger and smaller sight-seeing cars lined up on the side streets, all competing for business in a vigorous, and somewhat unfamiliar manner, is another indication that we have within a short space of five hours, been transplanted into a new and invigorating environment. The City of Victoria is the starting point of the Island Highway, which brings the automobilist in close touch with the main portion of Vancouver Island, and all its summer and fishing resorts; its quaint villages, enterprising towns, agricultural settlements, wonderful forests, reached by tributary highways, and the commencement of the Canadian highway, the terminus of which is at Alberni.

It is an easy matter to spend a week in the City of Victoria, and to take an entirely separate and distinct, and at the same time most interesting tour, every day. In fact, during the past summer, enthusiastic autoists from California, Utah, Washington, Oregon, and even Eastern Canada spent from two to five weeks in this city and island, and left with the greatest possible regret.

Mr. Frederick Wagner, in the Seattle Times, thus describes his first visit to Victoria and the Island:

"Picturesque and rugged in its matchless beauty of unlimited variety; wealthy in magnificent driveways and offering unsurpassed hotel accommodations, with lavish hospitality ever conspicuously present—that is Vancouver Island, in the Canadian province of British Columbia, paradise of motorists and nature lovers, and destined to rank as one of the world's greatest touring fields."

"Nature painted the gorgeous setting for this scenic wonderland, and the people of Vancouver Island have capitalized it by constructing a system of splendid highways that is dotted with attractive hotels where excellent accommodations are to be obtained. And they have supplemented this work by a display of genuine hospitality that is justly entitled to be classed as a valuable asset in the exploitation of their country.

"The chain of mountains that penetrates Vancouver Island and the beautiful valleys, with their numerous streams, lakes and luxuriant vegetation, combine to set before the eyes of the traveller a variety of scenic splendor that beggars description."

"Go where you will on Vancouver Island and you will find scenery that causes you to marvel at the lavishness of nature."

"The coastline of the island is very beautiful, being indented with deep bays and fiords. The western coast differs somewhat from the eastern coastline, for on the ocean side a number of canals reach far inland, as if to aid the miner and the lumberman to get his product to market with ease; while on the other side of the island there are many pleasant bays and several beaches, where summer homes and resorts are to be found."

WHEAT IS THE MOST COMPLETE CHICK FOOD

A successful poultry raiser gives the following as his experience in feeding chickens:

There is no one food that is complete for chicks, but wheat doubtless comes nearest being so, as it is for adult human beings. I have known chicks to do splendidly on whole wheat and grass, with no other feed except of course such insects as may be picked up. I know one breeder who follows this method from the time the chicks are a few days old. Plenty of green stuff is always available at the breeding season.

It is quite a common opinion that poultry, especially grown fowls, like whole corn better than any other grain, but this is based on common observation. If you throw a mixture of grains, say corn, wheat and oats, to a flock of fowls they will first pick up the corn; but it has been established that the corn is taken first because the grains are large and easily seen and picked up. Fowls in their eagerness to get their share take first the food they can get most easily and in the largest quantities.

Experiments have established, however, that if good wheat, corn and oats are kept before fowls all the time, each in similar feeding boxes, they will in the long run consume the largest amount of wheat. The fowls do not tire of it because it best suits their physical needs.

But a heavy ration of wheat, especially hard wheat, may cause indigestion. It needs to be varied with other feed, like oats or green stuff, or bran—in fact with all of these.

Oats doubtless stimulates growth, as some believe. The chicks will not eat enough rolled oats to warrant putting the main reliance on it. When chicks are half grown I simply feed the oats whole and dry.

SUMMARY OF MORNING'S WAR NEWS

Germany and Italy at last are at war. Italy has finally ended the anomalous situation that has existed for months by declaring that from Monday, Italy considers herself the enemy of her former Teutonic ally.

Heavy fighting is still in progress between the Entente and Teutonic Allies, in the Macedonian theatre, from the region of Lake Ochrida eastward to Kavala, on the Aegean sea, but with results bordered by the various statements of the Berlin and Paris offices.

Berlin reports that Bulgarian forces operating to the west of Lake Ochrida have captured the town of Malik, in Albania, and that along the Struma King Ferdinand's men are approaching the mouth of the river.

Paris admits the Bulgarians have taken all but one of the forts at Ka-

THE NEXT DANCE A WALTZ.

Will Drive Out Tango and Fox Trot, Say Masters in Convention.

Chicago, Aug. 24.—The dreamy waltz is coming back and before another year has rolled around will have replaced the tango, fox trot, "walking the dog" and other odd ones which have so long dominated the ballroom, according to dancin' masters attending their convention here today.

"The tango and its offshoots have had their day," said President Thomas McDougall, of Pittsburg, of the American Association of Dancing Masters.

"Everywhere dancers are tiring of them and are returning to the dances our parents danced when they were young."

The committee plans to announce a new dante on Saturday.

INTERESTING LAWSUIT OVER PROMISSORY NOTE FOR $500

Rev. J. B. Daggett Files Defence in Action Brought Against Him by the Bank of N. S.—Alleges Fraud on the Part of Col. Guthrie, Who Sold Him Stock in a Dredging Concern—H. F. McLeod, M.P. and H. M. Blair got Stock for Nothing.

Rev. J. B. Daggett, Secretary for Agriculture, who seems to have formed the habit of getting hitched up with five hundred dollar notes, has filed a defence in a suit commenced by the Bank of Nova Scotia against Lieut. Col. P. A. Guthrie, Mr. Harry A. Smith and Rev. J. B. Daggett. The Bank has started suit against these gentlemen to recover the proceeds of a note for $500 given by Rev. Mr. Daggett in payment of stock in the St. John River Dredging and Construction Company, the concern which owns the dredge Tantawanta, much in evidence in this locality several years ago. Slipp & Hanson are acting for the plaintiff and Mr. M. L. Hayward has been retained by Rev. Mr. Daggett.

The document which the defendant, Rev. Mr. Daggett, recently filed in the office of the clerk of the peace is as follows:

Supreme Court—King's Bench Division; between the Bank of Nova Scotia, plaintiff, and John B. Daggett, defendant.

Statement of Defence.

The defendant says:

No. 1. That the defendant did not make the promissory note sued on.

No. 2. That St. John River Dredging and Construction Company is not a fully incorporated company.

No. 3. That the said St. John River Dredging and Construction Co. did not endorse the promissory note sued on to Percy A. Guthrie, or at all.

No. 4. That the said Percy A. Guthrie did not endorse the promissory note sued on to Harry A. Smith, or at all.

No. 5. That the said Harry A. Smith did not endorse the promissory note on to Robert B. Smith, or at all.

No. 6. That the said Robert B. Smith did not endorse the promissory note on to the plaintiff.

No. 7. That the promissory note sued on was not presented or shown for payment thereof at maturity or otherwise.

Fraud Alleged.
No. 8. That the defendant was induced to make the note sued for by the fraud of the said Percy Guthrie. Particulars of said fraud are as follows:

(a) The note sued on was given for stock in the said St. John River Dredging and Construction Co., and in order to induce the defendant to make said note the said Percy A. Guthrie falsely and fraudulently represented to the defendant that the said company was solvent and in good financial circumstances, whereas in fact the said company was insolvent and unable to pay its debts, or any part thereof in full.

(b) In order to induce the defendant to make the note sued on, the said Percy A. Guthrie falsely and fraudulently further represented to the defendant that the said company had had a good year's business in the year A.D.

TO TRIFLE WITH CATARRH IS TO RISK CONSUMPTION

Usually it comes with a cold. Being slight, it is neglected—but the seed is sown for a dangerous harvest, perhaps consumption. To cure it once, inhale Catarrhazone.
