RECEPTION LAST NIGHT TO REV. MR. SUTHERLAND AND WIFE

Vestry of Brunswick Street Baptist Church Scene of Pleasant Gathering--Pastors of Local Churches Delivered Addresses of Welcome--Enjoyable Entertainment,

Rev. J. S. Sutherland, the new pastor of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, was warmly welcomed last night by the members of his own congregation and the clergymen and members of other denominations in Fredericton.

The occasion was a reception tendered Rev. Mr. Sutherland and his wife by members of St. Paul's congregation. On account of the removal of the Auld Kirk, the Presbyterians lack a place in which to hold such gatherings, and last night's affair took place in the vestry of the Brunswick Street Baptist Church, which was kindly placed at their disposal.

As the guests entered the vestry they were presented to Mr. and Mrs. Sutherland. Mr. W. M. Burns was chairman and announced the various numbers of the programme. During the evening there were several orchestra selections and vocal solos. The soloists were Mrs. W. S. Montgomery, Miss Helen Vanwart and Private Irvine, of the 236th Highlanders.

Addresses were made by Rev. J. H. A. Anderson, of St. John, Presbyterian Moderator; Rev. J. E. Wilson, pastor of the George Street Baptist Church; Rev. Thos. Marshall, pastor of the Methodist Church; Rev. Canon Cowie, rector of Christ Church Parish; Dr. W. S. Carter, Chief Superintendent of Education; Dr. C. C. Jones, Chancellor of the University of New Brunswick; Dr. H. V. B. Bridges, principal of the Provincial Normal School; Rev. Dr. Kierstead, and lastly, Rev. Mr. Sutherland.

Mr. W. M. Burns, formally welcomed Mr. and Mrs. Sutherland. The fact that St. Paul's congregation had called Mr. Sutherland so soon after having him as a supply minister, showed in what strong regard he was held. Mr. Burns asked for hearty co-operation of all members of the congregation with the new pastor.

The chairman explained that the Rt. Rev. Bishop Richardson and Rev. Dr. D. W. Roberts had sent letters expressing regret on account of inability to be present.

Rev. J. H. A. Anderson. Rev. J. H. A. Anderson was called upon to extend a welcome on behalf of the Presbytery of St. John. He spoke of Mr. Sutherland's translation from Newfoundland as an addition of strength to the Presbytery. It should be remembered that although Newfoundland was not part of Canada, the Presbyterians there were members of the Presbyterian Church in Canada and that the church was one of the greatest of national forces. He counselled the congregation of St. Paul's to look to the future for the golden age, and not to the past.

Rev. J. E. Wilson. Rev. J. E. Wilson was the spokesman on behalf of the Baptists. He had had previous knowledge of Mr. Sutherland, of his excellent work in Sussex and of his interest in Bible Society work. He felt sure the new pastor would be a credit to St. Paul's. In Fredericton there was a unique field on account of the city's position as an educational centre. He wished the new pastor and his wife many years of prosperity.

Rev. Thomas Marshall. Rev. Thomas Marshall, pastor of the Methodist Church, was the next speaker. He felt sure Mr. Sutherland would find the brotherhood of ministry in Fredericton a pleasant one. St. Paul's was to be congratulated upon so rapidly filling the vacancy caused by the resignation of Rev. Dr. Smith. However, it must not be expected that the new pastor would do things exactly as had his predecessor. It was not always pleasant to hear the praises of the one who had gone before, nor to be told that Mr. So-and-So did things in such-and-such a way. (Laughter.) Too much should not be expected of the new pastor, nor of the new pastor's wife. Mr. Marshall said he had known Mr. Sutherland in Sussex, Halifax and in St. John's, Nfld. He had been a success in all three charges and he would in a fourth. If pastor and congregation did their respective duties, relations would be pleasant.

Dr. W. S. Carter, Dr. C. C. Jones and Dr. H. V. B. Bridges, all of whom are connected with New Brunswick's educational system, followed. All welcomed the new pastor most heartily.

Rev. Canon Cowie. Rev. Canon Cowie spoke on behalf of the Anglicans. He said he always had been attracted to things Scotch, with some few exceptions. (Laughter.) His own people had Highland blood, and so he felt friendly to any person of that clannish race. He could remember the days when Bishop Medley and Rev. Dr. Brooke were the closest of friends. Mr. Sutherland would find Fredericton abounding in spiritual possibilities. It was a spiritual time. The boys at the front were feeling the influence and should receive a spiritual welcome.

Rev. Dr. W. C. Kierstead also spoke. He welcomed Mr. Sutherland and mentioned the fact that he himself had been a member of the congregation at Lower Millstream over which Mr. Sutherland had presided.

Rev. J. S. Sutherland. The new pastor, replying to the addresses of welcome, said that Fredericton certainly had a "homey" feeling. Many things made him feel at home. He first had visited the city when fourteen years of age. His father was pastor of the Scotch settlement in Victoria county, and he was on his way to his new home. Dr. Mowatt had put him aboard the train at Gibson, and he had gone up with a big crowd that had come down on the spring drive. Arrived on the upper St. John, he had been entertained at the home of Mr. Fraser, afterward to be known as the generous donor to St. Paul's Church.

He made an appeal for co-operation with St. Paul's congregation, but with all people. His mother's relatives all had been Church of England. He himself in early life had attended Baptist churches. From Newfoundland he had brought with him a letter from Bishop Powers, the head of the Roman Catholic hierarchy, which dealt with association in certain work in that island. He was broad enough to work with all denominations.

In conclusion he stated that he was pleased to return to Canada and to New Brunswick. His citizenship had been changed for he had been already licensed to perform marriages in this province, and that afternoon had officiated at his first one. (Laughter.) After the addresses refreshments were served.

ONTARIO TOWN GETS A SCORCHING

London, Ont., Oct. 26.—Fanned by a forty mile gale, fire which broke out early today swept away $50,000 worth of buildings on Toxhot street west, in the heart of the business district at Aymer.

The blaze started in Howse's big employment warehouse and spread both ways, destroying Cline's implement shop, Jones' repair shop, Robt. Kair's blacksmith shop, the central gas office, Loman Harker's paint shop and partially burning the plant of the East Elgin Refractory.

Help was asked from St. Thomas, and the motor apparatus rushed over 15 miles of road and did great work.

A firebug is suspected as there have been four serious fires lately. The loss is fairly well covered by insurance.

A Carleton County Visitor.

Ex-Councillor Charles P. Bull, a leading farmer of Northampton, Carleton county, is spending a few days with friends in the city. It is his first visit here in fifteen years, and the first holiday he has taken in that time. Although close to the four-score mark, Mr. Bull looks much younger than he really is, and enjoys excellent health. Last evening he attended the Gaiety Theatre and saw his first moving picture performance. His son, Major J. J. Bull, who is well known here, is serving at the front with the 26th Battalion. Mr. Bull is a life-long Liberal and staunch friend of Mr. F. B. Carvell, M. P.

NOW IS THE TIME to send some Zam-Buk to your soldier friend at the front. With the coming of cold weather, the men in the trenches all suffer, more or less, with chapped hands, cold cracks, chilblains and cold sores, and the soldier who has some Zam-Buk on hand to apply immediately any of these painful ailments make their appearance, will be saved hours of suffering.

Pte. E. Westfield of "C" Company, 3rd Worcester Regiment, writes: "We wish our friends would send us out more Zam-Buk. It is splendid for sore hands, cold cracks, cold sores, etc."

Nothing ends pain and heals so quickly as Zam-Buk, and being germicidal, it prevents blood-poisoning.
