She was at one time attached to the nursing staff of the Lowell Hospital, where she was very popular and much esteemed. She is well and favorably known in Fredericton and vicinity, where she spent her girlhood.

ANOTHER SCOTT ACT RAID.

The police are continuing their Scott Act activity. Between 7 and 8 o'clock in the morning appears to be the fashionable time for them to call. A downtown hotel was visited this morning by Chief Finley and Policemen Hughes, Murray and Jones. Policemen Hughes read the search warrant and entrance to the bar was effected by way of the transom, no person with a key being about at that early hour. About $100 worth of liquor was found in the bar and cellar and was taken to the police station on a sloop. Chief Finley declined this morning to say who swore out the warrant.

CHARLOTTE STREET
SCHOOL PROPOSED

Necessary to Overcome Overcrowding In Schools--Suggestions to Improve Sanitary Conditions at Charlotte Street School.

The Charlotte Street School is to remain closed during the present week, and will reopen on Monday, thorough disinfection following a diphtheria scare being completed this week. The School Board met yesterday and received letters from the Board of Health concerning the condition of the building. The report of Mr. Frank S. Walker, of St. John, sanitary expert, who inspected the building at the request of the School Board, has not yet been received.

Inspector McKay's Suggestion.

Health Inspector William McKay has suggested to the Board of Health that the Charlotte Street School building is in good sanitary condition, with the toilet apparatus working properly. He also has condemned the rotten hemlock flooring of the basement, and has suggested that a concrete floor be substituted. Further suggestions from him are that the playground be gravelled and a dry brook running across the rear of it be filled in.

More Accommodation Needed.

Mr. Lemont, from a committee, has reported to the School Board efforts to procure temporary class room accommodation so as to provide against the present over-crowding in the High School. After a careful search and enquiry, a suitable place could not be found. The proposed addition to the Charlotte Street School was again discussed and this seems to be thought
