JOHN ANDERSON EX-M.P.P. HONORED BY FRIENDS

given place to a line of a railway on each side of the river, facilitating transportation and travel and bringing about a more intimate and friendly intercourse among the people, and adding to their comfort and happiness, to which you in your public and private life have contributed.

You have been a large employer of labor, whose claims and those of your country upon you you have discharged in full.

The members of your family—all of whom it must be a comfort for you to know, are regarded as worthy citizens wherever they reside—can look back to your life of integrity, sobriety and uprightness as an incentive to follow.

We are sure we are speaking for your host of friends in every walk of life where you are known, when we congratulate you heartily on this your 95th birthday, and when we express the wish that you may be spared yet many years to enjoy the friendship of your family and friends, on whose behalf allow me to present you with this token of their admiration and regard.

Attached to the address were the names of Judge Wilson, Senator F. P. Thompson, R. F. Randolph, Mayor Mitchell, Recorder Colter, A. R. Slipp, M. P. P., Collector Macnutt, John Kilburn, G. N. C. Hawkins, W. T. Chestnutt, F. B. Edgcombe, R. P. Allen, Capt. J. A. Read, Dr. H. V. B. Bridges, J. M. Scott, W. J. Scott, C. E. Scott, J. F. McMurray, Mrs. Frances C. Whitehead, Mr. A. H. Vanwart, Michael McDade, Ald. R. W. McLellan, J. F. VanBuskirk and S. B. Ebbett.

Mr. Anderson, although taken completely by surprise, replied in an address which was remarkable, coming from a man of his years. In a voice wonderfully clear and steady, he thanked those present for the honor done him. He declared that it was the most enjoyable occasion of his long life, and would always be remembered by him with feelings of pleasure. "I have lived in this place," said he, "for fifty-five years, and in all that time nobody can say that I ever turned away a hungry man from my door, whether he was rich or poor. It was the same when my mother was alive; it was the same when my wife was alive, and it is the same now, when my home is presided over by my daughter-in-law."

Mr. Anderson went on to say that he had many old friends in Fredericton, and he also had many young friends there whom it was always a pleasure to meet. He had found personal friendship a great factor in politics. While he had always been a Liberal, he was glad to number among his friends men of both parties. He felt sure that he had not an enemy in either political party. He had always tried to do the right thing by people of all classes.

Mr. Anderson concluded his vigorous speech by heartily welcoming the gathering to his home, and hoped that all would enjoy themselves.

Senator Thompson.

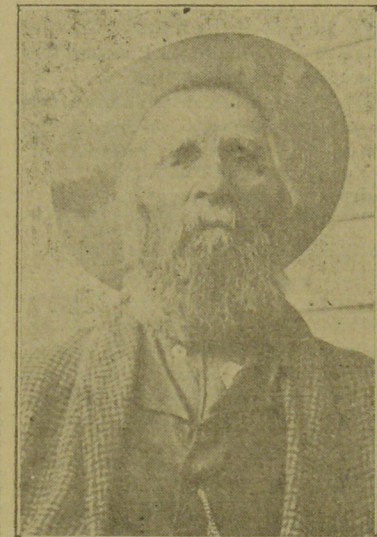

Senator Thompson, who was next called upon, delivered a happy and eloquent speech. He expressed his pleasure at being present to assist in doing honor to his venerable friend, Mr. Anderson, whom he was delighted to find enjoying such excellent health. Mr. Anderson had been favored with a remarkably long life and had witnessed many changes in his time, changes which had made for the betterment of mankind. The Senator made an eloquent reference to the great war, and hoped that Mr. Anderson would live to see the Allies triumphant and Prussian Militarism completely crushed.

The Senator in conclusion called Mrs. Anderson to the front and presented her, on behalf of the Fredericton delegation with a five-pound box of Page &

Shaw's chocolates, which she gracefully acknowledged.

Other Speakers.

Mr. A. R. Slipp, M. P. P., heartily endorsed the sentiments of previous speakers. He was delighted to be present and assist in doing honor to his old and esteemed friend, Mr. Anderson. No man was more widely known all through the river counties and he was universally esteemed for his many good qualities. He hoped that Mr. Anderson would be spared to celebrate his centennial.

JOHN ANDERSON, EX-M.P.P.

Recorder Colter spoke of his association with Mr. Anderson in the Legislature, and expressed pleasure at being present to assist in honoring him. He felt sure that no man in the county had so many warm friends and admirers.

Mr. McDade, who was official reporter of the Legislature when Mr. Anderson was a member of that body, delivered a brief address which was greatly enjoyed. He spoke of his long acquaintance with Mr. Anderson and it was a pleasure to him to find him so well and vigorous in mind and body. All were glad of the opportunity to be present and do honor to Mr. Anderson, and all hoped that he still had many years of usefulness before him.

Others who spoke briefly and conveyed congratulations and good wishes to Mr. Anderson were Mr. N. W. Brown, the Rev. Mr. Dewar, Dr. McIntyre, Mr. G. N. C. Hawkins and Mr. John Kilburn. The latter remarked that Mr. Anderson had lumbered on the Mamozekel so many years ago that he (Kilburn), operating on the ground long afterwards, had been able to make use of the same camp foundations.

Musical Programme.

A splendid musical programme was carried out during the evening and was much enjoyed. Mrs. Coffyn, daughter of Mr. Geo. F. Burden, presided at the organ, and another daughter, Miss Dorothy Burden, gave a vocal solo in a most acceptable manner. There was a duet by Mrs. N. W. Brown and Miss Sharp, and solos by Rev. Mr. Dewar, Dr. McIntyre and others, besides numerous choruses. Mr. Anderson himself took a hand in the singing, and made a great hit with a rendition of that good old Scottish ballad, "John Anderson, My Jo."

During a lull in the proceedings Judge Wilson called attention to the fact that there was another veteran present in the person of Mr. George Ebbett, an esteemed resident of The Barony, who was nearing his ninetieth milestone. Led by the Judge, the company sang "For he's a jolly good fellow." Mr. Ebbett returned thanks in a brief speech.

Refreshments consisting of cake, coffee, etc., were served by the ladies, and the pleasant gathering broke up after singing Auld Lang Syne, "God be with you till we meet again," and the National Anthem.

The Fredericton contingent returned home on the noon train today. It was composed of Senator Thompson, Judge Wilson, Recorder Colter, A. R. Slipp, M. P. P., Mr. McDade, Capt. J. A. Read, W. T. Chestnutt, G. N. C. Hawkins, C. E. Scott, J. M. Scott, S. B. Ebbett, A. H. Vanwart and John Kilburn. All were delighted with the success of the affair and with the generous hospitality extended to them by the people of The Barony.

Among the letters of regret at inability to be present read to the gathering were the following:

From F. B. Edgcombe.

Fredericton, Dec. 4.

John Anderson, Esq., The Barony.

From Ald. McLellan.

Fredericton, Dec. 4, 1916.

Dear Mr. Anderson,—

I regret exceedingly that an engagement of a character that cannot be postponed prevents me from joining with your friends in tonight's celebration. I am heartily in accord with the motive that brings about this happy event, and I hope that you will be spared many years to enjoy the respect and esteem of your countrymen and friends, and which you have so well earned. Believe me,

Your sincere friend,

R. W. McLELLAN.

From J. F. VanBuskirk.

Fredericton, Dec. 4, 1916.

John Anderson, Esq., The Barony.

My Dear Friend,—It is with sincere regret that I find myself unable to be present with you today upon the occasion of your 95th birthday, and to share with others of your loyal friends in the honor of such a period anniversary greeting.

I assure you, however, that, looking back over an intimate acquaintance of nearly half a century, and remembering how in both public and private life, by a record of so many years of continued usefulness and of a sturdy, honest and manly character, you have established yourself in the confidence and esteem and deep affection of your countrymen, I do rejoice that you are passing today one of the farthest milestones in the great journey, brave in heart and with surprising good health (as I have been assured), with every prospect of one day celebrating your 100th anniversary. Surely a most exceptional attainment in the uncertainties of our day, for our "grand old man" and a crowning glory for a noble and honorable career.

Disappointed at my inability to be there in person, let me assure you that I am with you in spirit, and I trust that the approaching Christmas will find you surrounded and encompassed by many of the old friends of yore and that increasing joys will attend you on many happy returns of the day.

Yours sincerely,

JAMES F. VANBUSKIRK.

Your Child's Cough

Is it nothing? Is it to be neglected until it leads to that terrible scourge consumption? Peps stand between winter coughs and colds, and serious consequences. Peps are tablets made up of Pine extracts and medicinal essences, which when put into the mouth turn into healing vapors. These are breathed down direct to the lungs, throat and bronchial tubes—not swallowed down to the stomach, which is not ailing.

Try a 50c. box of Peps for your cold, your cough, bronchitis or asthma. All druggists and stores of Peps Co., Toronto, will supply
