Italians Have Made the City of Goritz

Untenable for the Austrian Forces

LONDON, Aug. 9.—A despatch from Rome to the Daily News late last night says:

"The Italian occupation of Goritz appears certain in the near future, if it has not already occurred. The city is untenable to the Austrians, who have abandoned their positions and sought refuge in houses, from which they are sniping. They are, however, in view of the positions on the Isonzo seized by the Italians, powerless to oppose an advance.

"There is reason to believe that the Italians have already gained a foothold in the castle dominating the city.

"Meanwhile cavalry has been launched in pursuit of the retreating Austrians, who are being made prisoners before they can reach positions behind the city."

LONDON, Aug. 9.—A prize court today will deal with the Norwegian steamer Lynegfjord, New York for Christiania, which carried in its cargo 17 tons of coffee. A search disclosed that 250 sacks of supposed coffee contained a large amount of raw rubber cleverly concealed among the coffee beans.

BIG ADVANCE IN THE PRICE OF WHEAT

Chicago, Aug. 9.—Excited trading and advances of more than 8 cents a bushel in the value of wheat resulted today from the United States government crop reports, showing that the huge crop losses of late had been generally under-estimated.

Dealers gave chief attention to the fact that the yield this season would be but little above domestic requirements, and that European needs greater than ever before would have to be mainly supplied by the surplus carried over in this country from last year.

Opening quotations, which varied from 4½c. to 8c. higher, with September at 138½ to 141, and December at 142 to 145, were followed by temporary setbacks from the top side of the range but in some instances ¼c. additional upturns.

Mediation May Stave off Strike

New York, Aug. 9.—Whether the threatened strike of 400,000 railway employees throughout United States would be averted through mediation of the federal board of mediation and conciliation depended at noon today on whether the railroad brotherhoods were willing to accept the services of that body.

THE BRITISH MAKE FURTHER PROGRESS NORTH OF POZIERES

Enemy Trenches Bombed and Some Prisoners Captured---Austrians Compelled to Abandon Important Positions on Isonzo and Carso Fronts--Russians Win Another Victory.

LONDON, Aug. 9.—A further advance by the British on the Somme front north of Pozieres was announced today by the War Office. The official statement says that in the vicinity of Guillemont there has been no change since yesterday.

North of Pozieres we made a further advance by bombing along the enemy's trenches, capturing 25 prisoners.

In the Ypres salient, between Belleward Lake and the Yser Canal, the enemy bombarded our trenches heavily last night from 10 p. m. to midnight, and discharged gas on a broad front. The gas had little effect. Some partial attacks were made by the enemy, who was not able to enter our lines.

HUNGARIANS LOOK FOR END OF WAR BEFORE WINTER SETS IN

Reasons Advanced However, do Not Appear to be Sound---Count Apponyi Thinks the Allied Offensive Has Not Achieved Decisive Results.

BUDAPEST, via Copenhagen and London, Aug. 9.—The general feeling in the capital of Hungary is that the war will not last through the coming winter.

Your correspondent has talked with eminent men about the various political outlooks, as well as with men in the street, and has found this opinion to be universal.

Of those who expressed themselves the best known in America is Count Albert Apponyi, who said:

"I do not believe that there will be another year of war. I do not believe there will be another winter campaign. I fully expect reason to assert itself as soon as it can no longer be concealed from the British and French peoples that the great offensive has failed to achieve results, and that the Russian drive has been checked.

Thinks a Peace Made Ten Years Hence Would in No Way Differ From One Made Now

"The point is that the utmost energies of the Entente have been expended without coming to a decision. A peace made ten years hence would in no way differ from one made now. I believe that this fact will soon make its way home to the consciousness of the world.

"After this war is over," continued Count Apponyi, "we may hope that for two generations the memory of its sorrows will be so acute that no new war will be entered upon. It is to the next two generations that we who love reason and peace must look for the constructive work of making armed conflict forever impossible.

Does Not Think There is Now Any Likelihood of Roumania Entering the War

"While statesmen and military leaders are watching with deep interest the efforts the Entente powers are making to induce Roumania to enter the war, the general opinion is that Hungary's neighbor will maintain neutrality.

"The time has passed when Roumania could be successfully argued into this step," said an official.

"We should not have been surprised if, after the fall of Czernowitz Roumania had thrown in her fortunes with those of the Entente, but the present outlook of the Russian arms is by no means so bright as to offer Roumania much hope of gaining anything by an alliance with her hereditary enemy."

The position on the northeast front is now practically stationary, though fierce fighting continues. In the event that Roumania should join the Entente, not the slightest fear beyond some prolongation of the war is expressed here.

Turks Operating Against the Suez Canal Have Been Driven Back by the British

LONDON, Aug. 2.—Pressing the advantage won by the defeat of the Turks who attacked the British forces near the Suez Canal, the British have driven back the Turks to a line fifteen miles east of Katia. The following official statement with regard to these operations was issued here today:

"Telegraphing at 8.45 o'clock last evening, the Commander in Chief in Egypt reports that our pursuit of the enemy in the Katia district continues. North and west the Turkish rear guard have been pressed back, while south the imperial camel corps, by a dashing attack, drove them from the entrenchments. We captured more prisoners and the enemy rear guard has now retired to a line running north and south through Birlebad, fifteen miles east of Katia."
