VACATION CAMPS.

Fresno, California, has secured the use of 15 acres on the shores of Huntington Lake, in the Sierra national forest, on which to establish a camp to provide summer outings for 11,000 school children and their parents.

California State Normal School now occupies a portion of the same forest. In connection with the regular six weeks summer course, this school gives a course in woodcraft and general forestry subjects. The students visit the nearby Forest Service ranger stations and look-out towers, and study the government's methods of fire protection.

Los Angeles was the first city in California to establish a vacation camp in the national forests. A tract of land in the Angeles Forest has been rented and a large camp built, costing about $8,000. This camp consists of a log and stone lodge, 46 furnished cottages, tennis and croquet courts, baseball grounds and hand-ball courts. A ten-day trip can be made at a cost which is within the reach of practically everyone. By this means thousands of residents of the city have been able to spend their vacations in the mountains.

SUMMER FIRES.

A serious fire hazard is the summer kitchen or lean-to. Frequently there is no chimney attached, yet stoves are moved out for the warm season and a stovepipe put through the wall or roof. This is a very dangerous practice, and should not be permitted.

Stoves should be at least eighteen inches from any wooden wall or partition. The floor should be covered with zinc or iron beneath the stove to catch any live coals, the covering should extend beyond the stove for 18 inches in front and on the side on which the fire door opens. Where pipes pass through partitions proper thimbles with air spaces should be provided. Brick chimneys should be used, and these should be at least 8 inches thick, and start from a foundation on the ground. If chimneys be lined with tile forms made for the purpose, a single brick thickness is satisfactory. This is the only safe way, and while more expensive, the reduction in the fire danger more than compensates for the added cost. Again, as insurance companies will not knowingly insure a building where a stovepipe passes to the outside through a wall or roof, the insurer risks being unable to collect the amount of his insurance policy.

A group of New York women have contributed $20,000, raised through auction bridge, to the American Red Cross, and in that city are elsewhere are continuing their work in an effort to raise $200,000 for that organization. The auction players, with Mrs. Joseph Pulitzer as their guiding spirit, began last March what was formally called the "Associated Cities of the United States of America Auction Chain Fund." The plan was that the players at the first auction bridge party, which was an affair of five tables, given by Mrs. Pulitzer, should each contribute $2 for her place, and then should give a four-table party, each player at the four-table game would contribute $2, and subsequently give a three-table party, and so on until at the last party each hostess should conduct a one-table affair. The chain was for the benefit of the American Red Cross and the sufferers from infantile paralysis. If it were played out to the last link the total sum raised would be $200,000.

A report is in circulation that at the recent conference of Conservative leaders at St. John, it was agreed that Col. H. F. McLeod, M. P., should be the party standard-bearer in York at the next election. Col. McLeod's ancient enemy, Mr. Pinder, M. P., and Hon. A. R. Slipp, ex-M. P., were at the gathering and it is said meekly consented to fall into line behind the gallant Colonel. The man who once described Toryism as "organized hypocrisy" was not very far astray.

Mr. C. P. Fullerton, K. C., of Winnipeg, who created quite a sensation in Manitoba politics two years ago by fathering sensational charges against the newly formed Liberal government, has been rewarded by an appointment to the Manitoba Court of Appeals. Judge Fullerton is a native of Amherst, N. S., and was once mayor of Sydney. He is a nephew of the late Sir Charles Tupper.

Governor Ganong has issued a proclamation calling upon the people of the province to observe the fourth of August, the third anniversary of the beginning of the war, by holding public meetings. It is proposed that the people adopt the following resolution:

"That on this the third anniversary of the declaration of a righteous war, this meeting of the citizens of . . . records its inflexible determination 'to continue to a victorious end the struggle in maintenance of those ideals of Liberty and Justice which are the common and sacred cause of the Allies'."

As the Tories have not been deriving much comfort from provincial elections during the past two years, nobody should begrudge them the victories won in the Prince Edward Island by-elections this week. They were able to retain both seats, but by reduced majorities. The Liberals put up a plucky fight against the influence and patronage of two governments, and have no reason to be ashamed of the showing made. It is certainly refreshing to see the St. John Standard rejoicing over the election of an Acadian premier on the Island.

The Halifax Chronicle says that every woman and child dependent upon the miners who lost their lives in the colliery disaster at New Waterford, N. S., will be provided for under the Nova Scotia Workmen's Compensation Act. The amount required to look after them will be close to $200,000.

LEARNING TO DRIVE AN AUTO

Some Good Information for the Beginner—How to Take Care of the Machine.

(By a General Sales Manager.)

After you have made your purchase be careful how you start. In the beginning read minutely the instructions furnished with the car.

Have confidence in yourself. Learn all about the motor, clutch and transmission. Learn how the power is delivered to the rear wheels.

Know what each lever will do. Study the use of each instrument on the dashboard. Learn thoroughly the principles of motoring. These will be found simple.

Take your first lessons when there is little traffic and as you increase in knowledge and practice, venture in busy streets.

Keep your eyes in front and do not endeavor to speed. Forget everything but the car. In learning to drive, do not get nervous. It is comparatively easy to go through the motions of starting, steering and stopping before you drive your first mile—if you concentrate.

Hold your feet ready on the clutch and brake pedals. This adds confidence. Hold the steering wheel lightly. Start and stop gradually. Practice makes perfect.

Your car is a piece of machinery, and as such is entitled to care and attention. For the moment, regard it as a horse. Like a horse, a car needs proper care and attention.

Do not expect results if your motor has no oil—or if you have neglected lubrication. Always remember that attention on your part guarantees long life to your car and will reduce repair bills. It is a good rule to go over your car once a day and see to it that you have plenty of gasoline, oil and water. If you do these things your car will reward you with faithful, consistent service.

NOTED MUSICIAN OF MONTREAL

Advises The Use Of "FRUIT-A-LIVES", The Famous Fruit Medicine.

MR. ROSENBERG
589 Casgrain St., Montreal.
April 20th, 1915.

"In my opinion, no other medicine in the world is so curative for Constipation and Indigestion as 'Fruit-a-lives'. I was a sufferer from these complaints for five years, and my sedentary occupation, Music, brought about a kind of Intestinal Paralysis—with nasty Headaches, belching gas, drowsiness after eating, and Pain in the Back. I tried pills and medicines of physicians, but nothing helped me. Then I was induced to try 'Fruit-a-lives', and now for six months I have been entirely well.

I advise any one who suffers from that horrible trouble—Chronic Constipation with the resultant indigestion, to try 'Fruit-a-lives', and you will be agreeably surprised at the great benefit you will receive". A. ROSENBERG.

Through Our Sieve

The conscription matrimonial boom is not yet on.

Who would think of casting bread upon the waters at 12c. a loaf!

The soldiers who marry are simply following the advice: In time of war prepare for peace.

Amateur gardeners about town can see already where they helping to reduce the cost of living.

Nurses have boosted their pay from $15 to $18 per week. It will be the doctors' turn next.

Candor is something we expect from our friends, so we say—and flatter them in order to get just that, of course.

When we were young we knew just a few girls; nowadays most of the young generation have a date book like a small town telephone directory.

Telephone men are talking of putting meters on 'phones. Think of paying for daughter's conversation by the kilowatt hour!

St. John druggist fined for selling Wilson's port. Next thing we know some grocer will catch it for selling extract of lemon.

The shrewd insurance agent who believes in tackling a man when he is feeling good, should get after some of the local amateur gardeners.

Once in a while you meet a girl who knows just exactly whom she wants to marry, but you'd never guess it from the way in which all her friends insist on giving her free advice on the subject.
