THE WATCHWORD

(Chicago News.)

"They don't throw old shoes at newlyweds any more except in the moving pictures," observed Mrs. Rumble.
"Throw old shoes at brides!" her husband answered. "I should say not!
Shoes are too scarce to be thrown at brides and cats and things. It's the same with rice and bricks. You might as well throw a spud at anybody as a handful of rice these days.""The time for throwing old things around has passed. It doesn't pay.
Last year a man slapped a fellow right behind the ear with a rotten tomato and thought he had done something smart. But some of the tomato seeds fell on the ground and now they're growing and the man who got soaked behind the ear has $18.90 worth of tomatoes in sight and the man who threw the tomato has nothing whatever. And tomatoes are something to eat nowadays all right.""On April 1 some fellows thought they were doing something funny when they tied a lot of bricks up in newspapers and put them under old hats for passers-by to come along and break their toes on. But one wise guy hired a wagon and gathered up enough to build him a meat shop and $50 worth of newspapers and $85.43 worth of old hats.""Why, we can't even afford to move these days for fear we may lose a couple of fluting irons or a foot tub and be out about $10! There was a time when moving was a good stunt because you could lose so much old junk and so many family heirlooms that way, and there was no other way of getting rid of such things unless you had a fire.""Why, a warming pan or a spinning wheel may be worth a couple of beans and a can of corned beef, and beans and corned beef are something to eat.""Prodigal, wasteful wives used to bang their husbands over the head with iron skillet. But no woman would run a chance like that now-days. Iron skillet are worth something.""Then, too, there was the custom of fastening tin cans to dogs' tails. But tin cans are now worth money and cannot be spared for such uses.""Yes," agreed Mrs. Rumble. "I expect cats and dogs are worth something themselves these days, and if things keep on who knows but what human beings will be worth preservation after a while?"Slants of Humor*BULLET PROOF.Barbara was leaning out of the window. "Shoot, if you will, this old gray head, your bullets can't hurt me," she said.The general pondered. "Why not?" he asked, and his voice trembled as he choked back a sob of disappointment."Because," she answered, "I wear Paris garters, and no metal can touch me.—Pitt Panther.UNIVERSAL TONGUE."No, I don't speak German but I got along pretty well in Berlin without knowing the language.""Tat so?"
"Yes; for instance, one day I wanted a drink and I went into a beer garden and said to the waiter: 'Look here, old man, I'm dry; do you understand? Dry!' And the next minute he came back with three beers."HOT STUFF."Went into the kitchen the other night—asked the cook to toss me a biscuit.""Did he do it?"
"No—said it was just out of his range."—Cornell Widow.ANNOUNCEMENT.On July 1st, the undersigned will

3insTHE LITTLE WORRIES
IN THE HOMEThese Bring the Wrinkles and Pallid Faces that Make Women Look Prematurely Old.Almost every woman at the head of a home meets daily many little worries in her household affairs. The care of the little ones, the work about the house all contribute to these worries. Most of them may be too small to notice an hour afterwards, but they constitute a constant strain that affects the blood and the nerves and make women look prematurely old. The effect of these little worries may be noticed in sick or nervous headaches, fickle appetite, tiredness after slight exertion, and the coming of wrinkles which every woman dreads. To those thus afflicted Dr. Williams' Pink Pills offer a speedy cure; a restoration of color to the cheeks, brightness to the eye, a hearty appetite and a sense of freedom from weariness. Among the many thousands of Canadian women who have found new health and strength through these pills is Mrs.
G. Strasser, Acton, West, Ont., who says:—"I am the mother of three children and after each birth I became terribly run down, I had weak, thin blood, always felt tired, and unable to do my household work.
After the birth of my third child I seemed to be worse, and was very badly run down. I found the greatest benefit from the Pills and soon gained by old time strength. Indeed after taking them I felt as well as in my girlhood, and could take pleasure in my work. I also used Baby's Own Tablets for my little ones and have found them a splendid medicine for childhood ailments."Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all dealers in medicine, or you can procure them by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.The "flame-tree," which flourishes in the Illawarra District of New South Wales, is covered with red flowers, and can be seen by ships many miles out at sea, and serves as a guide to them.NoticeAll persons who have not paid their
