THE BLESSING OF A HEALTHY BODY

Has Not Had An Hour's Sickness Since Taking "FRUIT-A-TIVES".

MR. MARRIOTT
78 Lees Ave., Ottawa, Ont.,
August 9th, 1915.

"I think it my duty to tell you what 'Fruit-a-tives' has done for me. Three years ago, I began to feel run-down and tired, and suffered very much from Liver and Kidney Trouble. Having read of 'Fruit-a-tives', I thought I would try them. The result was surprising. During the 3 1/2 years past, I have taken them regularly and would not change for anything. I have not had an hour's sickness since I commenced using 'Fruit-a-tives', and I know now what I haven't known for a good many years—that is, the blessing of a healthy body and clear thinking brain".

ACADIANS OF TO-DAY

An Acadian Home.

RICH in its history of strong men and heroic women whose stirring adventures by land and sea set the imagination aflame, appealing in its wild scenery of lakes and streams and wooded hills, charming in the lawns and hedges and shady streets of its villages and towns, the country from Yarmouth to Digby, Nova Scotia is the Mecca of the historian, the sportsman, the painter, the geologist, and the vacation seeker. In this land, which even to-day abounds in rivers and lakes teeming with luscious, leaping fish, and is clothed with forests of fir, pine, hemlock and spruce, home of deer, moose and bear, the Indians must have lived from time immemorial. Such a paradise for the huntsman must have been the subject of song and story among the redmen.

And here too the Norsemen came full five hundred years before Columbus set out in his three tiny ships. Urged on by their dauntless spirit, the wild Norsemen drove their war galleys far south and west from Iceland till they reached the land which a no less hardy race were later to name Nova Scotia. It was at Yarmouth they landed; and two mighty boulders, bearing inscriptions in Runic, now may be seen near the town of Yarmouth—lasting evidence of that daring adventure made near one thousand years ago.

And then came those intrepid adventures from France, De Monts and

Partridge Island, Parrsboro, N.S.

Champlain in 1604; Charles de la Tour and his Huguenot wife—"a woman, who by her gentle breeding and beauty, her heroism and her misfortunes, was destined to win the most romantic immortality in our history." Left in charge of her husband's fort, she inspired her noble band of followers, was overcome by intrigue alone when attacked by her husband's rival, and died of a broken heart after being forced to watch her followers hung while she stood with a halter around her neck.

The Acadian farmers flourished in this land until 1775, when they were expelled by the English, and only the ugly scars of their cellars told of the farm houses which had once been there. Six years later came families from New England, adventurous, indomitable and hardy pioneers. It was their descendants who later built hundreds of the fastest sailing ships, sailed them to the seven seas and built up mighty fortunes which now show themselves in magnificent residences set in beautiful surroundings of lawns, hedges and trees.

But the Acadians returned; and to-day for miles the neat villages of their descendants skirt the shores of Fundy Bay, from Yarmouth to Digby. The descendants of the Acadians have cultivated the soft marsh lands and fresh water meadows, preserving the simple manners, customs and language of their ancestors.

And here one finds fifty miles of rugged storm swept coast, lofty beetling cliffs, coves like volcanic craters—wilder than the dreams of a mad poet.

THE AD. AND THE MAN.

By James J. Montague.

He saw the ad from day to day
And muttered: "I defy it;
The stuff may be just what they say,
But I'm not going to buy it."

As time wore on he made remarks
It would not do to mention,
For he was mad because that ad
Was forced on his attention.

But in a week, or two, or three,
He said: "There's no denying,
The way that ad gets hold of me,
The stuff may be worth trying."
For just about a fortnight more
He dared mere words to win him,
And then the ad completely had
Aroused the spender in him.

Next day he drifted in a store
And quietly expended
A few big iron dollars for
The stuff the ad commended.
He found it filled a long-felt need
Its excellence surprised him,
And now he's glad because the ad
So deftly hypnotized him.

THE EVE OF AN ELECTION

(By J. G. Whittier.)

O'er fallen leaves
The West Wind grieves,
Yet comes a seed-time round again;
And morn shall see
The State sown free
With baleful tares or healthful grain.

Along the street
The shadows meet
Of Destiny, whose hands conceal
The moulds of fate
That shape the State,
And make or mar the common weal.

Around I see
I stand by Empire's primal springs;
The powers that be;
And princes meet
In every street,
And hear the tread of uncrowned kings!

Hark! Through the crowd
The laugh runs loud,
Beneath the sad, rebuking moon,
God save the land,
A careless hand,
May shake or swerve ere morrow's noon!

Not lightly fall
The written scrolls a breath can float;
Beyond recall
The crowning fact
The kingliest act
Of freedom is the freeman's vote!

For pearls that gem
A diadem
The diver in the deep sea dies;
The regal right
We boast tonight
Is ours through costlier sacrifice;

Our hearts grow cold,
We lightly hold
A right which men have died to gain;
The stake, the cord,
The axe, the sword,
Grim nurses at its birth of pain!

The shadows rend,
And o'er us bend,
O martyrs, with your crowns and palms—
Breathe through these throngs
Your battle songs,
Your scaffold prayers and dungeon psalms.

To party claims
And private aims
Reveal that august face of Truth!
Wherefore are given
The age of Heaven,
The beauty of immortal youth.

So shall our voice
Of sovereign choice
Swell the deep bass of duty done,
And strike the key
Of time to be,
When God and man shall speak as one!

THE OLD WAY

THE MODERN WAY

The advantage of a good baking powder as a leavening agent instead of cream of tartar and soda is twofold. First, it is scientifically prepared in such a way as to insure satisfactory results. Second, it is much more economical when one considers the high price of cream of tartar.

Magic Baking Powder is guaranteed to be the best and purest baking powder it is possible to produce.
