PATRIOTIC GATHERING AT OPERA HOUSE GRAND SUCCESS

The necessity of using fertilizer was also emphasized. The speaker hoped that increased returns from crops would result in larger expenditures on fertilizer. Commercial fertilizer could be used to meet the scarcity of labor and better care of barnyard manure would have similar results.

Stock improvement also was advocated by Prof. Cumming. He said, however, that there was doubt in his mind as to which was the most important—breeding or feeding of live stock. He had been told by a practical farmer that he should emphasize to a greater extent the necessity of feeding live stock. Clover hay would do much toward better feeding in New Brunswick.

Better care of pastures was also advised. Prof. Cumming gave instances of fertilizing pastures at the Truro Experimental Farm. Basic slag or wood ashes would give fertility to a pasture for five years. Concluding his remarks Prof. Cumming pointed out that in these times of the Empire's stress the question of what should be done was to be answered by every man for himself, and not by reference to what his neighbor might be doing.

Hon. J. B. M. Baxter.

Hon. J. B. M. Baxter, Attorney General of the province, was the next speaker. He said that he believed that a speaker should always be honest in his remarks, whether about agriculture, theology or politics. So he could say that he appeared not as an agriculturist, but as a consumer. (Laughter.) His subject, however, was not to be agriculture, but patriotism.

Patriotism was well exemplified by the boys present in the tartan of Clan MacLean. (Applause.)

British history showed the influence of the farmers. The Magna Charta had been produced by the great landholders, who depended upon the soil for their maintenance. The principle of that document was individual rights and for that Britain and the Allied nations were fighting today. (Applause.)

John Hampden, who had resisted the collection of "Shipmoney" was an English gentleman farmer. He stood for individual liberty.

In 1899 the speaker had been present at one of the milestones in the history of Canada, the departure of the first Canadian contingent for South Africa. Those troops had gone to fight for individual freedom. As the ship went down the St. Lawrence, the soldiers sang no local song—they sang "Rule Britannia." (Applause.) The cohesion of the individuality of British subjects was what had placed the Empire where it was, and made it what it stood for.

The time had come for each man to make his sacrifice and join in the community of effort. It was not for him (Baxter) to say how a man should do his duty, and serve the Empire. It was for each man to think his problem out in his own way, and not to have a course forced upon him, as did the people of Germany.

The war was not over, but it was won. Whether Canada decided for conscription or retained voluntary enlistment, the men would continue to come forward to uphold the glorious traditions of the First Canadian Division.

Hon. Mr. Baxter concluded his remarks with a few sentences in French to the Acadian members of the Farmers' and Dairymen's Association.

G. W. Ganong, M. P.

Mr. G. W. Ganong M. P., of St. Stephen, was next introduced by His Honor. He urged that the advice given by the speakers of the evening should be crystallized into practical form. He proceeded to discuss matters pertaining to the Patriotic Fund. He said that during the period of voluntary subscriptions to the Fund the farmers did not do what they should have done, in proportion to their means. It was not their fault, however, but on account of lack of organization. No man in the province of New Brunswick had given a tenth of his yearly income to the prosecution of the war.

Those who had made the adequate contribution had been those who sent their boys to the trenches.

Mr. Ganong spoke strongly in favor of greater organization of New Brunswick farmers for the purpose of learning the amount of agricultural products which could be raised in New Brunswick for patriotic purposes.

This appeal should be made so no puny politicians could twist it into a conscription circular as they had the National Service cards. He would call the appeal "Patriotic Production and Profit."

PANNICKY CONDITION OF MARKET

THE IMPORTANT POINT

to remember with regard to Zam-Buk is that, unlike ordinary ointments, Zam-Buk is so refined that it is capable of penetrating to the seat of the trouble, which in the case of skin diseases and old sores is found in the diseased underlying tissues. This is due to the fact that Zam-Buk contains no animal fat or coarse mineral drugs whatever, but is entirely of herbal origin. Ordinary ointments, on the contrary, owing to the animal fat and mineral drugs contained in them, are incapable of penetrating beneath the surface skin, so that the relief, if any, can be only temporary.

In addition to this, Zam-Buk is a strong germicide, and having reached the underlying tissues, it destroys all germs and thoroughly cleanses the diseased parts. Then Zam-Buk's healing essences promote the growth of new skin and a permanent cure results.

Zam-Buk is best not only for old sores, eczema, and all skin diseases, but also for blood-poisoning, ulcers, abscesses, boils, scabs, sores, piles, burns, scalds, cuts and all skin injuries. All druggists and stores or Zam-Buk Co., Toronto. 50c. box, 3 for $1.25.
