ONE DAY IN MARCH

It has been written that only a passing few speak in praise of March. That is not fair. Again, an ancient eminent philosopher is on record as saying that "One swallow does not make a spring, nor yet one fine day." Without presuming to refute either statement, it is no more than simple justice to speak of Tuesday as one fine day, to which there was universal response. There is proof now that people who have passed through a rigorous winter are quite generous in their appraisal of a day of sunlight and mild temperature.

However today turns out, we sing of yesterday, which was indicative of the vernal season's rapid approach. Spring never dies. She goes to sleep, to wake again. The waking time is almost here. (See calendar). Furthermore, the robins, meadowlarks, sparrows and cardinals are offering testimony.

As a mother, approaching her sleeping child, tiptoes that she may not startle it, so nature is gentle with waking spring. If the baby turns over and goes to sleep again—ho, hum!—then we must await other days like yesterday.

The Toronto Globe, a newspaper friendly to the prohibition cause in referring to the approaching referendum in Nova Scotia, expresses the opinion that in view of the easy manner in which illicit liquor can be obtained from St. Pierre, it would be doubtful if government stores in Nova Scotia would pay their way in competition with bootleggers. We are inclined to think that our Toronto contemporary is wrong. New Brunswick is not very far from St. Pierre, yet government liquor stores, in this province last year earned a net profit of $800,000, after paying for the support of a police force, which kept the bootleggers in check. The population of New Brunswick is less by 130,000 than that of Nova Scotia.

If Messrs. Lordon and Doucet, members for Gloucester in the Legislative Assembly, will only take the trouble to read the speech delivered by their chieftain, Hon. P. J. Veniot, on the budget in the House of Commons, they will undoubtedly revise their opinions on the exodus. It was one of the members for Gloucester in speaking in the House a few days ago who made the statement that ten people were leaving this province for every one who came here to locate. Surely such a statement will not be applauded or endorsed by Hon. Mr. Veniot.

"It may surprise you," says an editor on the Hillsboro News-Herald, "but we have heard of a man who does not agree with all that we write." No it doesn't. What did surprise us the other day, however, was to find a man who did agree with something we wrote.

Mr. Edison says he does not know anyone who is entirely happy, but as he doesn't hear very well I suppose he seldom meets people and sees that rapturous glow in their eyes as they tell how unhappy they are with all their symptoms, and so on.

Scientist is authority for the statement that an interior temperature of 150 degrees Fahrenheit is good for the offensive little bug known entomologically as cimex lectularius, but personally we don't believe in pampering it to that extent.

Of course a great many lawyers, who draw hundreds of wills, forget to write one for themselves, but we see where the late president of a very large insurance company had a policy and kept the payments right up.

We have an idea that much of this dieting, and other methods that have been employed to obtain a slenderizing effect, have been inspired by the yearn many women have to look well in a rumble seat.

Liquor a thousand years old has been found buried deep in the earth in the environs of Rome. Imagine one of those bibulous old Romans forgetting where his cache was!

In future, we understand, the Southern Pacific will furnish knives with salads on its dining cars, which looks to us like a concession to incompetence and social inferiority.

PROV. POLICE ARE ACTIVE AT VARIOUS POINTS

Another arrest made recently was that of Archie Russel, of Chatham, the charge against him being under Section 69 of the Intoxicating Liquor Act. When he appeared before the magistrate he was sentenced to a fine of $100 and given the option of two of $100 and given the option of two tence.

Noted One.

Joseph O'Dee, noted for his bootlegging activities in the vicinity of Moncton, was captured recently by the police as he was attempting to sell a quantity of liquor to a customer. His trial will commence within a few days. News of these various seizures and violations were received at the Provincial Police headquarters here this morning.

on the market in first class condition, and he affirmed that the horticultural division would give all the assistance possible.

Other Addresses.

Addresses by A. Fulton, chief of markets extension division, Fruit Branch, Ottawa, and by W. T. Macoun, Dominion Horticulturist were also very instructive and were listened to with keen attention by the large number of delegates. Mr. Fulton in his address on "Central Packing Houses", told of conditions throughout the world with respect to packing and marketing of the fruit. He said that higher quality fruits and good varieties will always find a market. The next speaker, Mr. Macoun, took as his subject, "Strawberry Growing" and discussed the importance of this small fruit to the fruit industry. He described the methods of growth and conditions of the soil for their growth. The annual meeting came to a close with the delegates being entertained at the Gaiety Theatre to slides dealing with the production, packing and marketing of fruits.

NOWADAYS YOU PRESS A BUTTON

Or perhaps a switch, or some little gadget, and a lot of things happen around home that lighten labor and banish trouble.

A Whirling Fan brings a cooling breeze, and a little copper, dish-like affair throws out a sizzling blast that warms the room in no time.

Another button boils coffee, toasts bread and cooks waffles. Another does a better job than a broom. Another makes a happy laundress out of a dismal washwoman. Another one cools the ice-box. Another—but why go on?

Labor and time saving devices have come and are today within the reach of the humblest home.

And one of the chief reasons why they have come and why they are within the reach of the humblest home is the power of advertising.

Advertising has carried the news of these better ways of doing things to every home. It has created a desire to possess them, and countless thousands have purchased them, and live better—because of them.

Reading advertising not only tells you about new, mechanical devices for the home, but it is an unfailing reliable products.

READ ADVERTISING REGULARLY. IT POINTS THE WAY TO BETTER LIVING.
