PREMIER BORDEN SPEAKS TONIGHT

(Canadian Press direct wire.)

Halifax, Nov. 14.—Sir Robert Borden, Prime Minister of Canada, will deliver his first speech of the election campaign in the City Market building tonight. He will be supported by the Hon. A. K. McLean, Minister without portfolio in the Unionist government, Senator Lynch Staunton, Hamilton, and a number of local speakers.

Unionist forces were trying today to arrive at an understanding with the Liberals who last night selected Dr. Blackadar and G. A. Redmond as the Laurier-Liberal candidates. These Liberals firmly asserted today that there would be no compromise now that their candidates were officially in the field. It is hoped by unionists that there will be no necessity for a contest in Halifax and that at tonight's meeting candidates acceptable to both factions can be announced.

Those who contend an election here is inevitable dispose of the Halifax situation as follows: Premier Borden or Hon. A. K. MacLean and Mayor Martin, Unionist candidates, Dr. Blackadar and G. A. Redmond, Liberal.

IT COST THEM THEIR JOBS

(Canadian Press direct wire.)

Windsor, Ont., Nov. 14.—Approximately one hundred men who, up to last week held good positions with various manufacturers and mercantile firms in Windsor, Walkerville and in Ford City, found themselves jobless when they reported for work yesterday.

A printed card, upon which their names were inscribed, notified them to "report at the office and to get your pay; your services are no longer required."

The order applied, of course, only to those eligibles who had failed to report themselves at any of the tribunals, nor had claimed exemption.

RUSSIANS MADE NO PEACE OFFER

(Canadian Press direct wire.)

Amsterdam, Nov. 14.—Austrian newspapers print a statement from the official news agency pointing out that neither Vienna nor Berlin has received an actual peace or armistice proposal from the Russian government, and as long as the new rulers of Russia do not submit proposals, the Central powers dare do nothing in the matter, according to a despatch from Vienna.

Should the Maximalists retain the upper hand in Russia and come forward with a peace offer, the Austro-Hungarian government would immediately establish accord with its allies and fix a common attitude.

A just peace without annexations or indemnities is also the goal of the Austro-Hungarian government.

COL. HOUSE IS PLEASED

(Canadian Press direct wire.)

London, Nov. 14.—Colonel House, head of the American mission, called the members to a conference yesterday and received reports on the progress of their deliberations with their British colleagues. He expressed himself as pleased with the splendid spirit of co-operation manifested.

The reports showed that the discussions had accomplished much in overcoming the difficulties heretofore caused by lingering conversations.

POLITICS WARMING UP ON THE NORTH SHORE

Hon. John Morrissey, Won Out in the Liberal Convention Over Mr. W. S. Loggie Ex-M.P.—Latter Afterwards Chosen at a Union Gathering—A Stirring Address By Hon. F. B. Carvell.

Chatham, Nov. 13.—In a day of stirring political events, two candidates were placed in nomination today for the county of Northumberland in the coming election—W. S. Loggie, the late member, as a Unionist, and Hon. John Morrissey as a Liberal opponent of the government.

Hon. Mr. Morrissey was nominated at the Liberal convention at the Royal Theatre, regularly called, after a resolution approving of union government had been defeated by a small majority. With thirty-two delegates supporting Mr. Loggie for the nomination, a split in the Liberal party developed and these delegates withdrew and joined in the enthusiastic nomination of Mr. Loggie at the public meeting in the Chatham Opera House this evening.

With the Conservatives united on Mr. Loggie and a pronounced division in the Liberal ranks, it is conceded that Mr. Loggie, who has represented the constituency since 1900, and always was elected with large majorities, has every chance of re-election.

At the Liberal convention in the afternoon Hon. J. P. Burchill left the chair and Sheriff W. F. Cassidy resigned the secretaryship, to be succeeded by Gerald T. O'Brien.

Big Public Meeting. The Chatham Opera House was filled tonight at the Union Government convention. Hon. F. B. Carvell was present. Mayor W. B. Snowball presided, and on the platform were Hon. Robert Murray and many other leaders of both parties.

The Conservative convention had met at 7.30 o'clock and adjourned to the Unionist gathering.

The nominating committee were out a few moments and unanimously chose W. S. Loggie, and their choice was at once ratified by the audience, who gave Mr. Loggie an ovation.

Mr. Loggie, in a vigorous speech, reiterated the principles laid down in his platform in the Liberal convention in the afternoon. He had regretted parting with Sir Wilfrid, but was compelled to do so as a matter of principle.

Ovation for Mr. Carvell. Hon. Mr. Carvell received another ovation. He was heckled a little at first but soon silenced the opposition. Mr. Carvell declared the twenty-six Liberals who left Sir Wilfrid Laurier had had to do so to obtain conscription. He himself had severely criticized the old government and had entered the union government for the period of the war, and the time required for demobilization. The union Liberals all agreed to the same.

All sorts of questions were asked him by the audience. To one who asked "Why he had not sent his son to the front," the minister said: "God help the cur who said that. I have no son."

His own offer of service had been refused. His son-in-law had gone and died. The Militia Act would take all men between 18 and 45 years. Selective conscription was fairer. He would not have voted for conscription a moment before voluntary enlistment broke down. He took his political life in his hand and cared not whether he won or lost. He would do his duty, no matter what happened.

What would happen if Germany won this war? Civilization would disappear from the earth. Canada needs all the money now she can raise by tariff, by loan or in any way. She is borrowing, her debt now is nearly a billion and a half, more than twice as much will be needed after the war than ever before.

Pensions must be paid, no matter how large. The country must take care of its defenders. A revolution has taken place in this country the last three years. All our preconceived ideas of government and finance may have to be revised.

A voice—"What about home rule?" Mr. Carvell—"I visited Ireland six years ago and came away an ardent home ruler."

He regretted Ireland had not home rule, but we have nothing to do with it in Canada. A referendum on conscription would delay matters far too long. In view of Europe's terrible condition, can anyone justify himself to say that Canada should quit?

Cries of "No, no."

A voice—"Is the Liberal policy to quit?"

Australia's Experience. Mr. Carvell said a referendum now could not be held before May nor finished before June. Australia turned down conscription, failed to get enough men and now is taking another referendum.

"She must adopt compulsion or quit," he said. "You can't fight battles without men." He was right, he knew he was right, and his audience knew he was right. The hundred thousand additional Canadians may aurn the war. Britain had voluntary enlistment and very successfully for the first year, then she had to adopt selective conscription. In old times armies were small, now whole nations are in the struggle and must be thoroughly organized. Men needed in vital industries must not be drafted for battle. He hoped European conditions would never obtain here. Germany has been armed to the teeth since 1870 and compelled her neighbors to do likewise. No freer nation than the United States existed, but they have passed the same military act as we have.

A voice—"What about the franchise act?"

Mr. Carvell—"I did not like all of the franchise act, but there is a bigger question before us than the franchise act. It is shall we go to the succor of our Allies and of our own flesh and blood at the front? Let everyone ask himself, 'shall I vote to save the boys at the front, or for Canada to quit?'"

He could not conceive of people deciding to forsake the soldier heroes. He believed they would stand by their country and see that Canada does her duty in this greatest struggle of the ages.
