BENTON IS ONLY HOPE OF GIANTS IN FLAG DRIVE

New York, July 15—A lot of nice things have been said about Larry Benton during the past week following his successive shutout victories over the Braves and the Cincinnati Reds. The fans have seen in the Red Head's two splendid victories a return to that fineness of form which made him the stand-out right-hander in the league last year, but he gets his real chance to prove that he's really back on the right road today, when he opposes the Cubs in the fourth game of the series.

Benton will just have to be the ace he used to be if the Giants aren't going to be blasted back into the doldrums of despair again, for neither Carl Hubbell nor Freddy Fitzsimmons, who were zooming along very nicely against the rest of the league, couldn't do anything at all when the big opportunity came against the Cubs.

If they had, the Giants wouldn't be one down on the Chicagoans today and fighting for a chance to keep in the running. Even in eking out the one victory out of the three games played so far, the Giants had to do it with their bats, for Bill Walker and the ensuing relief pitchers who finished off for him in the second contest yesterday were no improvement over Hubbell and Fitzsimmons. It was simply a triumph of hitting.

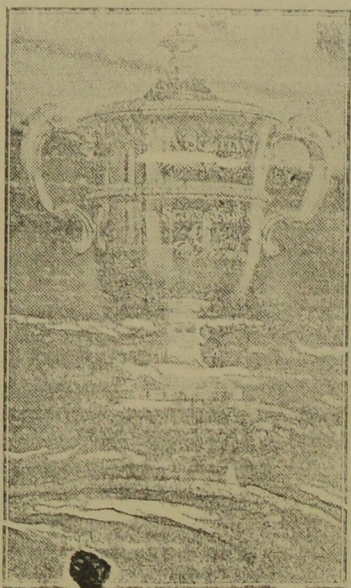

Pat Malone was hardly less effective against the Giants in the opening game than Guy Bush was the day before. With sound pitching before them and none of their own to counter with the Giants looked very helpless indeed. They didn't look like a team that was on its way to winning a pennant.

If Benton can apply the skids to the Bruins today it will give the Giants the chance back again that they had before the series opened to cut down the distance between them. By splitting yesterday's doubleheader, 8 to 3 and 16 to 12, the margin between the teams is still three and a half games, so it's up to Larry to deliver. If he really is the same old Benton he ought to be able to follow his two past victories with another good performance.

TOO OUTSPOKEN

We've got a dear canary,
It's really worth a heap,
But it persists in saying,
"Cheep-cheep, cheep-cheep, cheep-cheep."

THE THORNTON CUP

The above is the Nova Scotia Cup, which will be popularly known as "The Thornton Cup," presented by Sir Henry W. Thornton, K.B.E., President of the Canadian National Railways, to the Royal Nova Scotia Yacht Squadron, Halifax, on his recent visit to the Maritime Provinces. The cup is a magnificent sterling silver trophy, one of the most beautiful assets that the Royal Squadron possesses, and is to be competed for by the new class of yachts, which have been introduced to the Squadron this year, one of which is owned by Lieutenant-Governor Tory. These yachts, six of them, are being built at Shelburne, and were designed by Roue, of "Bluenose" fame.

In one of the industrial towns in South Wales a workman met with a serious accident. The doctor was sent for and came and examined him, had him bandaged and carried home on a stretcher, seemingly unconscious.

After he was put to bed the doctor told his wife to give him sixpennyworth of brandy when he came to himself. After the doctor had left the wife told the daughter to run and fetch threepennyworth of brandy for her father.

The old chap opened his eyes and said in a loud voice: "Sixpennyworth the doctor said."

TOMMY IS ROUNDING INTO FINE CONDITION

Hoosick Falls, N. Y., July 13—Newspaper experts from New York, Philadelphia, Boston and other Eastern cities have swarmed into camp and the expert gallery will watch Tommy Loughran start his finishing training drive here this afternoon. Tommy had intended launching the "big push" yesterday, but a visit to a chiropodist caused him to postpone the drive until this afternoon.

The big toe on the left foot, that is causing all the trouble, was all right this morning and Tommy took the kinks out of his muscles with the first road work in three days.

The champion's schedule calls for eight rounds of boxing this afternoon, Sunday and Monday. Tommy will work lightly on Tuesday and may not box at all because of the danger of an injury or cut. His work on Wednesday will be limited to a good "breather" on the road. He will leave here next Wednesday night for the scene of battle with Long Jim Braddock in the Yankee Stadium the following evening.

Loughran, Trainer Jack Brady, Manager Joe Smith and his whole camp retinue are confident that the champion will outspeed and outsmart the challenger. A large percentage of the newspaper experts who have watched both men in training and who have seen how Braddock has improved in his recent fights, believe there will be a change in the title.

FINE MAN

(From the Boston Transcript)
In twenty years of married life
He never uttered
A hasty word against his wife;
Because—he stuttered.

We never sympathize with people who are blind to our faults.
