OUTLAWING POISON GAS

A sign of the times and a striking illustration that the efforts of the League of Nations are bearing fruit is the agreement lately approved by Germany for the renunciation of poison gas in future wars.

The other great powers have generally approved this procedure, but it is worthy of more than passing notice that the country which instigated this dreadful method of warfare should publicly declare against its barbarity and the terrible suffering it brings to the individual combatant.

The paramount interest of the League is to prevent all war and to substitute arbitration for appeals to force but every mitigation of the horrors of such wars as may occur despite all its efforts is another major ideal in its humanitarian programme.

Even the most sanguine optimist cannot expect this great League will banish war within a few years, since this great body came into existence there have been no less than twelve minor wars waged in various parts of the world, three of which are in progress at the present time. But there is every reason to believe that the League will be a potent factor in preventing great international conflicts and in banishing many of the horrors which made the last catastrophe the most horrible in history.

THE LATE W. S. HOOPER.

In the death of Mr. W. S. Hooper which occurred at his home here last night, Fredericton has lost a useful citizen who will be greatly missed. The late Mr. Hooper was for nearly twenty-five years active in connection with exhibitions here and did a lot to put Fredericton on the map as an exhibition town. He also took an active interest in civic affairs and gave good service to his fellow citizens as alderman and mayor. His death coming with tragic suddenness following that of another popular citizen Mr. Robert S. Barker has greatly shocked the community. The whole hearted sympathy of all will be extended to the bereaved widow.

GENEROUS

The curate was admonishing the village lively one. "You ought not to spend all your wages, George." George retorted that he did not. "No?" queried the curate suspiciously. "No, sir," said George. I make it a rule never to spend more'n two-thirds of my wages on no account whatever." "Well, well," said the curate pleasantly, "you put the rest in the bank, I suppose?" "No," said George, "I put it to a better use than that, sir. I give it to the wife to keep house on."

At the recent session of the New Brunswick Legislature an act was passed providing for the establishment of a provincial museum. The place where the museum is to be established is not stipulated in the act but the claims of Fredericton as the capital of the province, should certainly be taken into consideration. Already we have here as a nucleus the splendid collection of birds and animals known as the Boardman collection, and purchased by the provincial government from the estate of the late Mr. George A. Boardman of Calais. The City Council and Board of Trade should keep an eye on this museum proposition.

The tax rate of the town of Amherst has been fixed at $4.35 for the ensuing year, an increase of 25 cents over the previous rate. The Fredericton tax rate this year will be in the vicinity of $2.60.

At best, chewing tobacco is not a very profitable habit. Teeth-marks left in a plug have just sent a Western burglar to prison.

The idea in having a hotbed for early vegetables is to get something that keeps the heat and moisture in side, like a two dollar raincoat.

NOWADAYS YOU PRESS A BUTTON

Or perhaps a switch, or some little gadget, and a lot of things happen around home that lighten labor and banish trouble.

A Whirling Fan brings a cooling breeze, and a little copper, dish-like affair throws out a sizzling blast that warms the room in no time.

Another button boils coffee, toasts bread and cooks waffles. Another does a better job than a broom. Another makes a happy laundress out of a dismal washwoman. Another one cools the ice-box. Another—but why go on?

Labor and time saving devices have come and are today within the reach of the humblest home.

And one of the chief reasons why they have come and why they are within the reach of the humblest home is the power of advertising.

Advertising has carried the news of these better ways of doing things to every home. It has created a desire to possess them, and countless thousands have purchased them, and live better because of them.

Reading advertising not only tells you about new, mechanical devices for the home, but it is an unfailing to reliable products.

READ ADVERTISING REGULARLY. IT POINTS THE WAY TO BETTER LIVING.
