RYDER CUP TEAM
USE DECKS OF
LINER IN PLAY

The members of America's Ryder Cup golf team, who sailed from New York for England on Wednesday, April 10, to defend the international trophy against the pick of Great Britain's professional linksmen, as well as to play for the British Open championship, will not be lacking for practice during the Atlantic crossing. Every provision has been made to keep the ten golf argonauts in perfect physical fettle for the tests with the Britons at the end of this month and early in May.

Played On 26th

The Ryder Cup matches will be played over the Moortown course, near Leeds, April 26 and 27, and the British open classic will start May 6 at Murfield, near Edinburgh, in Scotland. America's golf argosy embarks shortly on the Mauretania, the greyhound of the seas, and officials of the Cunard Line have just announced that they have arranged to provide the American invaders with every facility to help them maintain their fine golf form on the journey across.

Deck Is Used

A portion of one of the upper decks of the giant liner will be set aside for constant use by Captain Walter Hagen and his mates. Several driving nets will be installed, as well as apparatus registering the distance on drives. Miniature putting "greens" will also be available; also obstacles for chip shots.

Every section of the United States is represented in the Ryder Cup line-up. The East, Middle West, Far West and the South have capable standard-bearers on the array, which consists of the following:

Walter Hagen, captain, Detroit.
Johnny Farrell, Gene Sarazen, and Joe Turnesa, New York.
Horton Smith, Joplin, Mo.
Ed Dudley, Los Angeles, Cal.
Al Espinosa, Chicago.
Leo Diegel, New Mexico.
Johnny Golden, Paterson, N. J.
Al Watrous, Detroit.

RISKO BEAT PORAT

Boston, April 5—Johnny Risko, the Cleveland baker boy, broke his losing streak by battering Otto Von Porat, the Norwegian giant, out of a ten round decision here tonight in the Boston Gardens bout. Risko carried every round. Both scaled 193 pounds.

new members of the squad, all the others, having figured in the overwhelming victory over the British team at Worcester, Mass., in 1927. Smith is the latest scintillant in the golf firmament, and is expected to make a brilliant showing on his first visit to foreign lands. During the Winter campaign just closed, young Smith—he will celebrate his twenty-first birthday in England on May 22—won seven major tournaments, and a total of $15,000 in prize money. These included the $15,000 LaGorce open event at Miami (first prize was $5,000 in cash and $1,000 in gold plate) the Florida open championship at Jacksonville and the North and South open at Pinehurst last week.

Dudley finished second to Smith in the LaGorce classic, two strokes back of the Joplin sensation, and the performances of John Smith and Dudley abroad will be noted with keen interest by golf followers throughout the world.

Hagen Showing

Hagen's showing in the LaGorce tournament, in which he tied for third place, at 292 strokes for the 72 holes of medal competition, only three shots behind the victorious Smith, presages a possible "repeat" for this "lion of the links" in the British open. Recently, Hagen won the International four-ball team championship with Leo Diegel from Farrell and Sarazen in a 36-hole match that was not decided until the final green where Hagen's birdie 3 settled the issue in his favor by one up.

Sporting
Splashes

Pittsburgh fans will smile in relief, now that the other of the two "poison" Warners has signed for the season. In a news reports, no terms were announced, but we surmise that the older Warner, dictated the terms to old Barney. And, as a matter of comment, he certainly is in a good position to do just that. He and his brother Lloyd, have been the batting punch of the Pirates for the past two seasons and both have yet to reach their top form. Paul is no more than 24, while his brother is only 22. We look for these two to have a big season under the big tent. And wot a mess it would have made of the Pirates if they hadn't signed.

It is surprising to realize how many local persons are interested in big league baseball. Though the majority of these fans have never seen a big league game, every scrap of newspaper containing news of the activities of the training camps in the south, trades, etc., is read and absorbed by our big league fans. And in the end, when the World Series is on, there is as much excitement and betting in comparison as goes on in the city where the event is taking place. Queer, isn't it, how some of these red hot ball fans, wouldn't care a hoot about patronizing a local game, and yet will stand by the hour, even in a rain, and listen to a wired account of these far away games, and argue, bet and fume, etc. Must be that old adage, or whatever, which has to do with "distance" and "enchantment," eh

New York judge has ruled a wife has a right to search her husband's pockets, and now, we presume, it won't be long before some smart-aleck jurist bounces to the footlights with a decision making it compulsory for a man to leave something in them for her to find.

This is the fifth of a series of advertisements planned to place the policies and services of the New Brunswick Department of Agriculture more clearly before the people of the Province.

Live Stock Clubs for Boys and Girls

The hope for future successful agriculture lies in the farm boys and girls of today. In recognition of this fact, the New Brunswick Department of Agriculture is featuring Junior Live Stock Clubs.

Swine Clubs have been operating for a number of years. Calf Feeding Clubs were first organized in 1927. Thirty-five Swine Clubs and ten Calf Clubs were in active operation in 1928. Plans are now being made to organize Sheep Clubs.

Boys and Girls Live Stock Clubs have the following objectives:—

1. The development of a better general knowledge of live stock and of feeding and management methods.
2. The development of a greater interest in live stock and in farm life.
3. The encouragement of community effort.
4. The teaching of live stock judging and selection.
5. The training of young people to speak in public and to fill public offices by having them take part in club activities.

Where possible Junior Clubs are established under the auspices of Agricultural Societies. The advice and encouragement that may be given by an adult organization or by individuals with experience in the raising of live stock is of great value in obtaining the best results from club work.

Transportation companies and commercial firms in appreciation of the value of these Boys and Girls Club activities are providing special prizes and transportation of teams from clubs to Provincial and Dominion Club Competitions.
