FAVORITES WON IN SECOND DAY OF MAJOR LEAGUE PLAY

World's Champion Yanks Still Idle at New York
—Athletics Won From Senators 13 to 4—
Crowder Won For Browns — Tigers Scalp
Indians—Cubs on Hitting Rampage in National—Reds Beat Cards.

New York, April 17—Weather conditions improved today to the extent that 3 American League games were played but the Yankees remained idle again. At St. Louis the Browns bagged their second victory over the Chicago White Sox, 5 to 3. Clancy drove in all three Chicago runs with a single and a homer.

At Washington the Athletics ran roughshod over the Senators to win the delayed opening game 13 to 4. The Athletics pounded Jones and Braxton for all of their runs in the first five innings.

George Uhle, former ace of the Cleveland pitching staff, came back against his old teammates and pitched the Detroit Tigers to a 15 to 3 victory over the Cleveland Indians. Averil, Cleveland's $45,000 recruit outfielder, hit his second home run in two days.

National League
Only two games were run off in the National League today, rain postponing the others. At Cincinnati the Reds evened matters with St. Louis by winning 8 to 3. Three double plays aided the Reds to their victory. Bottomley hit a home run into the bleachers with the bases empty.

Rogers Hornsby's home run capped a Cubs' attack at Chicago that netted the home team a 13 to 2 victory over Pittsburgh.

Sporting Splashes

Time hasn't done any great damage to that old "soup bone" of Grover Cleveland Alexander, grand old man, who still chucks them over for the St. Louis Cardinals. The experts considered this tobacco chewing, gangling slab artist through when he was driven from the Cubs several years ago, but the old master wasn't through. He showed this when he hurled the Cards to a World Series practically single handed in the hectic series of 1926. Since then he has performed with stellar brilliancy. Old Alex did not cover himself with glory in the series of 1928, but this can easily be accounted for by the fact that he was not himself in the fall classic last year. Previous to the series illness had weakened his ancient hurling machine, as a result the uncanny control his chief claim to fame, failed him in the punch. Ruth, Gehrig and Co., jumped on him with a crash, for without control the old master is easy meat to his rivals.

In the opening of the big league season on Tuesday, the former Cub pitching ace, handed the ambitious Cincinnati Reds a 5 to 2 setback, allowing only five hits and 2 scores and keeping his opponents in fear of his almost flawless control. The old master may be out to redeem his ineffective display in the fall classic of 1928, and he has plenty of well wishers.

The 43rd season of the International baseball league is under way again, with a new leader at the helm, namely Charles H. Knapp, Baltimore barrister, who has been connected with the Baltimore Orioles for a number of years in the capacity of president, director and captain of the club, alternately. Knapp practically succeeds the late John Conway Toole, former popular head, who passed away early this winter. Knapp, though not vested with supreme power, is chairman of the executive committee with all the powers of president, except two.

Babe Ruth, Sultan of Swat, Bambino of Clout, Home Run Monarch, etc., etc., is taking another venture into the land of matrimony. This time he is tying up with an actress.

Clarence Demar, veteran long distance runner is again picked to win the Boston Marathon. This champion strider is more than 40 years of age.

WOMEN NOW BLAMED FOR TRICK SANDWICHES

(New York Sun)

Time was when a He-Man could go into a restaurant, order a ham sandwich—and get just that. But that was before the wholesale entry of women into business, and now when a New Yorker wants that old standby of a light luncheon this is what happens:

"Gimme a ham sandwich."
"Yes, sir, what kind of bread—white, rye; whole wheat, gluten or raisin?"

"White."
"Lettuce on it?"

"Naw!"

"Russian dressing or mayonnaise?"

"Neither—just plain ham sandwich on white bread."

"Will you have it toasted?"

"No."

"Will you have a pickle or an olive with it?"

"Aw, forget it! Just give me a piece of apple pie."

"Whipped cream on it?"

By this time the He-Man has either fled or committed suicide. The fair sex certainly has ruined things for the males.

He Withdrew

Los Angeles, April 17—James J. Jeffries, ex-world heavyweight champion, who was slated to referee Armand Emanuel-Ace Hudkins catch-weight battle, withdrew from the post. His action resulted in the naming of George V. Blake, a veteran boxing figure and manager of Fidel La Barba, ex-flyweight champion, as the third man for the Wrigley Field bout.

Was Bothered With Severe Headaches Is Not Troubled Now

Mrs. James Rossiter, Riverside, N.B., writes:—"I was bothered with severe headaches, for years, and tried many different medicines, but to no effect. One day a friend told me about and after I had taken three bottles I found it had done me a world of good. Now I don't know what a headache is like. I certainly have great faith in Burdock Blood Bitters.

MYSTERIOUS MISS X HAS BEEN NAMED

Sacramento, Calif., April 16—"Miss X" who posed as having been at a Carmel cottage with Kenneth Ormiston, radio operator, during the disappearance of Aimee Semple McPherson, Los Angeles evangelist, in 1926, was named yesterday on the witness stand, by Mrs. Lorraine Wiseman-Siellaff, in the impeachment trial of Superior Judge Carlos S. Hardy, as having been Miss Rachel Wells, of San Francisco. The witness said that "every line" of the affidavits made by Miss Wells and herself regarding the Carmel episode were "false."

In previous testimony Mrs. Wiseman-Siellaff had declared that "Miss X" was brought into the case in furtherance of a hoax by which it was hoped to convince investigators that Mrs. McPherson was not Ormiston's companion at Carmel. In her direct examination, the witness stated the evangelist had admitted to her that she was with the radio operator while she was supposed to be in the hands of the kidnappers.

WHY ONE OFFICE BOY SCORNS ADVANCEMENT

(New York Sun)

Mr. —, the president of the company, had said, "Now, get that off in a hurry!" His private secretary buzzed for an office boy. Five minutes passed—no office boy. The secretary fumed impatiently and buzzed again. Another five minutes; and at last Irving, the cutest, the most favored of the office boys, strolled nonchalantly to her desk.

"Buzz for me?" he asked.

"Buzz for you!" The secretary

Will Meet

London, April 17—George Bernard Shaw and Mrs. Shaw left today for the Island of Brioni, in the far Northern Adriatic for a holiday month. Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Tunney are staying at the same island for a week.

Last August the author was quoted as saying that he would be "delighted" to know the ex-heavyweight champion boxer of the world. "All I know about Tunney's literary taste is that he disapproves of 'Casnel Byron's Profession,' Mr. Shaw said at that time. "So do I. It shows that he was come taste and that we have something in common."

Pass On Dundee

Washington, April 17—The Supreme Court today refused to pass on the demand of Joe Dundee, the welterweight boxer, that he be paid $10,000 which he claimed had been guaranteed him by the Wisconsin Boxing Club for participating in a contest in Milwaukee in August, 1927.

The club contended that Dundee had agreed to conduct the contest under rules which prohibited clinching and wrestling but that from the beginning until the fight was stopped in the sixth round and declared "no contest" he had violated the rules.

was indignant. "Well I should say that I did—ten minutes ago!" Her ire softened before the comically distressed face of the boy.

"How do you ever expect to become president, Irving?" she asked "acting this way?"

"Don't want to be president?" the secretary was plainly amazed "Why Irving, why not?" she gasped.

"No chance for advancement" was his amazing comeback.
