AGRICULTURAL DEPART. ENTRY FOR FIRST TIME

The Provincial Department of Agriculture for the first time in its history has an entry at the Canadian National Exhibition, and is succeeding in creating interest in the New Brunswick apple output, which, in the past, has been quite overlooked by the Apple Kings, who have regarded Nova Scotia as the sole producer of the Maritimes. This year no apples from Nova Scotia are on display at the National Fair and the New Brunswick fruit is coming into its own. Other exhibits are equally prominent. In a report received in charge at Toronto we read, "I am very glad to tell you that the Irish Cobbler shipment opened up in perfect condition and are one of the finest samples ever displayed by any country, attracting a great deal of attention. The sample of Duchess apples from N. B. were greatly appreciated. They are the only Maritime apples on exhibit." Another shipment for replacement was requested and will arrive the latter part of this week. Maple products are also attracting attention.

Hunter, federal deputy minister of public works, arrived in the city shortly after noon today accompanied by eight friends from the Capital, in the course of an inspection tour along the St. John river of the sixty or so federally owned wharves. The party, which are making a pleasure and business trip in one, are deeply impressed with the scenery along the river and remarked on the splendid avenue entering the city from the direction of St. John.

Mr. Hunter finds the roads superior to corresponding gravel roads in Ontario save for the suffocating dust. He made a visit to the Old Government House and inspected it closely.

Snowden Studies Latest Offer of Allied Powers

British Are Not Expected to Be Sacrificed With Franco-Italian Compromise—French Claim Generous Attitude—Conference Liable to Fail in Case of Refusal.

(Special to THE DAILY MAIL by the British United Press.)

THE HAGUE, August 26—While British Chancellor Philip Snowden studied today the most recent offer of France, Italy, Belgium and Japan supposedly granting 60 per cent of Britain's demands for increased reparation annuities, the British delegation gave intimations that the four powers offer was likely to be refused.

The adjournment of the conference tomorrow without results will be considered a serious possibility.

Betting odds among the conference speculators favor the rejection of the offer by Snowden which inevitably will mean a new crisis.

Offer Made Sunday.

The Hague, August 25—A new allied offer of increased share in German reparations annuities was completed today and was to be handed to Rt. Hon. Philip Snowden, British Chancellor of the Exchequer late tonight. It was expected that the offer would be subjected to severe scrutiny by British financial experts before action is taken on it.

The French, Italian, Belgium and Japanese delegations to the reparations conference succeeded in putting the finishing touches to their offer to Great Britain after four long sessions yesterday and today.

They got together the equivalent in annuities off 36,000,000 marks (about $8,575,200) from various sources.

As the French, Italians and Belgians view it the amount they now offer is just about 75 p. c. of the amount that Mr. Snowden claimed as a fair British share, and which he was not prepared to sacrifice.

YOUNG COUPLE ELOPED FROM NEWCASTLE HOME

A phone call this morning from Magistrate Demars of Newcastle to the headquarters of the Provincial Police here, was to the effect that a Newcastle couple, Martin A. Doyle, aged 24 and his step sister, Kathleen C. Dick, aged 17, had left their home, without a word to relatives. Evidently the two eloped.

The supposition in that vicinity is that the man, who is no blood relation to the girl, has disappeared with her and anxiety is keen on the part of relatives over her safety. Provincial Police are now working on the case and are in search of the missing pair.

There is knowledge that the two left Newcastle on the Maritime Express this morning and it is thought that their destination is Saint John. Should their whereabouts be discovered they will be brought back to Newcastle. Notification was sent to Saint John immediately upon word of their possible reaching of that port.
