ONLY A MIRACLE CAN KEEP A'S AND CUBS FROM COPPING FLAGS

New York, Sept. 10.—Although rain broke up the proceedings at Philadelphia today, after the Athletics had nosed out the Indians, six to five, in the first game of a double header, the pennant bound Macks stepped three notches nearer mathematical assurance of their first pennant in 15 years. The Yanks got only an even break against the Tigers in New York. This combination of circumstances reduced the needs of the Athletics from nine victories to six, as the game with Cleveland cannot be played off and is just as valuable to Mr. Mack as a game won.

George Earnshaw started out after his twenty-first victory, but the Indians pounded him from the box in the seventh. Rommell got credit for the victory.

Jimmy Foxx hit over the left field stand for his thirty second home run of the season. Averill and Hodapp contributed homers to the Cleveland cause.

The second game was halted in the fourth with the Macks ahead by two to one.

The St. Louis Browns took both ends of a double header from the Boston Red Sox, 6-1 and 1-0, behind the airtight pitching of Collins and Coffman.

Collins held the Red Sox to four hits in the first game, forcing in their only run with a pass in the ninth inning.

His mates fell on Russell for four runs in the opening frame and Ray Dohens, former Holy Cross star, finished.

Russell attempted a comeback in the second game and held the Browns to six hits and a single run, scored on errors.

The Yankees got an even break against the Tigers here today by a ninth inning rally which netted four runs and a ten to nine decision. Babe Ruth's forty-fourth home run with two on base tied the score, paving the way for the winning marker a moment later. The Babe hit his forty-third in the opening game, which Detroit won by 8 to 4. The Detroit victory was made possible by a seven run assault upon Pennock and Rhodes in the first three rounds.

National League

New York, Sept. 10.—New York lost the last game it will play in Cincinnati this year by 7 to 5 today. The Giants could do little with Jackie May and got but three hits in the six innings that the portly southpaw was on the mound. He wrenched his throwing arm in the early part of the game, but pitched a couple of innings after that only to give way to Pete Donohue.

Paul Waner's triple, with a recruit named Moskof and the other Waner on base in the ninth inning, gave Pittsburgh a 7 to 6 victory today over Brooklyn in the last game the two teams will play against each other this year. The Buccaneers won the season's series, 13 games to 9.

SALARIES OF BIG LEAGUE STARS SURE TO BE CUT

New York, Sept. 11.—When the major league pennant races are over some of the magnates will disclose a new policy, that of reducing the salaries of players and running expenses. Economy is going to be a watchword next winter and it will not be surprising if certain big leaguers attempt to put over a limit as to the prices to be paid for minor league players.

A majority of the clubs in the rival circuits have come to the conclusion that something must be done to prevent the richest clubs from cornering the best talent in the market. But how a price limit can be fixed is a question that will require much time to answer. It has been suggested that no major league club can pay more than $25,000 for a minor league recruit and that if two or more clubs are willing to pay that sum for the same man, they must draw lots.

Salary Cut

Regarding the reduction of players' salaries, the magnates in some instances admit that there will be a cutting down all along the line. It has been predicted, for instance, that Babe Ruth will not get a contract for $100,000, if only for the reason that a salary of that size would encourage other players to make exorbitant demands.

Dazzy Vance, of the Dodgers has not earned his $25,000 salary this year. He has been in poor physical condition. So has Eddie Roush, whose $25,000 contract with the Giants will not be renewed. There are at least two $20,000 pitchers in fast company who have been overpaid and at least one $18,000 outfielder who has not measured up to requirements.

Expenses will be cut down in connection with the spring training camps and exhibition tours. Most of the magnates are opposed to taking regiments of unskilled youngsters to the camps, where they eat their heads off and do nothing. Another bit of economy, it is said, will apply to sending players out on option, the idea being to reduce the number to a minimum.

A majority of the minor leagues are planning to adopt a similar plan.

In the Old Days when they said it was hard to keep a girl in clothes they had in mind the cost.

followed, the cook was callously thrown overboard. The chief officer attempted to throw over a line, but the soldiers held him.

"After watching the cook drown, the soldiers gave the chief officer a severe thrashing for daring to delay the ship. They also beat the captain because he sounded the whistle. On arrival at Kiukiang the soldiers quit the boat.

Two British steamers, the Poyang and the Siangwo, met with similar trouble a short time ago previous to the Kiangteh episode. The Poyang was boarded by 1300 soldiers at a port called Shasi. They compelled the captain to take them to Hankow. To add insult to injury a detachment of government troops farther down the river opened fire on the rebels, which event transformed a peaceful British river steamer into a rebel troopship.

The Siangwo ran into trouble at Shasi. Two hundred soldiers boarded the vessel and the captain was forced to take them to Hankow. They demanded the best of everything in the way of food and the captain let them have their way.

LAST MINUTE NEWS FOR THE RADIO FANS

David Buttolph, conductor of the Veedol orchestra broadcasts over the NBC System, narrowly missed being a casualty over the weekend. His foot slipped while leaning over the edge of the deck on Harris Bigelow's yacht in Barnegat Bay, while they were fishing for crabs late at night with a flashlight and net.

Alois Havrilla improved the opportunity of a recent visit in Scranton, Pa., to pay his respects to the coal-mining mule named after Milton J. Cross, NBC announcer. Havrilla descended more than a mile below the surface of the earth to find the celebrated animal.

What is believed to be the shortest "applause letter" on record recently was received by the National Broadcasting Company. On a letter head the program title "The Family Goes Abroad" was written. Below it was a rubber stamped "O. K." with the initials of the head of the firm mentioned on the letter head included in the stamp mark.

No genius has as yet constructed a bathing suit that will melt in harmoniously with architectural curves of a fat man, whose front elevation extends beyond the building line, and make an attractive ensemble.
