THE LATE MR. JAMES LEWIS

The death of Mr. James Lewis, M. L. A., which occurred at his home in St. John yesterday creates the second vacancy in the provincial Legislature, the other having been occasioned by the passing last year of Mr. Gordon C. Grant, M. L. A. for York. Mr. Lewis was taken ill in this city on the opening day of the last session and was obliged to return to his home. He was first elected to the Legislature at the general election of 1925 as a supporter of Hon. J. B. M. Baxter. Although possessed of a quiet disposition he was very diligent in the discharge of his legislative duties and no member of the House was more highly esteemed by his fellow members. His death will be deeply regretted and we are sure the heartfelt sympathy of his numerous friends of all shades of politics will be extended to the family in their bereavement.

HOW TO AVOID CANCER

Sir Arbuthnot Lane, on the the leading medical authorities of Great Britain, thinks the healing profession must shift its ground completely if it is to make any headway with the fight against cancer.

Undisputed statistics prove that the death rate from cancer constantly rises. It nearly doubled between 1911 and 1926, the British physician says, and multiplied eight times in less than a century. Therefore a complete change of method on the part of those treating this disease seems necessary.

"I believe," said Sir Arbuthnot, "that the only cure for cancer lies in prevention. It never attacks a healthy organ." Accordingly he reasons that advising the healthy how to keep well is to be the function of the physicians in future. Simple enough if the doctors can do it.

THINKING STRAIGHT

These are the great goods: to think straight and to proceed without fear.

To adopt the policy of thinking straight is to cease to give to ourselves reasons which we know are not real reasons. To think straight means to give up alibis and elaborate explanations and to give up the philosophy of defense. If there is anything worse than doing evil, it is the building of a philosophy of defense. But, somebody says, how do you always know what is the right thing to do? You don't. Nobody does. But we all know, unless we are hopelessly stupid, what we think is the right thing to do. Let's do that, as nearly as we can. We shall not be 100 per cent. Doubtless we shall fail many times. But at least we can learn to think straight.

Pictures of His Majesty the King taken just before his departure from Bognor for Windsor Castle indicate that he is well on the road back to his old time form. His Majesty is shown wearing a fedora hat, and overcoat and also a smile that won't come off. His recovery from the most serious illness of his life has been marvellous.

The bill to provide for the acquisition of the St. John Valley Railway by the Canadian National Railway Company, passed the senate yesterday. It now only needs the royal assent to become law. The price to be paid for the road is $6,000,000. The purchase of the Valley Railway by the Federal government will mean much to New Brunswick.

Tomorrow will be the 110th anniversary of the birth of Queen Victoria of blessed memory. May 24th has been a public holiday for ninety-two years and will continue to be one as a mark of respect for the noble woman whose reign was the longest and most glorious in British history.

Having in his time, watched many women try to shuffle a deck of cards, the Office Crab was prepared for the news that a Nebraska bridge player has dislocated her shoulder.

Window cleaners in New York are on strike, but it is expected that everything will be amicably adjusted as they are used to seeing things from both sides.

Except for rounding up the paymasters, the matter of the Mexican revolution seems to be quite well cleaned up at this time.

A hotel man in Europe has a library of 15,000 volumes, covering the subject of wine. You could keep a lot of wine behind 15,000 books, too.

Money may not make for happiness, but we've yet to find anyone who got great comfort out of poverty.

Nature generally makes compensations. The fellow with a weak mind very frequently has a strong back.

NATION-WIDE CONCERT

A score of internationally famous artists and four celebrated orchestras, calling into play the services of four studios and the combined facilities of thirty-seven stations associated with the National Broadcasting Company will send "Ninety Minutes with Victor" from coast to coast, Friday night, May 24, in perhaps one of the most pretentious musical broadcasts in the history of radio.

VIEW GRAND CANYON

The dizzy view from the brink of the Grand Canyon holds no terrors for Billie Jones and Ernie Hare, the Interwoven Pair. In fact, the sweeping panorama will move them to song, as they poise on the rim of nature's great excavation in Arizona, Friday night May 24. Their musical reaction to the scene will be broadcast over the NBC Coast-to-coast System at 10.00 o'clock, Atlantic Standard Time.
