Other Creditor Nations at The Hague Conference—French and Italian Ministers Defend the Plan.

(By FREDERICK KUH, British United Press Staff Correspondent.)

THE HAGUE, August 7—Great Britain's campaign for a complete revision of the Young plan was assailed by other creditor powers at today's secret session of the International political and reparations conference with the French and Italian delegates leading the assault.

Antonio, Mosconi, and Henri Cheron, Finance Ministers of Italy and France, ardently defended the Young plan as agreed to in Paris by the conference of reparations experts headed by the American, Owen D. Young, and asserted that the plan must be accepted as an indivisible whole or not at all.

Will Ratify Treaty.

London, August 7—In spite of the severe denunciation of the new Anglo Egyptian draft treaty, details of which were made public yesterday by the Foreign Office, by the Daily Express, and the milder criticism of other Conservative newspapers, there is little doubt today in government quarters that the British Parliament will ratify it if it accepts its provisions.

REPORT ON THE DISAPPEARANCE OF ANGUS BOOM

The first response to the article published in The Mail last night concerning the mysterious disappearance of Angus Boom was from Col. W. H. Gray of Marysville, who is still confined to his home through illness.

The Colonel has a good recollection of the missing man and states that he was attached to the R. C. R. division station here some twenty years ago. Boom, he says, was of short, stout build. This corresponds to the letter from Maine which declares that Boom has been employed by their company for nearly twenty years.

Col. Grey states that Boom was a resident of Waasis or Russiagornis to which place the letter was forwarded but apparently fell into the wrong hands.

CAR ACCIDENT ON SMYTHE ST. LAST NIGHT

When the truck driven by Cecil Ferris, vegetable vendor, ambled over Smythe Street and the touring car piloted by Lloyd Colter, headed up Brunswick Street for the Woodstock Road, met for the first time their introduction was a trifle upsetting and as a result both cars overturned while all varieties of vegetables, apparently convicted to execution between crunching molars and bicipids made a mad dash for liberty and rolled all over the road.

Fortunately none of the persons concerned were seriously hurt. The affair was entirely accidental and no blame can be attached to either party as speed regulations were meticulously observed.

RECEPTION TO LOCOMOTIVE ENGINEERS

Annual Convention Being Held at Moncton—Mr. Appleton Praises Labor Organizations—Governor and Premier Speak.

Moncton, N. B., Aug. 7—As for Labor organizations, we could not get along without them. Declared W. U. Appleton, General Manager of the Atlantic region of the Canadian National Railways when speaking to-night at the official reception to the delegates attending the convention of the Canadian division of the Brotherhood of Locomotive engineers being held at Moncton. He conveyed to the delegates the sincere regret of S. J. Hungerford, vice-president of the National system at his inability to be present but owing to the immensity of the system extending as it does from the Atlantic to the Pacific Mr. Hungerford could not find it possible always to be present at all the functions he would like to attend. Mr. Appleton referred to the high standing of the members of the brotherhood of Locomotive engineers and of the great responsibilities that are placed upon the man at the throttle of our modern trains.

The Passenger today Mr. Appleton said expects to be carried on a smooth road and be on time regardless of the elements and if he does not the railway soon know it. In referring to the number of railway men who claim the Maritime Provinces as their home Mr. Appleton stated "we supply all the bank managers and railway men for all of the other provinces"

He expressed his regrets at the absence of Grant Hall, vice-president of the Canadian Pacific Railway who once lived in Moncton and was employed on the old Intercolonial Railway, but remarked the pleasure it gave him to see he was so ably represented by Mr. Jasper Humphreys his assistant who is also a Maritime man, being born near Moncton. The proceedings were broadcast from station CNRA of the Canadian National Railways chain at Moncton and loud speakers were installed in one of the city parks nearby so that those who were unable to be present could hear the various addresses by prominent speakers including the Lieut. Governor of the province, the Premier of the province, the postmaster general of Canada, Senator Logan, Hon. A. J. Leger, Hon. E. A. Reilly and others.

PRINCE GEORGE NOT IN THE BEST OF HEALTH

(Special Cable to THE DAILY MAIL by the British United Press.)

London, Aug. 7—It was believed here today that the royal family was concerned over the health of Prince George, one of the King's sons, who recently cancelled all public engagements and also abandoned his work in the Foreign Office because of indisposition.

DOUBLE OF A BANDIT FEARS WIFE'S IRE

Chicago, Aug. 7—Herbert Taylor, of Elmhurst wouldn't mind so much being thrown in jail every few days because he happens to resemble Willie Doody, gunman, mail robber and desperado, if it weren't for the fact that it's difficult to explain things at home.

The last time it happened, yesterday, he asked Chief of Police Ellsworth J. Mitchell of Hindsale to write out an explanation he could show to his wife.

"She's getting suspicious of my alibi that I've been in jail when I don't come home at night," he told the chief.

"And please write me out a 'To whom it may concern,' explaining who I am."

GAME WARDEN REPORTS BREAK IN THE NORTH

Several Moose Found Dead in Restigouche County, Two Men Arrested as Suspects.

Chief Game Warden H. H. Ritchie, who has resumed his duties on the completion of the ten days course at Petarawa in, which he participated in the capacity of major of the 28th. Battery Canadian Field Artillery, has already been active in connection with an illicit piece of business in Restigouche County where three persons have been killing moose despite the vigilance of officials. Two of the suspected men were apprehended by wardens and brought before Magistrate. They elected to turn King's evidence, implicating a third party to thus ensure their own release. The Provincial Police have been notified of the situation and the name and description of the culprit is being withheld by authorities to facilitate "inside" investigation.

Moose Migration

When questioned about the ultimate migration of New Brunswick moose to Nova Scotia, prophesied last year when Albert and Northumberland sowed the stamping ground of the majority of the antlered monarchs, Mr. Ritchie exploded the theory by pointing out that this year the majority of big game seems to prefer the north of the province. He attributes this restlessness to the search for rich feeding grounds which seem to vary from year to year. Gloucester county reports the largest number of moose to date although Northumberland County is well stocked. Deer are plentiful in all parts of New Brunswick.

At this time of year the moosefly, of a species closely akin to the horse-fly is pestering the forest king and he is making his appearance in the clearings to escape relentless insect. Mr. Ritchie is of the opinion that this accounts for the visit of Miss Moose to our city some days ago.

This sort of thing also throws temptations in the way of certain persons resulting in incidents parallel to the Restigouche affair, and necessitating the most incisive vigilance on the part of officials.

One swallow does not make a summer but one cantaloupe can spoil a day.

NEW YORK MAN HAD GOOD TIME AT HARTT' POOL

W. J. Maier Spent the Day There as the Guest of Mr. T. H. Estabrooks and Hooked and Landed His First Salmon.

"We have had a most enjoyable day of it and I am delighted to know that my New York friend, Mr. Maier has had the thrill of hooking and landing a salmon," declared Mr. T. H. Estabrooks of St. John, head of the T. H. Estabrooks Company, Limited, tea importers, in a statement to the Mail last evening. Mr. Estabrooks, in company with his friend, Mr. W. J. Maier of New York and his son-in-law Mr. H. R. Reynolds of St. John, motored from his summer home at Lincoln yesterday morning to spend the day whipping the waters of the Hartt's Island salmon pool. They stopped long enough in the city to pick up Mr. Raymond Currie, the well known angler's guide whose services they had engaged.

On arrival at the pool Mr. Estabrooks decided to fish on the "bar" while Mr. Maier was assigned to a canoe under the care of Mr. Currie. Mr. Maier, it seems had caught bass, trout, and deep sea fish, but this was his first try at the fighting Atlantic salmon. Mr. Estabrooks had been fishing little less than an hour when he hooked a six pounder and after playing it sufficiently long to get it halter broken, handed the rod over to Mr. Maier, who eventually brought the fish to the gaff. Mr. Maier's wife and daughter who are guests with him at Mr. Estabrooks' summer home, arrived at the pool just after the fish had been landed and secured several snapshots of it.

Landed Another

After luncheon Mr. Maier returned to the canoe, and in a short time succeeded in landing another nice grilse. That he was pleased with the sport, which the fighting fish provided for him goes without saying. Before leaving the pool he engaged Mr. Currie's services for another trip in September and plans to bring a friend along with him.

Mr. Currie stated that he had guided many non-residents on fishing trips but he never knew a man, who seemed to enjoy catching a salmon more than did Mr. Maier.
