UNITED STATES TARIFF BILL WAS PASSED BY CONGRESS; MANY IMPORTANT CHANGES

Washington, May 28—A tariff bill which would have a considerable effect upon Canadian exports to the United States, was passed by the House of Representatives today by a vote of 264 to 147.

The bill now goes to the Senate.

A last minute amendment adopted today would place an import of 20 per cent. ad valorem on wheat entering the United States under bond through export.

The bill, which is the first extensive United States tariff legislation in 11 years, makes changes in the duties on thousands of commodities, including sugar, which item holds the greatest interest of the American public at large.

May Alter Commission.

The measure also provided for a re-organization of the Tariff Commission and the granting of increased power to the President in the matter of changing rates. When it goes to the Senate, the finance committee plans to hold extensive hearings before reporting it for consideration on the floor.

With plans underway for an all-summer recess, it was the opinion of Republican leaders tonight that the proposed legislation would not be taken up by the Senate itself for several months.

The Canadian commodities chiefly affected would be products of the farm cedar shingles and hardwood lumber.

Rates Increased.

The bill increases the rates on cattle, swine, sheep, wool, beef, lamb and pork, hides, leather, boots and shoes; milk, cream butter and cheese; flaxseed potatoes, canned tomatoes, peas, beans and buckwheat; shingles, cedar boards and planks, and maple and birch lumber.

Numerous imports to the United States from other countries would also be affected by the provisions of the bill, which is 80,000 words in length. President Hoover has expressed his dissatisfaction with the extent of the bill, and it will have a hard roar to travel in the Senate. The pressure of farm interests, for whose special benefit the extra session of Congress was called, may bring about a lessening of the duties placed upon building materials, including shingles and hardwood lumber before Mr. Hoover signs.

Canada is Hit.

One of the most drastic clauses of the bill from the Canadian point of view, is the placing of a 20 per cent ad valorem duty on shingles. The manufacturers of British Columbia last year sold nearly three-quarters of their output in the United States, and valued the business at $7,000,000. Potato growers of Prince Edward Island and New Brunswick would be adversely affected by the increase of the duty on potatoes to 75 cents a hundred-weight instead of 50. Western Canada would feel the doubling of the beef rate of three cents and the increase of a half cent on light cattle and a cent on heavier stock. Upon Saskatchewan would fall most heavily the rise in the flaxseed duty to 63 cents.

Under a presidential ruling there is already a duty of 56 cents a pound on flaxseed, but the old rate was 40 cents. Ontario and the milk territory of Quebec would feel the milk and cream rates. President Hoover had already put higher rates on these commodities into effect.

CASUALTY LIST HEAVY

Jerusalem, May 29—More than 1,000 were reported killed in a battle between two Nejd tribes southeast of El Sarar in Central Arabia, advices received here today said.

WISDOM & KNOWLEDGE.

As Canadians we are proud of Canada, of its romantic past, and of its wonderful future. We speak of it with pride, of its vastness, and off its beauty; but to those of us who have not visited its many parts, the knowledge we have it sometimes dangerous. Knowledge of any kind advances by steps and not by leaps. And now an opportunity is knocking at your door to give you a chance to increase your knowledge regarding Canada as she really is. Professor Laird of MacDonald College, Que., bearing this fact in mind, has arranged with the Canadian Pacific Railway to conduct a tour across Canada and back, leaving Toronto by a special train on July 22nd, the round trip occupying in all twenty one days. And during that time Canada's beauty will be unfolded to you. Just think of it; all the beauty spots in the Rocky Mountains Banff, Lake Louise, Emerald Lake, Yoho Valley, The Kootenay Country, the delightful motor drive from Banff to Windermere of 104 miles, and the equally charming drive from Field to Lake Louise, of 40 miles, any many other trips, the whole making up a tour which fascinates.

The details of the tour are now ready, and can be obtained by application to G. E. Carter, District Passenger Agent, Canadian Pacific Railway, 40-42 King Street, Saint John, N. B., or to Prof. Sinclair Laird, Box 226, MacDonald College P. O. Que.

A Real Sportsman.

The late Mr. James S. Neill, who founded the hardware concern of James S. Neill & Sons, Limited, of this city, was one of New Brunswick's foremost sportsmen and was especially interested in salmon angling. In 1903 he organized the first fishing expedition to the Hart's Island pool and was present when the first salmon was taken there on a fly by Joseph Walker of this city, who was his companion on the trip. Since that time as many as four hundred salmon have been taken by fly fishermen from the Hart's Island pool in a single season.

tary treasurer of the "Living Message" and the Secretary treasurer of the Little Helpers organization. Votes of sympathy were taken and sent to Mrs. J. Lee Day. Mrs. McIntyre read the report of the Extra Cent A Day campaign for the year which proved very encouraging.

The noon day address and prayer was given by Very Rev. Dean Neales at twelve o'clock and was listened to with great interest by the delegates. A resolution of regret was passed on the absence from the session of Mrs. Smithers who was unable to attend.

It was arranged that the missionary meeting which was to have been held this evening in the Memorial Hall will take place in the Cathedral instead. Mrs. Gilbert Ferabee, of Montreal Dominion president of the W. A., and daughter of the late Dean Partridge spoke last night and will speak several times at the session now taking place.
