JUST TRYING TO GET ALONG

I never would mention to you, my dear.

(From the Kansas City Star)
If I loved you as I should
(This I say with knocks on wood)

I should order English stew
Not capon when I'm out with you;

Instead of taxiing, we'd walk;
Instead of theater, we'd talk;

A glittering diamond lavaliere,

Nor would I shed a tear or two
Upon your vest when rent is due.
(For luck I'll knock again on wood, Lest I might love you as I should.)

—DOROTHY BELLE FLANAGAN

He: Darling, if you'll marry me
I'll quit smoking, drinking, and—
She: And if I don't?

He: I'll start!—Yellow Jacket.

WOMEN'S COLUMN

SPORT UNDIES, SCANTYS BRIEFS

(New York Sun)

Despite the much-talked-about return of Dame Fashion in the feminine role of an earlier generation, lingerie is distinguished chiefly by its scantiness. The voluminous frills and furrows of grandmother's day have no affinity to the limited underwear of Miss 1929, although the simplicity which characterized lingerie of recent years has given place to masses of lace in line with the dominating dressmaker influence so apparent throughout the new summer wardrobes.

The new sports underwear, like the new French sports frocks, is cut to allow maximum freedom for waist, arms and legs, and a suntan at the neck. Colors and fabrics may match or contrast, and while sports lingerie must be intrinsically simple for practicality, it is far from plain this year, yet is so carefully tailored that there is no extra fullness anywhere.

One novel combination undergarment utilizes crepe in the new egg-shell tone. The sun-tan neckline is bound in self-material and the one-piece garment has bloomer legs whose elastic bands fasten with hooks or snaps. This cool, dainty garment alone is a perfect foundation for a tennis frock.

TUCK-IN SHIRT

The tuck-in shirt in plain colors is being shown for wear with shorts in checks and stripes. All pastel colors and street shades are available, and silk crepe, cotton broadcloth, wash satin and radium silk are the favored fabrics.

Scallops appear, and bias bands of contrasting colors give individual touches. Tucks, hemstitching and stitching make smart, interesting designs without sacrificing the "tailored" appearance of the garments.

BACKLESS BANDEAUX

The bandeau and shirt are often combined in one garment, and the separate bandeau for wear with matching or contrasting colored shorts is still a favorite. Some of these models hook under the arm, and others are backless for wear with the new sun-tan backless sports dresses, in deep U or V style.

SHORTS ON YOKES

Shorts are set on yokes to conform closely to the line of the figure, or softly pleated and gathered to give the desired fullness without bulkiness. One model has lacings half way up the sides, another has demure box pleats at the seams.

The new printed cotton fabrics are dainty and smart, and are particularly effective when combined with bands of matching solid colors. Natural pounce is also a practical medium, and checked gingham is different and chic.

A chemise and shorts of flesh crepe satin for sports wear use two sides of the material. The brilliant side is used for yoke and knee bands and mounted on the dull part with hemstitching.

WHEN A CHILD IS FEVERISH, CROSS, UPSET

Colic, gas, sour belching, frequent vomiting, feverishness, in babies and children, generally show food is souring in the little digestive tract.

When these symptoms appear, give Baby a teaspoonful of Phillips Milk of Magnesia. Add it to the first bottle of food in the morning. Older children should be given a tablespoonful in a glass of water. This will comfort the child—make his stomach and bowels easy. In five minutes he is comfortable, happy. It will sweep the bowels free of all sour, indigestible food. It opens the bowels in constipation, colds, children's ailments. Children take it readily because it is palatable, pleasant-tasting.

In buying, be sure to get genuine Phillips Milk of Magnesia. Doctors have prescribed it for over 50 years, bought last year.

Singletons, those most comprehensive garments which combine brassiere, shirt, girdle and panties, are as much favored for sports wear this season as last.

TALES OF A TRAVELER

"We slept under blankets every night."

"The people in our party were just like one big family."

"One the nicest people. The management is very particular."

"Every morning I'd go out and catch enough fish for breakfast."

"The old bus took every one of those hills on high."

"Anything you wanted to drink if you had the price."

Dry, Hacking Cough Was Caused By A Bronchial Cold

Mrs. A. Primeau, 36 Ingram St., Chatham, Ont., writes:—"I am pleased to take this opportunity of telling you of my experience with

Dr. Wood's
Norway
Pine
Syrup

Early last winter I suffered from a severe bronchial cold that left me with a provoking, dry, hacking cough. After being bothered with it, both day and night, for some time I had a professional nurse recommend the above cough syrup which I took with wonderful results, and, now, it is the only remedy I ever use for colds."

Save the Surface and Save the Road

Let Common Sense Guide You in the Use of
New Brunswick Roads

YOU as a good citizen of New Brunswick realize the necessity of keeping the roads—your property—in good condition. You should not damage the roads yourself, and, so far as possible, you should prevent others from doing so.

If New Brunswick roads are damaged by an overloaded truck or high powered passenger car travelling at an excessive speed, it may take weeks of time and thousands of dollars to effect repairs. In the meantime the roads, so damaged, give the Province a bad name.

The cost of repair and maintenance of New Brunswick roads averages nearly $3000 per day. Help to keep the cost down and at the same time assist in making New Brunswick Highways better by suiting your load and speed to the conditions of the road, keeping well within the law. Save the surface and save the road.

Should you break the law you cannot blame anybody but yourself if you are apprehended and have to pay a fine.

Your co-operation in making New Brunswick roads safe and good for the proper use of the people is sought. Thank you!

New Brunswick Department of Public Works
