DAYS WITHOUT MELODY

"Sweet is the nut, but bitter in his pill."

Leon Trotsky, in poor health and exiled from the scene of his well-known exploitations, is an unhappy man. They say he is bitter, but not as the nut. Germany has refused to admit him, and he has had to unpack his belongings and remain in the outskirts of Constantinople.

But even so, Trotsky might be in a worse position. He is resourceful, and a man engaged in writing his autobiography has most of his material with him. Germany's refusal to let him in may furnish him material for an added chapter in the story of a life that has been precarious and in many ways spectacular.

Trotsky doesn't invite much sympathy. The man who, given his way, would have made a mess of all government organizations, now has no country he can call his own. To one in his fix the autobiography may give him his one remaining source of pleasure.

The days of Trotsky seem to have been without melody.

CONCERNING POLICY

Policy is a very important word. One thing we ought to get as early in life as we have intelligence to devise it—and that is a policy. We ought to lay out for ourselves a definite course of action. There will always be deviations and exceptions. We shall doubtless fall short of our expectations. We must accept such failures and not be too disheartened by them. We should not change our policy unless we have sound reasons and much evidence for doing it.

APOLOGIES

Some folks refuse to make an apology when they have merely been misunderstood, although they have hurt somebody else very much. They think they are absolved because their intentions were right, although they did not make themselves clear. The fact is they are guilty and owe an apology just the same. Just because one cannot make himself clear does not excuse him for hurting an other.

It is rather amusing to see the claim being put forward by some prohibitionists that the elimination of the bootlegger in New Brunswick is due to the efforts of Federal excise officers, rather than to the provincial police. On the other hand we have the report of Rev. D. K. Grant, inspector in chief under the Nova Scotia Temperance Act, that bootlegging in that province is due to lax enforcement of Federal laws. If Federal officers can enforce laws in New Brunswick under government control why cannot they do the same thing in Nova Scotia under prohibition?

Mr. T. W. Caldwell, ex-M. P. for Carleton was among those who appeared at Ottawa in opposition to the Cooper Dam bill. While Mr. Caldwell is a farmer and potato grower, an Ottawa despatch states that he opposed the bill "in the interests of the fishermen." Oh, politics, what jokes are perpetrated in thy name!

General Escobar, the rebel commander down in Mexico wants to appear in the movies. We fear the General is too fast for any movie camera.

A text book weighing eight pounds has been authorized for children in the seventh grade in Kentucky schools to build up their arms.

What makes a wife wild is to see her husband smiling beatifically in his sleep, and talking in too low an undertone for her to catch anything.

The lisping lady is not wanted in the talkies. Imagine how it would sound if one of them made casual reference to her liphth thtick?

No one else can be as indignant about this or that as a thoroughly guilty gentleman who has just been freed by a jury.

The English infant of 18 months who puffed at an old briar pipe in a courtroom should be easy to find in the dark.

The fact that man is made of dust is no reason why other men should further plaster him with mud.

THROUGH OUR SIEVE

Simile: As busy as a camera at a family reunion.

Outlawing jazz has been proposed, but it will die sooner if let alone.

When a general stands with his back to the wall in Mexico he catches cold.

Cincinnati has decided when a man is drunk. He probably sang "Sweet Adeline."

It'll soon be the season when the average man will realize that it was very foolish to keep last summer's straw hat through the winter.

Possibly there are times when calling a spade a spade is all right, but there is no excuse at any time for calling a spade a damned spade.

A Missouri girl has brought suit against her father for $100,000 damages because he whipped her. He probably forgot to use the formula. "This hurts me worse than it hurts you."

FOUR AT A BIRTH

San Francisco April 26—Quadruplets three boys and a girl, were born here yesterday to Mrs. Veto Nauro, 37 years old. One of the boys died shortly after birth, but the other three babies and the mother were reported to be doing well. The Nauros have three other children. The father is a boot black.

Large Market Today

Phoenix Square market place was well filled with farmers this morning with their usual lines of country produce. In several articles the prices have dropped considerably, notably, potatoes, eggs and veal. The former sold for $1 and 75 cents per barrel, while eggs were plentiful at 30 cents per dozen. Large quantities of veal were in the market at 10 and 4 cents. The first run of gaspereau from places down river were in the market this morning. The price of this fish treat was 30 cents per dozen. Some of the farmers were selling them for five cents a piece. Other prices were as follows: Lamb 19 cents per pound; beef 12 and 15 cents; apples $2 to $5 per barrel; turnips $1 per barrel; pork 17 cents per pound.

RADIANT GIRLHOOD

Comes Through Rich, Red Health-Giving Blood.

A girl with a full-blooded body and vital nerves has the foundation of an active, healthy life. Allow her to grow wan and delicate and prolonged ill-health and general weakness may be the result. Many women who ought to be in the very prime of life are too frequently sufferers of headaches, back and side aches, easily tired and breathless, because of anaemia which stealthily attacked them in girlhood.

But fortunately there is a remedy within easy reach. Thousands of tired, worn-out women and delicate girls who have sought the self-help of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are grateful for the way in which these pills have restored them to robust fitness. This effective tonic and nerve restorer always helps to make plenty of rich, red blood that speedily puts an end to anaemia. A wan, delicate girl, or tired, weary woman soon becomes brighter when this new blood courses through the system. Color comes to her cheeks and lips; her appetite increases; her nerves are steadied, and she becomes vital and active again. The following is an example, from among thousands of what these pills have done and can do: Miss C. J. Martin, Kitchener, Ont., says: "For several years I was greatly distressed with pains in the back and sick headaches. I felt tired all the time, did not sleep well and had a poor appetite. I had been doctoring, but did not get much relief. My sister advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and after taking six boxes I felt like a new person, and will not be without the pills again."

You can get the pills from your druggist, or by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.
