Visitor to Laundry Sees Specially Built hirts and "Mangling" hirts and Collars

(Chicago News.) The visitor was being shown the ough the laundry by the proprietor.

"This row of machines here," said) the proprietor, "is our button department. Notice the shirts going through. If you will observe closely you will see that the buttons are being clipped off four at a time. See-here are the shirts coming out of the machines. And every button is gone. Simple-isn't

"Wonderful!" exclaimed the visitor. And what are those machines over here that look like drpo forges?

"Ah, that is the latest invention. Come here and I'll show you. Notice the operator passes the cuff into the machine. The cuff is folded automatically back upon itself-so! Now observe the hammer weighing eight tons. There—it has dropped upon the cuff Now see the result—the cuff, you will observe, has been cracked straight ment told the sympathetic visitors to get her one of the handsome hel- across where it bends on your wrist. who gathered round his bed that he mets worn by the German officers. I Ever see neater work? These mawas fighting from Monday morning did try, but all I got was an ordinary chines have saved us thousands of dollars. Formerly we had to crack all our cuffs by hand. Very often with a new shirt of extra good quality it would take even our best operators half a nhour to crack them with a small mallet.

"You certainly have a modern plant, bserved the visitor. "Now I should ike to see how you handle the collars if you don't mind."

"Certainly. Right this way. This little apparatus we call our collar slitter. Invented by the Germans, of course. Watch the operator closely.

The collars, you will see are being shoveled in by the ton. They come out all neatly notched or slitted at the out all neatly notched or slitted at the bend in front. The work of the machine is very clever. The collar does not show the slit until after have put your tie in it and buttoned the collar to your shirt band. When you draw your tie into place the collar ters back exactly half an inch on either side. Perfectly simple!" declared the proprietor with pride.

The visitor began to weep.

"Why, what is the matter?" exclaimed the proprietor in alarm.

"Nothing—nothing," replied the man between sobs. "I—I just saw some of my own collars coming out of that ma-

THE PRICE OF HOMAGE

NCE when King Edward VII. paid a visit to Sheffield, all the fires in factories and plants were allowed to die out. Not a wheel in Sheffield turned for twentyfour hours. C. The primary object of this was to lift the pall of smoke that hovers over that wonderful steel-producing city, and to ensure, as far as man was able, a bright day and a blue sky for an auspicious occasion. C. It was Sheffield's expression of respect.

UT the action was unique—it was unprecedented—it was unthought of that those hundreds of mighty furnaces, raging night and day, and those seething boilers, with quivering valves, should ever be allowed to cool. This extinguishing of fires cost Sheffield hundreds of thousands of dollars—the price of the effort to get back again to high-power efficiency.

OME business men in Canada pay an unwitting homage, not to a king, but to a superstition—the superstition that hot weather justifies letting the fires of business energy go out. They stop Advertising in the Summer months. By paying homage to tradition, custom, superstition, they have allowed Summer to become their "dull" season. QYou know how dull it can be when you don't advertise. Do you know how brisk it can be made by Advertising? Do you realize how much momentum you now lose in the Summer that must be regained in the Fall?

DON'T LET YOUR ADVERTISING FIRES DIE OUT THIS SUMMER.

Advice regarding your advertising problems is available through any recognized Canadian advertising agency, or the Secretary of the Canadian Press Association, Room 503 Lumsden Building, Toronto. Enquiry involves no obligation on your part—so

S it nothing to you that men from all round you have sacrificed home and salary, safety and life, to defend your home as well

Is it nothing to you that their wives and families tremblingly scan each casualty list, and pale at the step of the postman or telegraph messenger?

Can you see others giving their dearest, without feeling that you must do something yourself? Do you wonder what to do? You can at least save—and lend your savings to the nation.

Canada needs every dollar her loyal sons and daughters can spare, to meet the growing expenses of the struggle. Every dollar you invest in Canadian War Savings Certificates helps the nation to deal generously with those who are defending you. Certificates in denominations of $25, $50 and $100, repayable in three years, may be purchased at any Bank or Money Order Post Office at $21.50, $43 and $86 respectively. This means over 5% interest—making them a profitable as well as a patriotic investment.
