C.P.R. Solicitor Killed in Action

THE Canadian Pacific Railway has lost another of its valued servants at the front. Lieut. Jas. McNaught, a Scotchman by birth, was one of the company's solicitors, with office in Montreal, and his death was recently reported in the casualty list. Lieut. McNaught was one of the most popular officials of the C. P. R. He was born at Walkersburn, Scotland, thirty three years ago, and came to Canada in 1906, after qualifying as a solicitor in Edinburgh. Shortly after his arrival he joined the law department of the railway company. His abilities were quickly appreciated by those in higher authority, and his efforts were rewarded by a promotion as Assistant Solicitor on Jan. 1st, 1912. It was nearly three years afterwards that Lieut. McNaught was made one of the solicitors of the C. P. R., but when the war broke out, like many other Scotchmen, he had the fighting fever. He commenced his training with the McGill Battalion in the summer of 1915. On Nov 17th, the same year, he went back to Scotland and enlisted for active service in the Royal Scots as a private. He trained all through the winter until June, 1916, when he was selected to take an officer's training course. Lieut. McNaught had no difficulty in qualifying, and in October last he was appointed to the 2nd Batt. Royal Scots, and went to the front about the beginning of December. He was on the Somme front and was killed on January 7th.

AN AMERICAN KILLED BY GERMAN PIRATES

Washington, Feb. 6.—An official report of the sinking of the steamer Eavestone, and the killing of an American seaman, reached the State Department today from Consul Frost at Queenstown. The ship was a "provisional" British collier.
Consul Frost's message said: "Provisional British collier Eavestone sunk by shell fire from German submarine in vicinity of Fastnet yesterday, Feb. 4th. One American negro, able seaman Richard Wallace, of Baltimore, killed during the shelling of a boat after having just left the Eavestone. Details not yet available."

A QUEER MIX-UP.

Some Muddle in Northumberland County Politics.

A Chatham despatch to the Standard announces that Mr. J. L. Stewart, M. P. P., who is described as "president of the Government association," has called a convention of government supporters to meet at Newcastle on Saturday to select candidates. The despatch intimates that Mr. R. A. Murdoch and Mr. F. D. Swim, M. P. P., will likely run with Mr. Stewart, but no mention is made of a fourth man.
It is evident that the government forces in Northumberland are in bad shape. Mr. Stewart was the government's most outspoken critic in the last House, and is on record as saying that "the only way to reform this government is to kick it out."
The fact that the government is now prepared to knuckle to him shows how desperate must be its position.

C.P.R. Military Medal Hero

Corporal Ralph G. Murrow, who for four years previous to the outbreak of war was in the Passenger Department, C.P.R., Liverpool, has won the Military Medal.

Corporal Murrow joined the K.L.R. the day war was declared and went to France in February, 1915. Before the war he was a well-known member of the Harrowby Football Club and it is interesting to record the fact that the act which won for him the coveted medal was performed in the rescue of a club mate, A. H. Robertson who had been seriously wounded. Corporal Murrow picked up his comrade and carried him to the first aid post.

Just as a small boy stirs up a wasp's nest "to see what will happen," a grown man sometimes stirs up a woman's jealousy "to see what she will do"—and then howls when she does it! By the time we get through boycotting potatoes they'll be asking us to eat the fly!
