SUMMER COMPLAINT

When They Could be Saved by Using

DR. FOWLER'SExtract of Wild Strawberry.There is not a summer passes without thousands of people, especially infants, being attacked by Summer Complaint.The prostration, often verging on collapse which sometimes accompanies this disease makes it one of the most serious and dangerous we have to contend with during the hot months.A remedy which will quickly offset the vomiting, purging and the profuse diarrhoea is Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry.Mrs. Thomas M. Theriault, Grand Anse, N. B., writes: "My three children were very sick with Summer Complaint during the hot days last Summer. I thought one day that they would die, and I didn't know what to do to cure them. I happened to have one of your almanacs in the house, and found by reading about Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry that it was a good remedy. I at once got two bottles, and they perfectly cured them. I recommend everybody to use this wonderful remedy."You don't experiment when you buy it. When you ask for "Dr. Fowler's" see that you get it.It has been on the market for the soup to a thicker consistency than is desirable for serving, and to add more water when a can is opened. This saves containers, which are now high priced.The vegetable portion of the soup may be canned alone, and the stock or broth added when required. Good soup mixtures, like good salads, are often made by putting together the things one happens to have on hand.A sample mixture which will make a delicious soup when meat stock is added, consists of one part onions, 3 parts celery (leaves and stalks), 4 parts okra, 4 parts dried peas, 4 parts parsley, 6 parts turnips, 6 parts lima beans, 6 parts cabbage, and 16 parts carrots. Soak the lima beans and peas over night and boil one-half hour.Blanch the other vegetables by plunging in boiling water for three minutes and then into cold water. Cut the celery and onions fine, and chop the other vegetables into cubes. Mix thoroughly and season to taste. Pack in hot sterilized glass jars and fill with boiling water. Partially seal the jars, set in a water bath and sterilize 90 minutes. Any of the vegetables may be omitted.Tomato Pulp.Place the tomatoes in a wire basket or a piece of cheesecloth and plunge into boiling water for two minutes.

Then plunge into cold water and remove the skins and stem core. Turn tomatoes into porcelain preserving kettle and boil half an hour. Press the pulp through a sieve and pack in glass jars while hot, adding a level teaspoonful of salt to each quart. Set the partially sealed jars into a water bath and sterilize 45 minutes. Can be used for tomato rabbit, tomatoes on toast and meat sauces as well as for cream soups.Chicken Gumbo.Cut two pounds of ham into small cubes and boil 30 minutes. Mince 3 pounds of chicken and half a pound of onions fine. Make a smooth paste of 1½ pounds of flour. Mix with three gallons of soup stock. Season with salt and boil for 20 minutes. Turn into hot sterilized glass jars and process in water bath for ninety minutes. Dilute with hot water for serving.Slants of Humor*THE MAN HIGHER UP."Here you!" cried the fur-coated man to the porter on the suburban station, "don't you think that truck is rather dangerous in that position?""Eh?" said the newly promoted porter. "Think it's rather dangerous, do you? Very good of you to pay attention to such things. I suppose you're going to tell me where to put it? Well just cast your eye around. What about the booking office? Wouldn't that look better on the line? And the signal box? Shall we shift it into the main street? And how about the station-master's house — shall we move it onto the upper platform? Any opinion you'd like to express shall receive attention.""Aha!" said the promoted porter to the booking clerk. "D'you see how I tied that interfering old jossler up?
Good, wasn't it?""Well, I dunno about that," said the booking clerk. "He happens to be our traffic superintendent."BALLED UP.David Wark Griffith said recently:
"A skipper was touring with a missionary in Africa. He often taunted the missionary with ignorance — ignorance of the habits of wild animals.
Of the stalking of game, of the length of an alligator's tongue, and so forth.""Look here," said the missionary one day, "you claim to be such an expert — how long is an alligator's tongue?""It depends on the length of the alligator," said the skipper."Well, suppose the alligator was twenty feet long. How long would its tongue be then?"

"Four feet," said the skipper.

"It's plain," said the missionary, thoughtfully, "that you're one of those people who can see more in five minutes than others can in a lifetime. Let me inform you, my dear friend, that an alligator has no tongue."PASSED BY THE CENSOR.A little boy went to Sunday school in the War!*"The kitchen must help as well as the workshop and the trenches"

Mr. Lloyd George has said it!

What does he mean?

He means you must know and practice real thrift—make every dollar you spend on food serve your family and your country. Banish those things which are wasteful and substitute real foods.Lovers of tea and coffee must realize that these beverages are in no sense of the word food, but merely pleasant, slightly stimulating drinks, which, by the way, are soaring in price!Thrift Suggests Serving CocoaIt is a scientific fact that a cup of Cowan's
