MESSAGE TO YOUNG MEN.

"After a long life I shall remind you that already many problems rise before you; problems of race division, problems of creed differences, problems of economic conflict, problems of national duty and national aspiration. Let me tell you that for the solution of these problems you have a safe guide, an unfailing light, if you remember that faith is better than doubt, and love is better than hate.

"Banish doubt and hate from your life. Let your souls be ever open to the strong promptings of faith and the gentle influence of brotherly love. Be adamant against the haughty; be gentle and kind to the weak. Let your aim and your purpose, in good report or in ill, in victory or in defeat, be so to live, so to strive, so to serve as to do your part to raise the standard of life to higher and better spheres."—Sir Wilfrid Laurier at London, Ont.

INDUSTRIAL EVENING CLASSES.

The announcement made in the Mail on Saturday last that the Board of School Trustees were about to open evening classes for industrial training is a matter of keen interest to the citizens. Especially in these times of unexampled stress and requirement, when the best that is in everyone is needed, is it opportune for the school authorities to enter upon the new work.

There is a right method and a wrong method to do every kind of work; there is a skilled and an unskilled way. One man or woman may spend several hours in fashioning certain work which another can accomplish by a more scientific method in one hour. Science is only another name for knowledge; and the more of it any man has the better equipped he is for his work.

Improved or scientific methods enable every worker to do more work and to do it better and to do it easier. It thus enables him to earn the means of a better livelihood with less exertion. It opens to him a much higher and broader market.

If you need a physician to attend you, you want the one who can bring the most modern and improved ideas. The same applies to your tailor, plumber, painter and to every walk of life.

The present undertaking of the School Board is to make a beginning toward carrying improved ideas and methods into the ordinary every day life of the people; to enable the people by these methods and a little scientific knowledge, to get more out of life; to do their ordinary housework easier, better and less expensively, and to enable people of moderate means to have many advantages which they would otherwise have to go without.

Other provinces have been carrying on similar work for some time past, and the benefit to the people who have taken advantage of the opportunity thus afforded is now very apparent.

Nova Scotia is a shining example. Prof. Sexton was able to point out a few days ago that as a result of technical training in evening classes in Nova Scotia all the highly paid positions in connection with the mines of that province are filled satisfactorily and efficiently by Nova Scotians.

It is the duty of the citizens, and particularly of the employers of labor, therefore, to give the Board of School Trustees every assistance possible to make this undertaking successful. This can be done to some extent by enabling and advising those to whom the courses are open to avail themselves of the opportunity to gain new and improved ideas and methods, and so increase their efficiency.

A LOCAL ELECTION.

St. John Telegraph: There is a sudden and significant stir in local political circles on the government side which has given rise to a report that a general election for the province of New Brunswick is a matter of a few weeks. This report comes from so many quarters and is so well supported in some, that it becomes necessary to warn all interested to be on guard against being taken by surprise.

The many vacancies in the Local Legislature, the elevation of Dr. T. J. Bourque to the Senate, the understanding that Mr. Richard Lawlor, of Chatham, is to be taken into the cabinet at the first opportunity, and the knowledge that the government's term will expire in June next, and that there is visible reluctance on the part of some ministers to meet the House again and face revelations which are bound to come, are all circumstances tending to strengthen opinion that an early election is contemplated. There are considerations which argue the other way, but no doubt it is a fact that the election question is just now in the balance.

However much the people of New Brunswick may object to a mid-winter election, the government has soon to go to the country anyway and if its leading spirits believe its chance of success would be better before a session than afterwards they would undoubtedly decide upon an early plunge. They are thinking of saving their political bacon, not of serving the country.

And however little politics appeals to the average man at the present time—certainly it appeals little enough to most people under prevailing circumstances—the fact remains that the local government cannot be allowed to gain another period of power through public reluctance to think about local politics long enough to select and elect a majority of public-spirited men sufficient to put matters on a decent level in the House. Now or later, whenever it chooses to go to the country, the present administration should be discarded by the country. It has earned defeat and lasting shame.

The Mail takes pleasure in welcoming the members of the Farmers' and Dairymen's Association to this city, and trusts that the meeting will be a most successful one.

The Bishop of London has offered to place the park ground of his official residence, Fulham Palace, at the disposal of the local council "for the raising of potatoes or other vegetables, or for grazing purposes."

Through Our Sieve

We all admire an honest doubter—unless he doubts out own pet belief.

"Men Will Wear Pleats." Men will do most anything that's foolish.

Every boil is worth $10—and sometimes more—to the doctor.

You can't fool all the people all the time—some of them as so busy fooling themselves.

One touch of nature makes the whole world kin—and relations fight like the deuce.

Silence is golden—but if you hold aces, make an intelligent noise back of them.

If this was a moving picture studio town we would think that fellow who yelled fire outside the church was only trying to get a good film.

Yes, Mr. Simp, you are supposed to forget that early order that no other music except by the pipes was to be tolerated by the kilties' battalion.

At any rate we must congratulate the kilties on causing two brass bands to blow where only one brass band blew before.

This is a sordid, commercial, careful, unromantic age—but almshouses are full of the children of people who married on nothing but love.

An officer of that unit is to be here today in connection with recruiting.

Sergt. Major H. T. Brewer, deputy recruiting officer was at McAdam on Monday. It is expected several recruits will be obtained there.

SHEEP INDUSTRY DISCUSSED AT MORNING SESSION

This morning's session of the Farmers' and Dairymen's Association was devoted to the Sheep Industry. G. E. O'Brien, of the Dominion Department of Agriculture, delivered an address on "The Sheep Industry in New Brunswick." Discussion led by M. A. McLeod, of Sussex, and C. N. Shaw, of Hartland, followed. The general theme was the dog nuisance and the difficulty of providing fencing which would protect the flocks. Various suggestions were made concerning the taxation and destruction of dogs.

William Thompson, of the Dominion Agricultural Department, took part in the discussion.

A committee composed of M. A. McLeod, C. N. Shaw and Prof. J. W. Mitchell was appointed to draw up resolutions relative to the dog nuisance.

Mr. E. J. Heath, the well known hygienic baker, of St. John, is here with the 236th Band.

Mr. R. B. Clarke, of St. John, arrived here yesterday with the 236th Battalion Band, and is renewing old acquaintances about the city.
