

NEW COPPER KING MAY SOON PASS ROCKEFELLER IN RICHES

Butte, Mont., Jan. 23.—Is W. A. Clark mine king and former senator, from Montana, overhauling John D. as the richest man in America?

That's the word out here where they show the pedigrees and possessions of rich men like a "mud smeller" knows geology.

War prices on metals have enormously increased Clark's already fabulous income.

And the difference between Clark and Rockefeller and other American money monarchs is that the former's vast holdings are practically all in his own name and that of his family.

His intimates here say he could raise $100,000,000 in cash in 24 hours out of his own storehouse of wealth, and that he is probably the only man in the United States who can.

Millions in Loose Change.

United Verde, the Arizona copper mine, for which Clark recently refused $76,000,000, is alone paying him a monthly dividend of $2,000,000.

His Butte properties, though comparatively small, also yield him enormous sums.

Aside from the $50,000,000 loan he made France, the adopted land of his children, Clark has $20,000,000 loose change he doesn't know what to do with.

A French syndicate recently wanted to purchase United Verde. "The Old Man," as they call him here, said:

"Well, I don't want to sell Verde, but I suppose everything has its price. Tell you what I'll do. You survey the property and pay me 10 cents a pound for all the ore actually in sight."

When at 10 cents per pound the actual ore bulked to the staggering figure of $600,000,000, the syndicate engineers threw up their hands. And copper is today selling around 35 cents per pound.

Clark has a $15,000,000 home on Fifth avenue, a $10,000,000 chateau in Paris, where his children live, another palace in Los Angeles, and the old home here in Butte.

Built His Own Foundry.

In New York the brass trust wanted to hold him up on the $1,000,000 worth of fixtures for his Fifth Avenue home, so Clark started a foundry of his own, just for that purpose.

Starting as a bull team driver, a vendor of spices and baking powders here in the early days, he got in on the first whack at the "billion dollar hill" at Butte.

Today, at 76, he has mines in Montana, Arizona, California, Michigan, he owns the Salt Lake line from Butte to Los Angeles, has oil properties in Wyoming—in fact owns tremendous properties in nearly every state.

Basket of Reports.

Every night he knows just what has happened during the day on all his holdings. He gets reports from them all—a bushel basket of telegrams every evening at the New York offices.

His political fights in Montana—and they have been on the theory that "might makes right"—have cost this super-rich man millions.

It is from these political battles that Clark says he has learned the philosophy to which he today ascribes his remarkable energy and unflinching business acumen.

"I have learned never to worry," he asserts, "to conserve my energies. The result is that I sleep like a child when my head touches the pillow, and I wake up fresh for any task."

Suffered From Severe Headaches FOR TWO YEARS

Headaches are many and varying; but when the head starts to ache you may be sure there is some chief cause. The stomach may go wrong, the bowels become constipated, the blood may not circulate properly, but the presence of the headache clearly shows that unless the cause is removed some other baneful disease is liable to assert itself.

Burdock Blood Bitters has, for the past forty years, been curing all kinds of headaches and has proved itself to be a remedy that cures where others fail.

Mr. I. N. Petersen, Dnieper, Man., writes: "I am only too glad to be able to state that I derived wonderful benefit from Burdock Blood Bitters. I suffered from severe headaches for two years. I was treated by several doctors, but received no benefit until by chance I heard of B.B.B., and I at once procured two bottles and in a short time I was completely cured. I am, and always will be, grateful for what Burdock Blood Bitters has done for me. I am glad to recommend it to all who suffer from headaches."

B.B.B. is the oldest and best known blood medicine on the market today, having been manufactured for the past forty years by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

The more explaining a man has to do, the less people believe in him.

HEAD AND NOSTRILS STUFFED FROM COLD

Don't stay stuffed-up! Quit blowing and sneezing! A dose of "Pape's Cold Compound" taken every two hours until three doses are taken will end gripe misery and break up a severe cold either in the head, chest, body or limbs.

It promptly opens clogged-up nostrils and air passages; stops nasty discharge or nose running; relieves sick headache, dizziness, feverishness, sore throat, sneezing, soreness and stiffness.

"Pape's Cold Compound" is the quickest, surest relief known and costs only 25 cents at drug stores.

BILLY SUNDAY WARMLY PRAISES THE NEWSPAPERS

(Boston Transcript, Jan. 9.)

Snatching a few hours rest after their return from Dartmouth College, from which they got back this morning, Mr. and Mrs. Billy Sunday, accompanied by "Rody," just absolved by the Dedham court, and George Brewster, were the guests of the Boston Press Club this noon. A good-sized audience of local newspaper men heard the evangelist and "Mother" in comparatively brief talks, and listened to the trombone playing and the singing of "Rody." Among the auditors were some twenty members of the New England Newspaper Alliance.

When "Brighten the Corner" had been given by the newspaper men to "Rody's" satisfaction, Sunday launched into his talk and gave it with his usual expedition.

"No man is more indebted to the newspaper than I am," declared the evangelist, "and nobody is more grateful for their support. I know lots of newspaper men—they are my friends—I like them—they have never betrayed my confidence—they camp on my trail—tell what clothes I wear, what I eat—and almost sleep with me. And to tell the truth, they are really propagating the gospel for me."

"Sometimes the editors don't agree with me—but that's their privilege. On the whole, it would be more to the point to say that the newspapers in cities where I go, conduct a campaign, aided by Billy Sunday, than to say that I conduct it. I look on the honorable newspaper editor as only one lap behind the missionary. The papers are really the ones that pitch into the saloons and crime when I get them started."

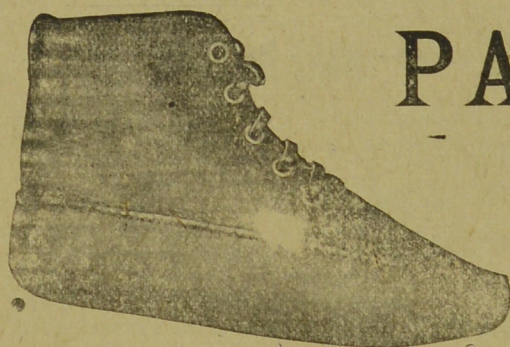

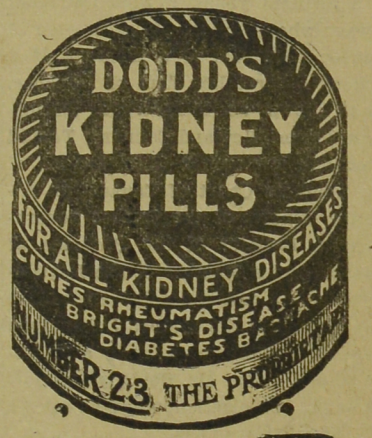

"Another thing—the newspapers are getting less and less willing to take misleading or 'fake' advertisements. Moreover, the man who is placing big advertising is getting choice of his company. He doesn't want to mix any more with fakes. The newspaper is developing more and more a social conscience. It is learning that it must swat the crook as well as the fly."

"Again, newspapers are doing much to lessen illiteracy, to dispel ignorance. Emerson said 'What I must do is what concerns me—not what other people think.' So the newspaper—the good one—builds up its ideals, and it is irresistible when it takes its stand for the right. It can clean up any community in America; it can force good laws to be enacted and obeyed; and no evil forces can long withstand its efforts if they are properly directed."

ed. "The newspaper has shown itself the friend of liberty—it has pointed out the difference between honest, law-honest and dishonest. In short, it is as easy to dam Niagara Falls with tooth-picks as to stop the good influence of a good sheet. It has got some pulpits skinned a block—as well as some theologians, who are no more than bipeds with appendages to their names."

"If every newspaper were suppressed tomorrow crime would increase 100 per cent. in 48 hours, and hell would soon break loose. The situation would be so bad that heaven would petition for the re-establishment of the press."

"What an even greater power for good the newspapers might be if they chose. Where I preach to thousands, the papers could reach millions. The three Christian handmaidens are the schoolhouse, the newspaper and the church."
