HE WAS AN IMPRESSIONABLE INDIVIDUAL

Experience Showed Him That Many Lessons Could Be Learned from the Automobile.

(Chicago News.)

"Why are you going to the doctor's if there is nothing the matter with you, as you admit?" asked Mrs. Pinwood as Mr. Pinwood reached for his coat and hat.

"Because there is nothing the matter with me," was the seemingly paradoxical reply of Pinwood. "I'm going now, so that there won't be anything the matter with me in the future. An ounce of prevention is worth a quart of cure."

"This is one of the lessons to be learned from the humble automobile. Recent experience has taught me that man is a complicated mechanism—a kind of combination phonograph and motor car. Like the latter, he is made of many parts, any one of which is likely to become worn, broken or simply in need of adjustment."

"You know I spent a small fortune on my Jimrax this season. And the reason was that I had thought the thing everlastingly perfect. I believed the salesman implicitly, you know. You will remember how I boasted that I had the old carryall two years and in that time had never once looked under the hood. In fact, I was proud of my ignorance of everything contained in the car except the steering wheel."

"The result was that the thing suddenly went all to pieces, like a man trying to frame an alibi in a hurry."

"Three garage physicians and four trained motor nurses have been trying to bring it to ever since."

"I don't want to imitate my Jimrax if I can help it, so I am going over to my old friend, Dr. Reostat, and have him give me a general overhauling."

"A one minute session with the doc's stethoscope will tell whether my heart is hitting on all cylinders. Then he's got another attachment that will

GREAT WEEK ON AMERICAN TRACKS

Boston, Aug. 13. — With the Grand Circuit horses at North Randall and the flower of the Eastern half-mile track performers at Goshen, this should be one of the turf's banner weeks. The big line steeds cut loose a bit last week, giving Columbus the best racing of the chain to date, so the outlook for Cleveland, with a better entry, is very bright.

The Goshen meeting is in a class by itself. It is the outstanding half-mile track meeting of the year and, in many respects, suffers nothing in comparison with the best that the mile rings offer. Goshen makes racing a sport absolutely, and with no side attractions, not even hand booking, is able to give $2,000 purses through its entire card and show a handsome profit.

The feature in Orange county is the 2.16 trot on Wednesday, in which the Massachusetts stallion Binworth again meets the unbeaten New Jersey gelding Legal W. Crozier's pupil had a mite the tough end of the racing luck at Monroe and some capable turfmen look for him to win this week.

The color of truth depends a good deal upon the eyes looking.

show whether my gasoline pressure—I mean blood pressure—is right for proper combustion.

"There is another thing that will help me to feel well. Doc Reostat is a born optimist. He has a pleasant way of telling how he has just pulled forty-seven patients back to earth after they had all arrangements made for a trip across the River Styx. It's great stuff to listen to and I will leave his office a new and happier man."

"You're an impressionable individual," said Mrs. Pinwood, "but maybe you're right."

COAL CARS MUST BE PROMPTLY UNLOADED

Ottawa, Aug. 14.—"Any person who fails to unload a coal car promptly is in my judgment an enemy of this country," was the strong statement made last night by Mr. C. A. Magrath, fuel controller. The United States, he pointed out, is demanding prompt return of cars and if there is delay it may seriously interfere with the securing of the necessary supply from across the line. Delay means coal shortage for munition plants. The matter of delay in unloading has been so serious that Mr. Magrath has taken up the matter with Sir Henry Drayton, chairman of the railway commission. Sir Henry at once showed his willingness to co-operate and a drastic order has been passed by the board to compel rapid unloading and return of cars.

SAMMY DOESN'T SOUND GOOD

American Training Camp in France, Aug. 14. — Not until the recent arrival in camp of certain American newspaper men did the soldiers of the United States expeditionary forces become aware that efforts were being made in certain quarters to fix upon the name of "Sammy." That name never is heard on this side. Within the past few days the correspondent of the Associated Press has been approached by great numbers of the officers and men asking that something be sent home telling the people how the army really resented what they consider to be an inapt, undignified and irritating name.

Controller Hanna is considering the suggestion of limiting the serving of beef and bacon in hotels and restaurants to Tuesdays and Fridays, and to serving of bacon on other days to breakfast time only.

Where There's a Will There's a Way!

The determination with which children demand Maple Buds is their best advertisement. Possibly it is because they are delicious and wholesome and may be indulged in plentifully without ill effect, or because the perfect cocoa beans, creamy milk and selected sugar, impart a flavour so appetizing that the mere thought of them stimulates the demand.

FEARS A SHORTAGE.

Sir William Hearst, Premier of Ontario, fears that shortage of food supplies will hinder the Allies in winning the war.

"We must look calmly and fearlessly at the present situation: Unless there is greater thrift, economy and conservation of food, there will be a shortage of supplies to Great Britain and her Allies that will hinder her chances of winning the war," said Premier Hearst.

Women have a peculiar knack of picking up goods that will wash, but they usually get children that won't.

AROUND THE WORLD

To have gained first place as the largest selling gum in the world means much. It means that WRIGLEY'S is liked above all others.

That its quality, lasting flavour and its package are the kind most appreciated.

Back of all this—the enormous sales of WRIGLEY'S show that people have learned its benefits: refreshment—aid to appetite and digestion—soothing, antiseptic influence to mouth and throat and the advantages of sweet, clean breath.

The soldiers and sailors are calling for it daily.

Slants of Humor

CARELESS WITH THE TRUTH.

Seagirt would not lie, but he is very careless with the truth. He said that the horse he hired to go to Glenfellen last summer was so slow that a spider wove its web in the wheel. Children came and made mud pies in the shade of the buggy. At one point he had an exciting race with a caterpillar. A woman came out and asked him to please drive a little faster as he was keeping the sun off her tomatoes. He said the horse was slower than a barber he knows, who is so slow that the whiskers grow faster than he can shave, and by the time he is through the customer has a full beard.

HOW HE WON.

Jock MacTavish and two English friends went out on the loch on a fishing trip. It was agreed that the first man to catch a fish should stand treat at the inn. As MacTavish was known to be the best fisherman thereabouts, his friends took considerable delight in assuring him that he had as good as lost already.

"An' d'ye ken," said Jock, in speaking of it afterward, "baith o' them had a guid bite, an' wis sae mean they wadna pu' in."

"Then you lost?" he was asked.

"Oh, no. I didna pit ony bait on my hook."

NOT WANTED.

A traveller at a small hotel in a New England coast town complained to the clerk of the inn concerning the food, beds, rooms, etc. When he had finished the proprietor of the place drawled.

"Yong man, did anyone ask you to come here?"

"No, I don't know that they did."

"Wel, did anyone ask you to stay here after you came?"

"No, I don't know that they did."

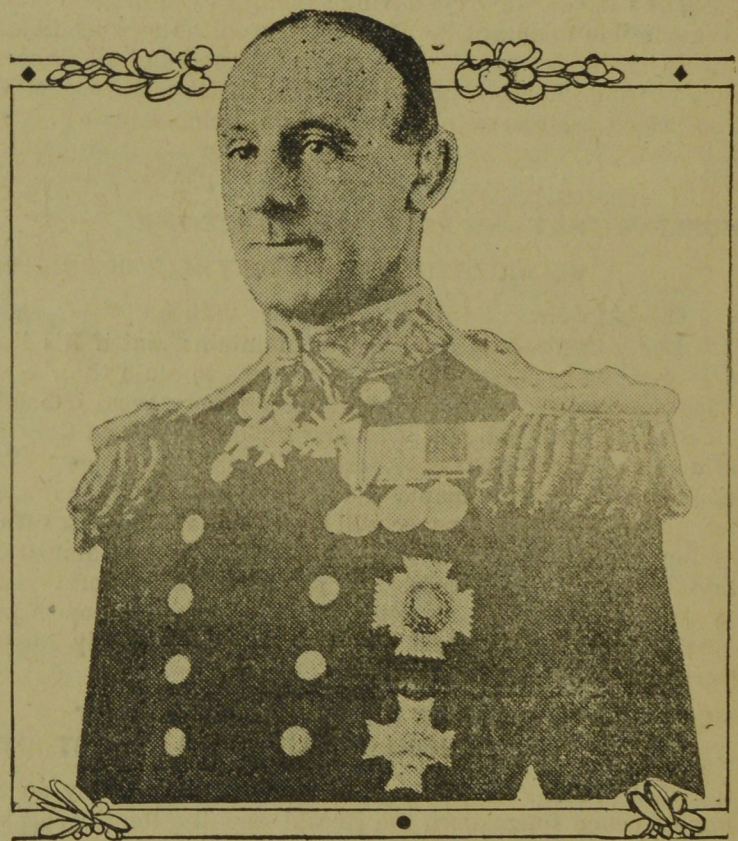

"Wal, the ywon't!"

HIGH COST OF WASHING.

The principal of a boarding school in Wisconsin says that for some time the following bill has been handed in by a washerwoman doing work for that institution: "To washing five teachers, $6."

LIVES LOST IN WESTERN FIRE

Baker, Ore., Aug. 14. — Fire late last night destroyed the business section of Sumpter, a mining town near here, causing a loss estimated at about $600,000 and rendering several hundred persons homeless. Two persons were burned to death. Tents and food were sent from here today.
